FISHERMAN IS FOUND GUILTY

Long Drawn Out Mork Case Heard Before Judge Young Yesterday.

Nels H. Mork, charged with misappropriation of funds from a fish sale of the fishing boat Rambler, appeared before Judge Young yesterday afternoon for trial and was found guilty. He was remanded for sentence until tomorrow afternoon.

Four witnesses, J. C. Martinson, Sergeant McGlinchy, Sergeant Bailey and American Consul A. E. Wakefield, gave evidence. Martinson, a fisherman from the Rambler, testified that the accused had received $440.50 as the proceeds of a fish sale and had paid $90 to him, the rest not being accounted for. The officers testified as to making the arrest and Mr. Wakefield told of a conversation he had had with the accused in which he stated he had spent the balance of the money.

B. O. Oughton, of Fisher & Oughton, acted for the crown and W. H. Johnson had the case for the accused.

VICTORIA POLICE COMMISSION WILL SUE CITY COUNCIL

VICTORIA, July 27.—Over the head of Mayor Porter, who requested that his vote be recorded in opposition, Police Commissioners Dr. Hall and Joseph North decided at a meeting of the Board of Police Commissioners held last night to take legal action to force the City Council to make provision for the increase of $15 per month in the salaries paid to members of the police department.

The Board had before it the communication recently received by the City Council from the Provincial Secretary, Hon. J. D. MacLean, outlining the decision of the Government to take no action upon the recent appeal which the Council made to the Government to disallow the action of the Board, an appeal which the Government refused to entertain, and, instead, sent the matter back to the Council and Board to fight it out between themselves.

THE KID HERE AT WESTHOLME

One of Charlie Chaplin's Million Dollar Pictures Seen for First Time.

Charlie Chaplin's first venture into the field of feature comedies, "The Kid," will open at the Westholme tonight. Because the story has a strong vein of pathos throughout, the unusual comedy talent which has made Chaplin the most funny man the world stands out stronger and more joyous than in any previous production in which he has appeared.

"The Kid" is a realization of an ambition which the comedian has held for years. He conceived the story when he was first starting on his screen career, but could think of it only as something he would like. Then he made his contract with the Associated First National Pictures, Inc., under the policy of that distributing organization of permitting uncontrolled production on the part of stars and producers.

Chaplin whipped his idyll into shape and started work upon the production of the story. It took him a year to complete. There are but five characters of importance in it and are characterized as The Man, The Woman, The Kid, The Tramp and The Policeman. The comedian himself plays the part of The Tramp, while a real find as a juvenile actor, Jackie Coogan, has the title role, and Edna Purviance plays the part of The Woman.

Baby Story.

The Woman abandons her baby by leaving it in a limousine car. Thieves steal the car and toss the baby into an ash pile, where it is found wailing by The Tramp. The Tramp raises it through babyhood and into early childhood. The Woman has made a success on the operatic stage and devotes her life and fortune to aiding children of the slums. Thus she comes to know both The Tramp and The Kid without suspecting the latter's identity.

When it is discovered that Charlie is not The Kid's father the authorities seek to separate them, but The Tramp has spent his life evading authority, and does it again. The Woman discovers that The Kid is her abandoned baby, and the picture draws to a happy close.

CAMPING PARTY SPENT WEEK AT KHTADA LAKE RETURNED YESTERDAY

Declaring it to have been one of the best hodidays they ever had, John McRae, W. H. Melliar and H. T. Willett returned yesterday after spending a week camping at the second of the Khtada lakes on a sandy beach at the mouth of a creek. They went up in the Lois M. and on their arrival it was raining cats and dogs they thought, but later they found it must have been raining big fish for there were any number in the lake, fish that it took a long time to land with small tackle.

Mr. Melliar took some snapshots of the wonderful mountain scenery, and as the weather was good most of the time there was nothing to interfere with their enjoyment. Surplus fish were kept in ice at the foot of a slide not many feet from the edge of the water.
