Will Tariff Bill

Benefit United States?

The passing of the United States emergency tariff bill which took effect last Saturday, placing heavy duties on Canadian wheat, wheat flour, flax seed, cattle, sheep, wool, potatoes and meats, has already led to retaliatory steps by Canada in the placing of similar excises by the Dominion on the same commodities entering from the States.

Trade Figures Show

Canada's Advantage.

During the debate on the tariff bill at Washington, before its enactment, statistics showing exports and imports between United States and Canada were put into the Congressional records and a study of these reveals clearly how the tides of trade between the two countries are flowing.

Early Settlement of Coal Strike Possible.

The coal miners of Great Britain have now been on strike for about two months. How the industry of the homeland has weathered the situation as well as it has seems remarkable but it cannot continue much longer.

Refitting of Prince Rupert By Capt. C. H. Nicholson

The refitting of the steamer Prince Rupert was an undertaking of a major character calling for the greatest artistic taste and the highest class of workmanship. It can be readily imagined, particularly by shipping men, what the condition of the vessel was after being submerged for nearly three months in salt water and directly in line of the discharge of waste products of a large industrial plant in which large quantities of acids are used.

Great Hull Damage.

The hull damage of the ship was more extensive than was first thought. Thirteen plates were renewed and several others faired in place with the attendant work necessary on frames, floors, fore and aft stringer bars, breast hooks, bulkheads and tank margin plates as the result of the vessel's contact with the rocky beach.

The engines and boilers required a vast amount of work. All cylinders, steam chests, pumps, evaporators and filters were opened up, thoroughly cleaned and put in perfect working order, making such renewals as were found necessary.

Some of the heavy and solid hardwood fittings not too badly damaged were carefully kiln dried, thoroughly reconditioned and after careful inspection, if found perfect, were allowed to be used again.

Woodwork Renewed.

The electric wiring, water and sewerage systems were renewed as required. The difficulties of these features of the work will be realized when it is known that there are many miles of piping and wiring on a ship of the class of the Prince Rupert.

As Good As New.

The vessel re-enters the service as complete and as well fitted as it is possible to make her and thoroughly capable of maintaining the high standard of service which characterizes the operation of the vessels of this fleet.

Ten Years Ago in Prince Rupert

A special despatch telegraphed to the Daily News, received this morning, announces that the Methodist General Board of Missions has granted a sum of $5,000 free of interest to the Methodist church at Prince Rupert for the purpose of assisting in the building of a new church.

Yesterday a cheque for $30,000 was received by the city from the G.T.P. for last year's and this year's taxes. The city cannot cash it, however, until Sir Richard McBride and the citizens decide whether to accept settlement.

A delightful entertainment was put on last evening at the Empress Theatre when the two clever young artists, Miss Cassie Hiller and Miss Grace Lindsay, scored a big musical triumph.
