BUILDING NEW TERRACE HOTEL

Second Hostelry Will be Completed in Time for Summer Visitors.

TERRACE, April 4.—Terrace's second hotel is now under construction here. It is being built by P. Kilmartin and is located quite close to the railway station and a few steps from the government telegraph office. It will be a frame structure, two stories in height, and about 64 by 40 feet. There will be a dining room and also a dance floor.

The new hotel, it is expected, will be in operation by the time the summer tourist travel to Terrace is on. A new pool hall is also being built here.

STORIES OF SHOOTING AFFAIR CONFLICTING; INVESTIGATION HELD

Leek had fired although his own wrist had been singed by the one that entered Post's arm. He did not know the man had been wounded until Constable Leek phoned for the doctor.

Fireman McDonald and Cooper gave evidence as to guarding the door. Neither of them had witnessed the actual shooting.

Answering a question put by Commissioner Macdonald, Chief Vickers stated that all the officers carried guns for use outside the station. Old officers like Leek he had not instructed in the use of guns, but new men were always warned not to use them except in case of self preservation.

Constable Leek.

"All I have to say is in my report," said Constable Leek, on being called to tell his story. "If I had not used the gun I would have been in the hospital myself for Post would have beaten my head with the heavy stable broom which he was flourishing. I was in front of Howe and Lamb until I fell down the trap door in the jail kitchen. As soon as I got up I shot while he was holding the broom over me in a threatening manner. I shot Post in the shoulder first, and at that time no one was holding him. There are no rules against an officer using firearms. I have seen 26 years' police experience and I considered my life was in danger."

"Were you excited?" from Commissioner Macdonald.

"No more than I am now."

"Do you think you used the gun judiciously when you came so close to shooting Malcolm Lamb?"

"I do not think we could have overpowered Post otherwise and he was about to come down on the top of my head with the heavy broomstick."

"Well, I don't see where you were justified unless there was danger of your losing your life," concluded Commissioner Macdonald.

Leek Not Leading.

Following this Howe and Lamb were again called upon to answer further questions. Malcolm Lamb said that the broom handle was out of Post's hand when the shots had been fired. Howe was the first to advance towards Post and Leek second.

Constable Howe said that he led the way into the kitchen and when Constable Leek had fired the shots he himself was unarming Post. The last two shots, the ones that entered his person, had been fired when he (Howe) was taking the broom stick out of Post's hand. Constable Leek had never been in the lead.

Constable Leek then rose and offered to take an oath that he was in the lead. If Constable Howe maintained that he himself had been in the lead then he must have been very excited at the time.

"I was in the lead," reiterated Constable Howe, "but I would not be sure whether Lamb or Leek were next in line."

What Kind of Broom?

A dispute arose as to the kind of broom that Post had, been brandishing. Constable Leek maintaining that it had been a heavy stable broom, while Malcolm Lamb and Constable Howe stated that it was just an ordinary broomstick. Fireman Geo. B. Casey stated that he had been shown the wreckage after the affray and he would say that the broom he had been shown as the one Post had used was larger than an ordinary broomstick.

Janitor Exley stated that the stable broom from the furnace room had not been in the jail on the night in question.

The evidence being concluded at this point the enquiry was adjourned to allow Clerk Woods to extend his notes.

MANY NEGROES ARE MURDERED

Farmer in Georgia Kills Many Who Try to Leave Plantation

ATLANTA, Ga., April 2.—Grim searching parties, armed with picks and spades and with grapping hooks, hunted through the underbrush of John Williams' plantation today and plucked the depths of the Aleoxy and Yellow Rivers.

They were seeking further evidence against Williams, wealthy planter, who is held on a charge of murdering negroes who tried to escape from the virtual slavery in which they were held on his farm.

Eleven corpses already have been brought to light. Federal and state officials joined in the prosecution following confession of Clyde Manning, who said he, as Williams' "Simon Legree," had assisted in slaying several negroes.

Manning said that he killed them at Williams' command when they tried to give the Jasper county officials information about the alleged peonage on Williams' "murder plantation."

The latest bodies were found in the Aleoxy River chained to rocks. Their heads had been crushed. It is alleged that some of the negroes were forced to dig their own graves.

Chilly Willie

Little Willie had a mirror And he licked the back all off. Thinking in his childish error It would cure the whooping cough. At the funeral Willie's mother Sadly said to Mrs. Brown, "Twas a chilly day for Willie When the mercury went down."
