AIRPLANE IN FROM NORTH

Arrives at Edmonton from Peace River; Plans for Future Operations

EDMONTON, May 2.—With the return of one of the aeroplanes from Peace River it is felt that far north communication by air has been really established. John M. Larson returned in the J. L. 6 all steel monoplane, in which he flew from New York to Peace River stepping at Edmonton en route and is now on his way back. The trip was made from Peace River in 2 hours and 42 minutes, and this in spite of storms and head winds.

Piloting the plane was H. S. Myhres, who is one of the company's pilots, and who also accompanied George Gorman when he flew another of the planes across the continent in mid-winter. Others who came in per aeroplane were George Gorman, who had just returned from Fort Simpson in one of the Imperial Oil aeroplanes of the same type, E. Buehl, mechanic, and W. H. Waddell, who was the navigator accompanying the party on the Fort Simpson trip.

Flow Through Storms

Everyone was delighted with the trip out from Peace River, but they ran into all sorts of storms, hail, snow, rain and treacherous winds, so that they did not make such a direct route as they might otherwise have done.

The plane sailed past over the city to the May-Gorman aerodrome, and when it alighted there were several on the spot to greet the passengers of the big plane.

Larson is Returning

Mr. Larson is tremendously enthusiastic over the northland, and although he did not go any further than Peace River, is returning again this summer and will locate there. At present he plans, after a few days in Edmonton, to take some sightseeing trips by aeroplane to Jasper Park.

How Zam-Buk Banished MY PILES

"I suffered severely from piles," writes Mr. James Ruddy, of Kilmalee, Ont., "the pain at times was unbearable. I had tried one after another of the so-called 'pile-remedies,' but continued every bit as bad as ever until I commenced the Zam-Buk treatment. To my joy this herbal healing balm speedily relieved the burning irritation. Perseverance banished the piles completely."

For piles apply Zam-Buk at night and let it act while you sleep. Zam-Buk's refined herbal essences speedily soothe and heal the inflamed tissues—take away the burning pain and a awful itching like nothing else can. Zam-Buk is also the finest possible remedy for eczema, ulcers, ringworm, poisoned sores, burns, scalds, and boils, rashes and other spring skin troubles. 50c. box 8 for $1.25. All dealers or from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto.

Band and other spots in the Rocky Mountains and to take some photographs to record the trip.

He will then return to New York and fit up his aeroplane with floats so that it can take the water route into the north. He states that for the present he could accomplish nothing as the rivers and lakes are all breaking up and it is not safe to attempt landings with the skids with which the planes had been equipped for the north trip. For this reason, the flight north from Fort Simpson was abandoned by the Imperial Oil navigators.

Fuel Supply Arranged

Mr. Larson has given contracts for the building at Peace River of two big scows and with these and a 60 horse power motor boat, he intends to transport plenty of gasoline down to the stopping places in the north country. These scows will be ready to leave in four weeks and after he has plenty of fuel and other sorts of equipment in ahead of him, he hopes to make all sorts of long trips and thoroughly discover the north country. Mr. Larson intends to visit Coronation Gulf and various other points during the summer. Meantime he will return to New York and equip a machine with everything that will possibly be needed in such a trip.

other days whose homes were divided into the harem and the haremlik, that is, one half of a mansion or palace for the women and the other for the men, are parting with their luxury as they have parted with their carriages, horses, jewels and lands. The peasants still keep a division of their houses for the privacy of their wives and daughters and children.

Like Europeans.

Many Turkish women deplore the necessity which compels them to live like the "poor European." They declare that they were happier when living apart, that the home was easier to manage and their husbands, too.

In Constantinople the majority of the private houses show this division, but the chance to rent one side of the house, or else the requisitions of Allied troops, has caused families to live together in only one half of their home.

Foreigners are getting for the first time a peep into the more aristocratic of these old homes, until now hidden in the mystery of protecting garden walls, latticed windows and huge gates or doorways. The vista often reveals a charming interior, with room, walls and ceilings decorated with fresco paintings and mosaics showing charming view of mosques, mountains, seas, forests, or towers of the old empire.

As the homes are vacated, their elaborate European furniture, together with much of the collections of brocades, gossamer silks and fine rugs are sold at auctions held in the house or else sent to the dealers or auction room of the Old Bazaar.
