BOMBS EXPLODE PRINTING SHOPS

Many People Fainted From Shock in Streets of Lisbon.

LISBON, July 28.—The festivities of St. John's Eve were interrupted by the explosion of three dynamite bombs of enormous dimensions, placed by unknown hands in different parts of the city, outside three printing offices of which the printers are on strike.

The first explosion was so terrific that, although Lisbonites are becoming accustomed to bombs, real panic was produced among the merry-makers in the streets of Bairro Alto who, leaving their open air balls and bonfires, fled into the lower part of the town. Although there were no victims, the force of the explosion brought down the ceilings of the houses near which it burst. A dense and suffocating smoke filled the whole street and many people fainted.

Another bomb did less damage in the Rua dos Corrieiros, and the third, which was of the same powerful type as the first, burst near an open air ball, seriously wounding three persons. Some arrests were made of workmen, but no real clue has as yet been discovered.

Another case of attempt against the life of a judge of the Tribunal of Public Safety was also made about the same time, two shots being fired at him in the street without wounding him.

ANOTHER EFFORT IN LENGTHY VERSE

"Off For the Day" is Clever and Amusing But Not Eligible for Prize.

The sketch verses "Off For the Day" is rather realistic and interesting but of course under the rules of the competition cannot be adjudged in the competition. We are using it because of its cleverness. Possibly the author of this as well as of the longer verses used yesterday may send in another. Some contributors are holding back waiting to see what others do. That is not a good policy. We shall not keep the competition running long and the best verses will get the prizes.

Off For the Day.
Blue 36! Say Bill is that you?
We're down at Cow Bay, and waiting for you.
Don't be a minute, the news is too good.
It's going like —H, my old Evinrude.

8 a. m.
All aboard! all aboard! Gee, what a day!
Say, boys, but we're lucky; it's a peach of a day.
Just look at her Bill; she hums like a bee.
We're making six knots, just take it from me.

9. a. m.
By golly! she stopped. Don't worry the least.
She wants some more juice, the cute little beast.
Now there, my sweet lady, you're thirsty I know,
One more little turn, and presto we go.

12 m.
Gee, but it's hot. Say Bill, hold my coat,
No, Jack, it's all right, but don't rock the boat.
I think it's the timer; my spark plug's all right.
And the Mixture's O.K.—what the devil "Good-night."
My propeller is off Well, I say that's tough luck,
Just help me to pitch the whole thing in the chuck.

Now pass me a sandwich, my appetite's fine,
By Jove, boys, you can't beat a day on the brine.

Cow Bay.
I was feeling just piffy and gay
When I went to a camp one day,
I have a big hunch
A cow took my lunch
Can you guess where I was, by the way?

ALICE ARM
Logging operations will commence on the flats between the Illianee and Kitsault Rivers to the foot of Metiraw Mountain as soon as there is a market for the logs, says S. D. Tretheway, of Abbotsford, a lumber man. The land will then be put in shape for farms.

It is reported here that a phibiscite is to be taken in Anox to ascertain the attitude of the citizens regarding the establishment of a liquor store between Alice Arm and the smelter town.

Miss McCoskrie, of St. Joseph's Hospital, Victoria, is here visiting with her sister, Mrs. H. F. Kergin.

An interesting old Indian relic in the form of a stone hammer was found by Walter Macdonald last week while working on the wharf road. It is on exhibition in George Brugg's store.

PRESIDENT OF CIVIL SERVICE ASSOCIATION PROTESTS AT OTTAWA

OTTAWA, July 29.—T. R. L. MacInnes, president of the Civil Service Association of Ottawa, has written Rt. Hon. Sir George E. Foster, acting prime minister, protesting in the name of the association, at the recent dismissals in the Post Office and Customs departments.

Mr. MacInnes, while strongly upholding efficiency in the service, points out the great individual hardships being suffered by those who are being laid off and recommends instead of these dismissals, that no new appointments be made to the service till the surplus in these and other departments are absorbed by transfer to other departments where help is still needed.
