DAILY TRAIN IS DISCUSSED WITH OFFICIAL

Reasons Advanced Why It Would Be Advantage to Railway to Run Frequent Service.

The need of a daily train service was discussed with the Canadian National officials when they were here this week. It was pointed out to them that there would be much more fish shipped this way than at present if there was a fish train taken out every day. While they were here three car loads of fish were ready for shipment. There were customers to take them but a train could not be made up with only three cars. The result was the fish customers had to get their supply from Vancouver and Seattle and the local fish were put in cold storage. It was not in any way the fault of local officials or of anybody. The fish would have been sold, however, if there had been a daily passenger train running.

Given a daily train an auction would be held every day except Sunday and there would be a regular stream of fish brought to this port. At present only three days a week are fish sold here and the results is often that cargoes go elsewhere.

For and Against.
Other reasons for running a train every day over and above the passenger accommodation, would be that milk could be marketed in the city daily, that fruit could be shipped to customers up the line and berries marketed regularly. The objection to the daily service is that only three times a week do the boats meet the trains and on those occasions only could a through service be given. It is claimed that a daily train would be a loss to the railway.

COMPETITION NOT YET GOING STRONG

Five Dollar Prize Yet Open for Those Who Write Verses.

The weather was not very good for starting to write verses about an outing. People have not yet got into the swing of it. Who can think about an outing when it is raining?

Contributors to the competition are reminded that they may write any kind of verse up to ten lines and there will be prizes of $5, $3 and $2 given for first, second and third prizes respectively. Anyone may send as many verses as they wish and they do not need to be subscribers to the Daily News to take part. Five dollars for ten lines is fifty cents a line. If the price is not high enough we will make it higher. Here is what one contributor writes:

We laid our plans
For Wednesday
The rain it bans
So what d'you say—
To another date
For which we'll wait
Across the Bay.

TENDERS PAINTING AND SHINGLING OF HOSPITAL REOPENED

Board to Await Return of Col. McMorde Before Taking Definite Action.

The matter of opening tenders for the painting and shingling of the hospital was laid over by the board as its meeting last night until the return of Col. S. P. McMorde, chairman of the building committee. The specifications were read and there seemed to be some confusion in them as to the painting of the building. It was not definitely stated whether the whole building was to be painted at one time or whether the specifications called only for the painting of the new work. It was felt by the board that in the interests of economy it would be better for the whole job to be done in one operation. The matter of putting paper between the present rustic and the new shingling was also discussed.

The Man in the Moon SAYS—

MIXED metaphor is still common. Here is an example but it was written some years ago: "More and more the shiny serpent of Socialism is insinuating its way into municipal affairs. With increasing frequency one finds its footprints. Closer and closer sounds the rumble of its devastating chariot wheels. Already it may be too late to nip it in the bud."

THE man without backbone marries a woman with all jawbone just to make up the general deficiency.

AND then there's the man who does nothing but talk, especially in other people's time and who never gets anywhere.

HE likes to gab and blab and blow.
He's always braying—
He talks so fast he doesn't know.
What he is saying.

SOME people are discussing which is the cheaper to marry a disk washer or to buy an electrical affair.

NEVER despise the common everyday restaurant eggs. You may be ancient yourself some day.

HERE is another mixed metaphor quoted by the Winnipeg Free Press: "The cloud that tried to stab their happiness was only a false rumor whose bitter taste could not splinter the radiance nor dim the effervescence of their joy."

"THE man who constantly deceives his wife is a scoundrel," declared the police magistrate, "I should call him a wonder," piped little Henpecked in the back of the court.
