LAUNCH EPAULINE SAILED FOR SOUTH

Boat Belonging to Timber Man Completed Extensive Repairs in Local Dry Dock.

The fine pleasure launch Epauline, belonging to Frank L. Buckley, the Massett Inlet lumber man, sailed for Vancouver on Saturday night piloted by Captain E. McCoskie. The vessel has just undergone extensive repairs in the local dry dock following her accident in Milbank Sound several weeks ago. The boat will travel by day only, lying up at nights.

Miss Sewell and Miss Rivett, of the local teaching staff, went south on the Epauline, taking the opportunity of making such a pleasant passage down the coast. They will spend the summer holidays in the south.

STEWART

Roy Clothier, is working a small gang of men on the Red Cliff mine on which activities have again commenced after a shutdown of several years.

Miss Edith Crawford, who is attending Columbia College at New Westminster, arrived here last week to spend the summer holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Crawford.

Work on the Premier mine and tram line is again going on in full swing. About 200 men are employed by the company between the mine and the tram construction.

The bars here have stopped selling beer in compliance with the rulings of the Moderation Act. The government agent has, however, not yet received any liquor permits to sell to local citizens.

Advertising is often expensive, but it is nothing like as expensive as an empty store and idle clerks.

TO OPEN SUMMER CAMP AT LAKESE

Mrs. James Galt, wife of James Galt of the Dominion Hacheries at Lakese Lake, accompanied by the latter's brother, N. Galt, are visitors to the city and are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Cyril B. Orme. They are in Prince Rupert on business with a view to making arrangements for the opening of a summer camp on the lake, for visitors. It is expected that a large number of people from Prince Rupert will visit this summer resort this season, and at present the accommodation is of the most meagre sort. The new hotel will not be ready for visitors this year.

The Man in the Moon SAYS—

To beer or not to beer
That is the question.

COLLECTION of back dues from the members of the G.W.V.A. is reported to have been very good during the last few days.

DO you remember in the old recruiting days they said the slackers would be sorry in years to come? They are now, aren't they?

THE Greeks and Turks are playing martial music in A. Minor.

SPORTING EDITORS are beginning to worry how they're going to fill space after July 2.

DEMPSEY and Carpenter wouldn't make much money if they had to pay space rates for the advertising they have been getting in the past few weeks.

ONE way Carpenter would be sure of beating Dempsey would be by bringing a French airplane over the arena at Jersey City and dropping bombs on his head.

AFTER an extended visit with friends at Leavenworth, Jack Johnson will resume his old-time business next month.

IN a certain church cough drops are now being furnished free of charge to the worshippers. The only means of diversion left is by dropping the hymn book on the floor.
