

TERRACE is a thrifty, growing town. The chances are good that oil will be struck in the immediate vicinity, as seepages have been found, much ground has been staked and a drilling outfit is on its way there. We offer for sale eighty acres of land, 1 1/2 miles from the town on a good road at $12.50 per acre. This is your opportunity to participate in the enhanced real estate values that will surely follow the growth of Terrace.

T. G. McBride, the farmer candidate, fired the opening gun of the federal election campaign in this city with a meeting in the Rex Theatre on Wednesday night. The theatre was well filled and the farmer candidate was given a cordial reception. C. P. Deykin, his campaign manager here, was in the chair.

D. Hay, representing the J. D. McArthur timber interests, is in the city making preparations for the opening of a tie camp at Mud River where 250,000 ties will be cut. The company proposes the establishment of a sawmill there in the near future.

The government candidate for the forthcoming federal election, J. T. Robinson, spoke in the Rex Theatre on Thursday evening and there was a good crowd out to hear him. R. A. Renwick was chairman and on the platform were W. P. Ogilvie, Dr. Alward, A. G. McMillan, of Kamloops, and Sam Cocker, of Vanderhoof.

Staff Sergeant McLeod of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police,

EDMONTON SENDS DOG SLEIGHS TO THE NORTH

EDMONTON, Nov. 22.—Next spring 300 or more dog sleighs will be sent north on the first open water, for the trappers and traders of the fur country. They will be on sale on store rooms of the fur trader from Fort McMurray to the Arctic Ocean, and from Fond du Lac to the outposts of the rivers which flow from the mountains into the Mackenzie.

Annually large shipments are made by the Northern Boatbuilding company from Edmonton, and the present season is no exception, the employees of the company being busily engaged constructing the sleighs which will haul the furs of the Eskimos from the Arctic littoral, those of the Chipewyan from the country bordering the Great Slave Lake, and the peltries of the Yellowknives from the Barren Lands. In addition they are used by white travellers of the north; the inspectors of the fur trading companies utilize them on making their rounds in the dead of winter, while the Mounted Police also use them for patrol work on the Mackenzie, and on the overland route from that river to the Yukon.

GERMAN MACHINE GUNS WORKED BY ELECTRICAL DEVICE

Genuine Reduction of Army Not As Great As Is Thought.

BERLIN, Nov. 22.—As an indication of the continued activity of the Germans along military lines, it is known that they have perfected various new types of machine-guns, some of them double or treble barreled, some worked by electrical devices which obviate the necessity of gun crews. As described by an expert, one of these machine-guns, weighing some 22 lb. and capable of spreading 2,000 rounds per minute in a complete circle from each of its three barrels, could be worked electrically by a machine-gunner squatting; say, half a mile from the gun. Think of it—no gun crew at the gun-side, and 6,000 shots a minute in any direction or in three directions at once.

It is frequently supposed that in spite of much chicanery and not a little pugnacity from the German General Staff, the Allied military representatives have succeeded in effecting the genuine reduction of the legitimate Regular Army, the Reichswehr, to an establishment of 100,000. That is, however, a mistaken notion. On the one hand, every conceivable trick has been, and is being, resorted to with a view to maintaining an ample surplus establishment of officers in commands and subordinate staffs. By means of shufflings and "attachments" the complement of senior officers, particularly, is still in excess of actual requirements.

Again, large branches of the service were camouflaged as civil officials by the transfer bodily of supply, ordinance, pensions, medical, and similar auxiliary services from the control of the Ministries of War to that of other ministries.

MENNONITES TREK SOUTH

SASKATOON, Sask., Nov. 21.—The much heralded exodus of old colony church Mennonites from Western Canada to Northern Mexico is to become a reality, for arrangements have been completed whereby an advance party of 1,000 will leave the Hague district in the near future to do pioneer work on their new holdings. There are about thirty different sects of Mennonites and this is a distinct movement from that proposed by one section of Mennonites who have purchased land in South America. An official statement, signed by Bishop Wall, of the Hague district, declares: "Our only objection (to staying in Canada) lies in the fact that the concession granted and ratified by the federal government giving us entire right to conduct our schools without molestation or restriction has now been repudiated." The original charter granted by the government was signed in 1873. The transfer of property from the Mennonites to a Winnipeg company is near completion and under the terms of the agreement all land must be vacated by December 1, 1922. The holdings of the Mennonites in the Hague district comprise 85,000 acres.

This deal is also entirely independent of the Mennonite colonies of Swift Current and Manitoba, although these people have already contracted for the purchase of blocks of land in Northern Mexico. When the trek of old colony church sect has been completed a total of 11,000 of these people will have left Canada for Mexico. Another 11,000 will be affected by the move to South America, but, as it was pointed out by Bishop Wall, they are not members of the old colony church.

It is against the law of the church for any of these people to do any other kind of business, except farming, in which they have been very successful in Western Canada. It is estimated that the old colony church members leaving the west will take with them a total of some $11,000,000 in cash, or about $15,000 net cash per each family on the average. The Mennonites are not, as a great many people believe, community farmers, each farmer owns and controls his own land within the block purchased by their elders for them.

The land company that is purchasing the Mennonite farms in the Hague district will settle a colony of Poles there, brought exclusively from the United States.
