PATRON SAINT WAS HONORED

Knights of Columbus Concert in Westholme Theatre Last Night Was Great Success.

BEST LOCAL TALENT WAS ASSISTED BY VISITORS

The St. Patrick's Day concert presented under the auspices of the Knights of Columbus in the Westholme Theatre last night was indeed a fine performance. Every person in the big audience, Irish, Scotch, English or Canadian, listened to an entertainment that was enjoyable to the fullest degree and all came away entirely satisfied.

The theatre was artistically decorated with the insignia of the Knights of Columbus order and many of the stage settings were at the same time novel and taste fully arranged.

The first number on the program was a selection "Erin Go Bragh" by the Westholme Orchestra consisting of Sam Brail, director, F. W. Browne and H. A. Pryce.

The curtain raiser was "The Bard's Address" by H. McEwen, which in the habit of an aged Irish minstrel with the ancient and broken harp before him.

Particular favorites with the audience were the two dainty dances by a group of little girls. The first, an Irish "Three Hand Reel" by Misses Lorna McLaren, Beatrice Cash and Dorothy Forre.

Other undoubted hits were made by Harry Shannon, the Vancouver Irish balladist, Miss Olga Kask, who made her first public appearance here, and Harry Le Gouteur, of Vancouver, and Miss Patricia Meagher in duet numbers.

DOUGLAS FAIRBANKS in "When the Clouds Roll By" Starring tonight at the Westholme Theatre.

Knights of Columbus banquet last summer, was again well received and Miss Meagher, though suffering from a slight cold, was well enjoyed. Their songs were of a typical Irish emigrant farewell nature.

Harry Flether, the local tenor, was in good voice and his bidding farewell of the Old Land and his loved ones in song was touching and true.

The "Fairies' Glen," a playlet specially written for the concert in which the leading roles were taken by Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Brady, was original and well carried out.

Mrs. H. Alston gave pleasing vocal solos which were well received. Another interesting number was the exhibition of lantern slides of views in Ireland which were described by E. A. Donohue.

The committee in charge is deserving of much credit for the success attained in the concert and the entertainment dispensed.

THE way some of the members of the British Columbia Legislature act you would hardly imagine the proceedings opened every day with prayer.

IN one of the cities to the south, it would be cruel to mention which, things are so quiet you can almost hear the interest fall due.

ABSENT-MINDEDNESS may be all right for a poet, but it won't prevent a note falling due.

MADE STAR WEEP IN FAIRBANKS PICTURE

"When the Clouds Roll By" Shown at Westholme Tonight

No real man ever intentionally sets to work to make a girl cry, for if there's anything he dislikes in life it is that tyranny of tears.

Doug wrote the story and in one scene he insisted in his script that the young lady with whom he was in love and who turned him down, was to shed real tears.

Despite his success it was days before he had Miss Clifford believing that he was only getting her to play a crying part.

MARION DAVIES IN "THE CINEMA MURDER"

MARION DAVIES' latest picture is a screen adaptation of E. Phillips Oppenheim's novel and provides the talented player with a striking vehicle in which mystery and romance play prominent parts.
