Everyone Help To Beautify City.

Everyone can do something toward beautifying the city. This year some of the residents have been working hard to get their gardens into shape. They have been sowing lawns, planting flowers and making all sorts of improvements which are having a good general effect on the community. Every year we hope to have more of that, but one pioneer is worth a dozen who follow the lead of the others. The power of example is very great. Credit is due to many for the excellent work they have done along that line this summer, and it is not yet too late for more to get busy so that there may be still further improvements next year. The time to make a garden for next year is to begin now.

The private garden is just as useful, so far as the community is concerned, as the public garden. We can all enjoy the results of our neighbor's labors. Visitors to the city gauge a place very largely from the way the gardens are kept, the houses painted, and the general tidiness of the community. The company towns are always admired for their cleanliness and the general air of tidiness that prevails. It is up to the people in a town like this to show that they do not need any control in order to make them put their places in order.

Unify Laws of Different Provinces.

An effort is being made to unify the laws of the various provinces of Canada. The legal fraternity are taking the first step. They are getting together with the idea of having the laws such that a lawyer can practise in any province and be thoroughly qualified for the work; that a teacher can teach in any province, that a doctor can practise in any province, and that there be a general tendency toward greater uniformity of laws of all kinds. The move seems to be an excellent one. Quebec is the only province which is not to be represented at the meeting which is to be held. That province, having certain privileges under the British North America Act, holds to them tenaciously and therefore will be excluded from the scope of the movement.

Unconscious Mind And Its Influence.

Psychologists tell us that we all have what is known as an unconscious mind which influences all our actions, which is always alert and always working. Bruce Barton in an article in the September American Magazine tells of some of the vagaries it plays, especially in regard to affecting our memory. The unconscious mind tries to shut off things which are unpleasant, and for that reason we easily forget things which we do not like. In our unguarded moments we say and do things which reveal our true selves because the unconscious mind is working while the conscious self may be temporarily dormant. The study is a very fascinating one and anyone interested in it might well, as a starter, read the article in question.

Closely Allied To Spiritualism.

There are people who believe that much of the spiritualism of the present day is simply the working of the unconscious mind. By putting the conscious mind to sleep by suggestion and giving the unconscious mind free scope, queer things are demonstrated. It is further suggested that there is a general unconscious mind something like a lake of knowledge which any may tap and thus be in a position to tell of things of which they have no physical experience and yet which are actual facts. What seems very certain is that we have an immense lot to learn yet. There are all sorts of things to be discovered in the mental world, some of which will perhaps account for the phenomena which today seem to us mysterious.

ANOTHER VICTIM OF RHEUMATISM

Entirely Well After Six Weeks' Treatment With "FRUIT-A-LIVES"

MR. AMEDE GARCEAU

"I was for many years a victim of that terrible disease, Rheumatism. In 1913, I was laid up for four months with Rheumatism in the joints of the knees, hips and shoulders and was prevented from following my work, that of Electrician.

I tried many remedies and was under the care of a physician; but nothing did me any good. Then I began to take 'Fruit-a-lives' and in a week I was easier, and in six weeks I was so well I went to work again.

I look upon this fruit medicine, 'Fruit-a-lives', as simply marvellous in the cure of Rheumatism, and strongly advise everyone suffering with Rheumatism to give 'Fruit-a-lives' a trial."

RALEIGH WRITES ABOUT NORTH IN RAILWAY MAGAZINE

Well Illustrated Article About Central B.C. and Prince Rupert in C.N.R. Journal.

"In Northern British Columbia" is the title of an interesting article by J. J. Raleigh, travelling freight agent for the Canadian National Railways, that has been given prominent position in the current issue of the Canadian National Railways Magazine. The article deals with lumbering, fishing, pulp and paper manufacturing, mining and agriculture in central British Columbia and Prince Rupert's position as the centre of all is recognized. Building and transportation are also dealt with. Accompanying the article are a number of splendid pictures including a view of the city from Aeropolis Hill, the Hagilwet Canyon bridges, Hays Creek, the launching of the Canadian Scottish, whale fishing and a Sunnyside Cannery salmon fleet.

In the Letter Box

TALE OF A HORSE.

Editor Daily News:—During a vacation, my attention was called to an article in your journal, describing the "destruction of an animal, which was prized very much by the Indian Agent of the Queen Charlotte Agency." Apparently, your informant must have been under "Government Control," when reciting the "story," for publication.

The truth of the matter is that the animal had its leg broken, by a kick from another horse. It was impossible to have the bone set and it was decided to destroy the beast.

Indians, of this agency, are not in the habit of shooting animals through "sarcastic remarks," or because they do not understand right from wrong. We all appreciate jokes, when they emanate from a source that might be considered reliable; but when you take into consideration that the horse was the property of the Indian Department; that I had to report on the cause of the accident and death, and that the story places me in a wrong light with my superiors, the joke becomes serious. Any Indian knows better than to destroy a valuable animal, through a sarcastic remark. It might be instructive to state that no Indians, of this Agency, have been convicted of an offence calling for a prison or penitentiary sentence, during the eleven years we have been among them. The jail records of the Province will not show one Haida Indian convicted and sent to jail, from these islands, during that long term of years.

This speaks well for the Haidas, numbering over six hundred and fifty natives. If the story related of an Indian shooting a horse, through a sarcastic remark made, had any truth in it, your informant would not require to recite such a jocular article. The incident happened about four years ago, which is another proof that it takes quite a time for news to travel from these islands to the metropolis of the North.

Ten Years Ago in Prince Rupert

August 20, 1911.

At the sitting of the railway commission yesterday afternoon, Judge Mahes, chairman, severely censured the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway for filling in Cow Bay. He said that the company had ignored the Railway Act and had infringed upon the people's rights.

The Prince George had a large number of clergymen aboard when she left for the south this morning. Among them were Bishop DuVernet and Archdeacon Collison who are on their way to the General Synod at London, Ontario.

With 6,800 tons of steel for the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway, the steamer Hans R. arrived last evening from Sydney, N. S.

Not even Imperial Polarine Motor Oils will lubricate properly if dirt and grit are present. Your crank case should be thoroughly cleaned every time you change oil. Dealers displaying the sign to the left will clean your car in an expert and workman-like manner. Such dealers use Imperial Polarine Oil, the modern scientific cleaning agent. Employ crank case service early and you will save hundreds of dollars every year.

FRANCE RISING FROM DEVASTATION OF WAR

EDMONTON, Aug. 20.—French Consul General for Canada M. de Verneuil, at the regular weekly luncheon of the Kiwanis Club gave a short address on general conditions in France, the work of reparation and the most friendly relations that existed between that country and Canada and the motherland.

After quoting facts and figures to show that France was gradually rising from the devastations of the war, he went on to show that there was now in that country internal peace, with little or no labor trouble, and workers were graciously accepting a lowering of wages in keeping with the conditions of the time. The farmers of the country were content and had settled down to production with might and main, and politically there was union in the midst of the opposing parties. There was a general spirit of co-operation in the nation.

What's in a Name?

"I don't like your heart action," said the doctor applying his stethoscope. "You had some trouble with angina pectoris, haven't you?"

"You're partly right, doc," answered the young man sheepishly. "Only that ain't her name."
