Simple Little Side Display Was Considered Best of All.

Yesterday afternoon the three judges appointed to decide on the respective merits of the windows in the contest for the prize of $2 offered by the St. Patrick's Day Concert Committee, made the rounds along with Father McGrath and found the task a difficult one. There were a number of good windows but many had too much in them. Others were more or less crudely arranged. On the whole, however, the displays were good and in some cases original. The report of the committee was submitted to the committee in a short letter as follows: Dear sirs:—We have examined the window displays carefully and award first prize to Frizzell's for their little side window with meat display. This window is notable for its simplicity, effectiveness from an advertising viewpoint and artistic results. Other windows worthy of special mention are Rupert Table Supply Co., Tite's, Arthur's fish window, Bulger's, Gil's Cigar Store, and Prince Rupert Cigar Store. A number of windows were decorated with Robin Hood, Nabob and Malkin's Best goods and these are all meritorious but not sufficiently distinctive to win the first prize.
