RETURNED MEN HONOR HOWARD STUTCHBURY

Alberta Trade Commissioner Given Illuminated Address At Edmonton.

The Great War Veterans of Edmonton gathered at a meeting in that city last Sunday to reveal their profound gratitude to Howard Stutchbury, the Alberta trade commissioner, who is now well known in Prince Rupert, having paid several visits here in connection with the establishment of coal bunkers for the government. Mr. Stutchbury has been untiring in his efforts for the soldiers during the days of the war and the period of re-establishment and has thus won their keen gratitude.

Through the president of the Edmonton association representing the entire province, Mr. Stutchbury was presented with an illuminated address, in which thanks from the soldiers throughout Alberta were offered to the genial past-secretary of Returned Soldiers' Commission. It was recalled that perhaps no other man in this province had accomplished so much for returned men as Mr. Stutchbury. During 365 days of each year, and for several years Mr. Stutchbury labored continually toward the great ideal that nothing returned soldier when he came back.

Former Domestic Science Instructor Busy for Dominion Government.

Miss Olive Hayes, former domestic science instructor in the local public schools, but now doing work of an expert nature for the Dominion Government, reached Edmonton this week from Ottawa making arrangements for an exhibit which is to be shown at the exhibition in that city in connection with the milk campaign which she is organizing throughout the west. It is Miss Hayes' hope to increase the consumption of milk throughout Canada and substitute it for tea and coffee. The exhibits will also be shown at Calgary, Toronto and Ottawa.

Many people read newspapers at night for their advertising columns as they do in the day.

PUPILS HONOR THEIR TEACHER

Miss McLenaghan was "raison d'etre" of Happy Proceeding at High School.

Studies at the High School came to an end for the year yesterday afternoon and next week is set aside for University examinations and other annual tests.
 Certificates were awarded to students of the first and second years whose work throughout the year had reached a certain standard of excellence. Those students who failed to reach this standard will sit for their final examination next week and, if successful, will receive their certificates at the end of the examinations. Lists of successful students at first and second year work will be published at an early date.
 An hour before closing yesterday, all the pupils assembled in the Junior room to bid farewell to Miss M. McLenaghan, who is resigning her position on the staff. Miss McLenaghan has been in the High School for the past six years and has proved herself a successful, accomplished and popular teacher.

Eulogizes Teacher.
 Principal Brady, in making a presentation to Miss McLenaghan of sterling table silver on behalf of the teachers and students of the High School, spoke in eloquent terms of the work done by Miss McLenaghan during her years of service. She had won and held the respect of all her pupils by her lady-like qualities and her success as a teacher of French had become known to all. Her departure would be keenly regretted at the same time, all rejoiced that she was entering a broader and happier sphere of life, to which she would be all the more fitted by her experience during years spent in the classroom.

Master Cedric Duncan, as president of the Literary Club, then made the presentation in a few well chosen words.
 Miss B. Macdonald, of the teaching staff, briefly spoke of Miss McLenaghan's qualities as a teacher and friend.
Expresses Thanks.
 Miss McLenaghan, in thanking the teachers and pupils for their beautiful gift, said that the six years she had spent in the Prince Rupert High School had been among the happiest in her life but she hoped, as in the words of Browning, "that the best were yet to come."

The proceedings came to a close by all joining in the singing of "She's a Jolly Good Fellow," "Auld Lang Syne," and "God Save the King."

MAY BE SHOWERS OF METEORS SOON ON ACCOUNT COMET

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., June 18.—Winnecke's comet, the expected near approach of which to the earth this month has caused much comment, will probably not come within ten million miles of us, according to information received at the Harvard College observatory from astronomers in various parts of the world who are studying its motion closely. It is doubtful, whether it will be visible to the naked eye. Several astronomers predict a meteoric shower on June 27 as a result of the comet's approach. A shower of this sort might be spectacular, but would undoubtedly be harmless.

STORY ABOUT BYNG OF VIMY

Is Close Personal Friend of Sir Arthur Currie, His Successor in War.

TORONTO, Ont., June 18.—(By Canadian Press).—Here is a little story about Lord Byng, the new Governor General, and Sir Arthur Currie, who after the Battle of Vimy succeeded Sir Julian as he was then, in command of the Canadian Corps. They are close personal friends and Sir Arthur, in public and private, always gave full credit to Byng for the work he did in knitting the Canadian Corps into the formidable fighting machine it became, animated by a keen Corps spirit and a just pride in its achievements.
 It was toward the end of September, 1918, when the Corps after storming the famous Drocourt-Queant line, part of the Hindenburg system, on Sept. 2 had been since lying entrenched facing the Canal du Nord and exposed to a constant harassing fire from the other, or east side of the canal, First Army wanted the Corps to make a frontal attack but this the Corps Commander regarded as a useless waste of life. Instead, as is well known, he proposed that the Corps should "side-slip" to the south or right to where at Inchy-en-Artois there was a dry stretch of canal of about 2,500 yards; after storming this the Corps was to spread out fanwise on the other side of the canal, our left taking the German defenders to the north in rear and our right pushing on up over the entrenched slopes against the crowning position of Bourlon Wood, on the far side of which lay the city of Cambrai. All this programme, by the way, was carried out successfully on Sept. 27 and the days following resulting in the fall of Cambrai and retreat of the enemy.

Difficult Manoeuvre.
 Byng was in command of the Third Army on the immediate right of the Corps, and in the previous November had himself undertaken his celebrated surprise attack on Cambrai, pushing up from the south, and just failing to consolidate his notable victory through lack of proper support. On Sept. 23 he came over to Canadian Corps headquarters at Neuville Vitasse, in the heart of No Man's Land, lunched with Sir Arthur and talked the plan over. He was immensely struck with its audacity and brilliance, but he warned his old friend of the terrible result of failure, when the Corps cooped on a narrow frontage would be cut to pieces. "In my opinion," he said, "you are planning the most difficult manoeuvre yet attempted on a battlefield in this war. But you know your men—I know them too. If any troops in the world can do it, it is the Canadian Corps. Good luck to you." And after the battle he was the first to telegraph his congratulations, "Byng's Boys" had once more made good.
