Support Meighen
By Voting Peck.

Anyone who professes to be a Liberal and who just now votes for the independent candidate puts himself in a similar position to the man who gives comfort to the enemy when his country is at war. He says he believes in the principles for which he is fighting, but he slips behind the lines and lends aid to those on the other side.

There are but two groups in the present contest. There is the group of reaction and the group of progress. Colonel Peck has allied himself with the reactionary group in Parliament. We are asked to judge him on his record, and that is what we are doing. If he came to us and said "You are mistaken. I am not a brave soldier. I fought well when I was in France, but I have changed and I am now quite the opposite to what you thought," we should be amused. We should suggest that the Colonel was pulling a little joke. So when he tells us that while he was a Tory up to the time of the election call but he is not that now, we think it is a little of his humor. It is impossible to take him seriously.

This is Day of Consolidating.

These are the times when business is being consolidated, when big organizations are being formed and when the small man has little chance in competition with his stronger competitor. In the United States they are uniting the larger independent steel works so as to be in a position to compete with the United States Steel Corporation, the successor of the Carnegie and other interests. The conduct of these big concerns gives good training in the management of big business and should the time come when the country will take over the businesses, it will be when most of them are already in the hands of a few people and the change will be comparatively easy.

The hope of democratic government is from the training that will come through the management of big industrial corporations.

While we here in Canada often dislike the big trusts, yet for economy and efficiency they cannot be beaten, and eventually they will develop until they control everything. At such a time when big companies are being formed it is the wise thing to see that there is in power a group that will have at heart the interests of the common people rather than one that is controlled by them. To talk of breaking them up is not only futile but dangerous. Amalgamation and consolidation is the tendency of the day, and the only thing to do is to make these big concerns serve the nation rather than serve individuals.

Day When Men Are Asserting Themselves.

While these are the days of big organizations, they are also the days of individual assertiveness. We are developing big trusts and big business machines, but at the same time there is more individuality in the world today than ever there was. Men are thinking for themselves. Perhaps it would be nearer true to say that men are trying to think for themselves. They are still influenced by petty things. There are still a few people who allow military glamor to influence their votes when it comes to choosing a legislator. That is a slight reversion. The mass of the people are trying to get to the bottom of things, but they are often led away and thus allow themselves to be used by scheming politicians. However, today they are learning to see things in their proper light much clearer than ever they did before. They are using their reason, and the result will be a more intelligent choice than has ever been made before.

Those who mix with the working people of this city are surprised at the great interest there is taken in the present election. Both men and women have the matter reasoned out. They are piercing the smoke screens and are getting to the real inwardness of the situation. They like to see both sides of the question, and they know that when only one side is shown it is because the people who do that dare not let the people see the other side. People today are not all children. They are reasoning individuals, and they argue that when one side is kept covered it is because the people who keep it covered are afraid to have it known.

To be more specific, the newspaper that refuses to publish anything except such news and views as are favorable to its own cause is not only damaging itself but damaging the cause which it aims to forward. There was a day when the people did not know any better and when such methods could be tolerated. Today such action as that is resented. The people want to know about things, and directly they realize that anything is being hidden they know it covers a weak cause.

THE TORTURE OF INDIGESTION

Thousands Made Miserable
By This Trouble

"FRUIT-A-TIVES" Relieves It

What is indigestion and what causes it? As you know, solid food must be changed into a liquid by the stomach before it can be taken up as nourishment by the blood.

The stomach acts as a churn. It is covered by a strong, muscular coat and lined with a soft, delicate membrane which secretes the Gastric Juice which digests or dissolves solid food.

When food enters the stomach, the muscular coat squeezes and presses the food from end to end, or churns it, with the gastric juice to dissolve or digest it.

But—if the stomach muscles are weak—or if the dissolving fluid is poor or insufficient—then food cannot be digested properly and you have indigestion.

"FRUIT-A-TIVES" is the most wonderful medicine in the world for strengthening the stomach muscles and providing an abundance of pure, full-strength dissolving fluid to completely digest every meal. "FRUIT-A-TIVES" does this because it keeps the kidneys active, the bowels regular and the blood pure, which insures pure Gastric Juice.

"FRUIT-A-TIVES" will correct your indigestion or dyspepsia and enable you to enjoy every meal. Try it.

THRILLS PROMISED IN GEORGE WALSH PLAY

"Dynamite Allen," starring the well-known and popular George Walsh in his latest production, will be shown at the Westholme Theatre tonight. Plenty of thrills are promised.

The story, written especially for George Walsh by Thomas F. Fallon, deals with life in the mining regions of Pennsylvania. It is a very dramatic tale, in which the hero struggles against overwhelming odds to prove the innocence of his father, falsely imprisoned for murder. He is compelled to go through a series of experiences of the most thrilling nature. His home is burned by his enemies. He is imprisoned at the bottom of a mine, which is slowly flooded. He drives a locomotive at terrific speed to an open bridge and plunges with it to the river below.

In the supporting cast are Edna Murphy and Dorothy Allen—both pleasantly remembered for their excellent work in the big Fox special "Over the Hill"—Byron Douglas and J. Thornton Baston.

"Dynamite Allen" was directed by Dell Henderson, one of the leading megaphone wielders.

The barque "Carrondelet" is aground on Holland Rock and may become a total loss. Captain Freeze and his crew of six men were taken off by the tug Printer last night. The vessel is said to be badly holed and her cargo of coal may be lost.

Property holders of Sections 5, 6, 7 and 8 met in the Presbyterian Church Hall last night and decided to organize. The following officers were elected: President, W. J. Alder; secretary, J. H. Pillsbury; treasurer, Lee Baker; executive, H. F. McRae; H. Rogers, R. A. White, J. Lorne MacLaren and W. T. Robinson. H. E. Gampp presided at last night's meeting.

The tug William Jolliffe has gone to Kyuquot Sound to rescue the Tees which is on the rocks there.

SPECIALIST
CURES COLDS

Lectures to London People and Urges Sweating the Body as Most Effective.

LONDON, Dec. 2.—Most people know many ways in which one may catch a cold—draughts, sudden changes of atmosphere, wet feet, association with people already infected with cold germs, and so on. Dr. Halls-Daily, a Harley Street specialist, startled an audience in the Institution of Hygiene with the information that many people carry a cold in their pocket—the handkerchief pocket. Germs snuggle down in the corners of that pocket, leap out on their host at moments when his normal vitality is lowered, and provide him with another cold without his knowing quite how it happened.

Isolation Desirable.

Dr. Halls-Daily put it as a duty to the community that all persons with a cold should isolate themselves, and for their own good be swift to induce perspiration. Asked pointblank if a doctor really could cure a cold, he declared his belief in the affirmative—if only the doctor were consulted in time. He is convinced that the old saw about three days to come, three days to stay and three days to go is out of date.

A cold in its early stages can in variably be cured, he said, with an antiseptic spray of fine vapor provided that it is non-irritant. The trouble is that many atomized prescriptions do not comply with this last condition.

Homely Medicinal Drinks.

It is good to learn from Harley Street that old-fashioned medicinal drinks for incipient colds are still commended. Dr. Halls-Daily cited as excellent perspiration producers hot black currant jam tea, hot lemon water with cloves in it, and the drink that is most favored as a perspiration producer in France—mulled Burgundy. Anything that will produce a glow is helpful for dealing with a common cold. An even temperature is also advisable; if the chill is severe the order must be to bed with blankets.

One learns from Grant Ramsay, the president of the Institute of Hygiene, that some of the old-fashioned prescriptions are being forgotten. Possit, with a foundation of beer and milk or treacle and milk (as in Yorkshire), used once to be the English curative drink, and it is almost unknown now. The Scots still stand by gruel with a fair amount of whisky added. In France there used to be a resort to lait de poule, a sort of egg flip made with egg and brandy, "very excellent, very pleasant, and very delicate."

Prevention Best.

Mr. Ramsay says these remedies have pleasant sounds, but Dr. Halls-Daily and all Harley Street with him are more concerned with the need for preventing colds than the methods of curing them. Last week's conference was part of a plan to spread knowledge about the risks both to the individual and to the community of treating the common cold lightly. "It is a disease of which sneezing is a symptom, but is too serious a disease to be sneezed at," someone said. And if you find yourself in the neighborhood of a sneeze, it is good, one learned, to seek safety in getting clear of it by at least three feet.

GOOD CONDITION
INTERIOR STOCK

Dr. Frank, Dominion Government Inspector, Spent Two Months in Central Interior.

Dr. J. N. Frank, of Vancouver, veterinary surgeon and Dominion government inspector of livestock, returned south last night after having spent two months in the central interior in the course of his departmental duties. Dr. Frank visited the Skeena, Bulkley, Nechako and Upper Fraser valleys and the Francois, Gotsa, Burns and Fraser Lake districts and reports very favorably on the condition of all classes of livestock. He inspected swine and sheep as well as cattle. There are roughly three or four thousand head of cattle in the district and they are all healthy and in good condition.

Dr. Frank makes his headquarters in Vancouver. He was in Prince Rupert for a couple of days.
