BRINGING UP FATHER

Among the Farmers of Telkwa District,

By the Editor.

TELKWA, June 1.—The country around here looks very fine. Everything is growing and everybody is happy. Among the places we visited was the famous Round Lake district. The farms slope down to the edge of the water and give a wonderful effect of pastoral beauty.

There is a school not far from the lake and one of the features of the landscape is a new community hall being erected by the ladies community association. It is a picturesque one-story building with appropriate rooms in addition to the main hall. When completed it will have cost in the neighborhood of $3,000.

Among the people we called on was Roy Williams, whose beautiful home right on the lake shore is well known. He is an enthusiastic booster for the country and says most of the farmers are doing well. Another rancher in the neighborhood, James Thompson, was seen. He has a fine house, a good farm, good looking cows, and is a man of many activities. He is able to turn his hand to anything from blacksmithing or butchering to running a thrashing outfit. All the farmers in this neighborhood are growing wheat and say they prefer growing it to barley, even though barley may be a surer crop.

Sheep Farming.

Seven farmers of the neighborhood keep sheep and one of the foremost of these is F. M. Dockrill. He keeps about fifty ewes, Suffolk grades, and is well satisfied with sheep raising as a business. He also has about forty head of Shorthorn cattle but is intending to go into dairying instead of raising beef cattle. Like most of the farmers we met, he believes dairying is the industry of the future for the Bulkley valley.

Mr. Dockrill was the first farmer we met who mentioned taxes. He is of opinion that it is very unfair to levy a personal property tax on farmers. He admitted that few farmers paid Dominion income tax owing to the large number of exemptions allowed, but objected to a man who happened to be progressive being taxed for being so.

Experimental Farm.

Mr. Dockrill was very strongly in favor of the establishment of an experimental farm in this district. He says it would be a distinct advantage to have various grains, fruits and other farm products tried out at the government farm, especially when it is so evident that everything is different here from any other part of the country. The valley is fertile, the climate is good, but it is necessary to farm in a manner suited to the particular soil and climate. The difficulties can be overcome by experience, but experiments are costly and an expert is better able to overcome difficulties than an ordinary farmer. He should discover the reason for his failures.

Loyal to District.

All the farmers in the district, with whom we talked, expressed the opinion that if they were starting over again they would still do so in the Bulkley Valley. They like the life and are keen and progressive. They claim there is no better place in British Columbia and many of them are willing to stake the district against anything in Canada.

Many of the people in and around Telkwa and Smithers own automobiles and in the summer time drive to town or to see their neighbors, the car lessening the long distances and adding zest to life. What is needed is better roads. Some few of the roads are good, but many are poor and some are even dangerous. They are gradually being improved, thanks to the efforts of the local member of the legislature, and in a few years should be as good as anywhere.

Long Distances.

One of the difficulties in regard to the making of roads and the building of schools is the large extent of land held by one man. It is not fair to build miles of road to convenience one or two farmers such as is necessary when men own almost a thousand acres of land. The extent of their holdings militate against their getting the conveniences of modern civilization.

POPULAR CLERGYMAN LEAVES ON FRIDAY

Rev. T. H. Nuttall has Year's Leave of Absence, but is Undecided as to Future

Rev. T. H. Nuttall leaves on the business Mary on Friday for the south and after visiting in Vancouver and Victoria for a few weeks will proceed with Mrs. Nuttall and family to England.

Mr. Nuttall has a year's leave of absence from the duties of the Methodist Church here, but is, as yet, undecided what he will do when that year is up. He may take charge of a public school in the Old Country, may enter the ministry again there or may possibly return to Western Canada.

Mr. and Mrs. Nuttall, during their residence in Prince Rupert and Ansox have become exceedingly popular and their many friends hope that the call of Western Canada will prove too strong for resistance and that they will be back again at the end of the year. In any event best of wishes will follow them whatever they decide to do.

TELKWA PEOPLE TRYING TO ARRANGE EXCURSION TRAIN

TELKWA, June 1.—The management of the Telkwa Barbecue are trying to arrange for a special excursion train from Prince Rupert for that occasion on Labor Day and they look for a big delegation to visit them. They think it might be possible to hold the Board of Trade excursion at the same time, so that the members of the board would meet all the farmers and businessmen of the district while they are gathered here.
