DOROTHY DALTON TELLS HOW WOMEN SHOULD EXERCISE

Hiking Best of All Says Star in Paramount Picture "Half an Hour"

All actresses who work simultaneously on stage and screen have certain definite health rules they have adopted from experience. Dorothy Dalton, who is recognized as one of the most physically perfect actresses today has this to say about keeping fit under a strain:

"I have always taken the utmost care of myself, and have taken part in as many outdoor sports such as swimming, riring and fishing as much as possible, so, I suppose, I naturally had an unusually strong constitution to begin with. However, when I accepted the heavy role of Chrysis, in "Aphrodite," which I knew would entail eight performances a week, I realized it would mean giving up social activities and buckle down to nothing but work and rest.

Walking Only

"Practically the only exercise I could get was walking, and I assert that even ten minutes of honest-to-goodness hiking will do more for one than several hours of languid rambling. Some walking enthusiasts claim that if properly done, men need no other form of exercise. Perhaps they are right, but I am too fond of other athletics to agree."

"Half an Hour," starring Dorothy Dalton, which is to be at the Westholme theatre tonight, was the first picture Miss Dalton made when appearing in "Aphrodite," in New York. Charles Richman, Albert Barrett and Frank Losee are in the cast.

"BEAUTIFULLY TRIMMED" AT EMPRESS TONIGHT

New Type of Heroine is Norine—Gowned in Moorish Frocks

A new type of heroine, beautiful and unscrupulous, wise and innocent, capable of sustained revenge or of renunciating love, is Norine in "Beautifully Trimmed," adopted from Marguerite Storrs' "The Orchid."

Carmel Myers plays the part at the Empress theatre this week, and she invests it with all the fascination of her beauty and with a passionate poise that is her newest acquisition.

It becomes more apparent with every one of her new offerings that this dark haired, vivacious young star is forging on to a dominant position in the film firmament. Since her return to Universal from the stage she has given two attractive features in "In Folly's Trail," and "The Guilded Dream," and now she comes to the fore with another drama in which her exotic charms are displayed to full advantage. Another thing—Carmel has learned to wear clothes of recent months, and in Moorish frocks among the younger stars she is second to none.

The story of "Beautifully Trimmed," is that of a society girl whose father has failed in business and died. Determined to make her money on the class responsible for her father's ruin, Norine joins a group in fashionable Bohemia and aids in disposing of counterfeit "great masters" and finding victims for worthless oil stock.

Mrs. O. Martin, of Stewart, reached the city last night.

WEIRD STORIES OF MOONSHINE

Mysterious Visits Said to Be Paid to Outlying Islands With Supplies.

Weird stories of moonshiners and their operations are heard of late along the waterfront from those who come and go in launches. Already the advent of the autumn season and the need of something stronger than coffee to put life into the bones of the fishermen and others at prices lower than those charged by Pat Palmer and his staff has been the cause of the floating in of stories, coming in like the tide from the islands. Passersby say they smell queer smells such as only an amateur distillery can produce.

No one is willing to give information about these mysterious places and their doings, and it is only in a jocular way they are referred to It is mentioned that regular calls seem to be made by certain boats at certain islands, and that mysterious supplies are carried to these mysterious places. Also it is said that men who have been in the habit of making periodic calls at the government dispensary are now making periodic trips to sea instead. Such is the trend of small town gossip, which may mean a lot and which also may mean simply that someone has had a smile or two too many and seen things through the medium of the imagination.

PRESBYTERIANS TAKE OVER MISSION FIELD AT ALICE ARM CAMP

Will Place a Permanent Minister There Early In Coming Year—Probably May

Alice Arm, September 30.—A. Mackenzie, who has been stationed here by the Presbyterian and Methodist Mission Boards for the past two months, left on Monday for the East where he will resume his studies at the University of Toronto. Mr. Mackenzie made many friends while he was here and the camp feels the loss of his services distinctly. He regrets that he did not arrive earlier in the season and states that the Presbyterian Church has taken over this field and will place a minister in the camp early in the coming year, probably in May.
