Railways Only Subject Discussed.

The Financial Post Ottawa correspondent says: Practically the only subject for reflection and discussion here at present is the railway situation, and the more it is considered, the more serious it grows.

Although the official estimates of the deficit, as given in the speech of the minister of railways, was put at around $70,000,000 which was an increase of $21,000,000 over that of last year, the critics had not been long at work before they found that the country was paying far higher than that for its railway whistle.

More Important Than the Tariff.

Whatever estimate is taken, there is general agreement that the problem has reached a point where it must be tackled seriously and immediately. There is nothing to justify optimism as to the immediate future, and the country simply cannot shoulder a $100,000,000 railway deficit on top of the other enormous liabilities which the war has imposed.

There will probably be no decided action regarding the railway situation until after the Grand Trunk arbitration is concluded. The statutory limit set for the duration of the proceedings and the making of an award is April 9.

Feeling Against Government Operation.

It is understood that there is a growing desire to get out of government ownership and operation; but, so long as the problem is in its hands, there is also a feeling that an attempt should be made to handle it so as to produce better results than have been attained hitherto.

It is probable that, within a few months, the whole Railway Board, including President Hanna, will be asked to hand in their resignations. What course will be followed thereafter is problematical.

FAMOUS STREET FIGHT WAS TEN YEARS AGO

Battle of Kelly's Cut Fought Afternoon April 6, 1911

Ten years ago this afternoon strikers and police met in a pitched battle in Kelly's cut on First Avenue in this city and a pitched battle was fought.

Five hundred men made a fierce attack with rocks and guns on a low strikebreakers and were pluckily fought off by Chief Vickers, Sergeant Phillipson and Constables, Mansell, Morrison, McArthur and Leek, who were assistants generally.

Sergeant Phillipson got in a tight corner for a moment or so and had a bullet wound across the temple from a striker's revolver. It was in the rush up the hill to the sergeant's assistance that the fiercest passage of the tussle was fought.

The wounded were: Nick Pavlich, serious; Biago Molavich and Mike Sekovitch, strikers; Sergeant Phillipson, W. A. Casey, Geo. Leek, S. H. Watson and Wm. Watson, special officers and citizens.

The Man in the Moon SAYS-

AN EXCHANGE says that a new distribute supply brought courage to the fishermen. The same remark has been made in regard to other liquids.

THE size of the boots are regulated primarily by the size of the feet, but with a hat it's different.

THE oddity of a woman's hat is usually in inverse ratio to the size and activity of her brain.

WHEN a man becomes the father of his first baby, he is like a rooster, he gets away up and crows about it. Along about the ninth he is more subdued in his expressions of delight.

COMMUNISM is all right as long as there is something to divide, but when the members of the commune become so lazy that they refuse to produce, it is difficult to make a satisfactory division.

WITH so many people trying to reform the country, what about a little individual reformation? Why not start getting up before breakfast, for instance.

IT is a disappointing feeling when a man thinks he has bought a boat and finds its a submarine.

ITS curious how important some men become. They sometimes feel so big and mighty that they are able to do the sinning for the whole family.

"YOU are invited to attend a wish bone exhibit on Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Highfalutin." That is the way to word the most modern kind of invitation.

Thomas McClmont was married recently at Portage la Prairie to Miss Jean M. McLenaghan, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James A. McLenaghan. Miss Jessie McLenaghan was bridesmaid and Dr. Duff supported the groom, Rev. Thurlow Fraser performing the ceremony.

Rev. Bishop F. H. Du Vernet returned on last night's train from a visit to up-river points including Burns Lake.
