Sport Chat

There seems to be good reason to hope that Prince Rupert may yet send her star baseball team, the champions of the north, on a tour to southern cities before the season is ended.

If final arrangements are made and it is decided to go south, it is likely that the team would leave on a Sunday night steamer reaching Vancouver on Tuesday afternoon when a game would be played.

The Daily News and local baseball fans are more than pleased that Prince George has taken exception to doubts being expressed here that the visitors of the week-end will be unable to put up a good game against Prince Rupert.
