

The Way to Save

It is the systematic regularity with which you make small deposits, rather than the occasional banking of a considerable amount, that steadily builds up a substantial financial backing.

Get the habit of definitely depositing. Three dollars saved every week, with interest at 3% compounded semi-annually, in five years will amount to $841.02.

AVERAGE M. P. IS OPPOSED TO AN ELECTION

Cabinet Divided on Wisdom of Appealing to People Just Now.

OTTAWA, Aug. 20.—On the question of a general election this fall the federal cabinet is said to be equally divided. There is some reason to believe that Premier Meighen has come back to Canada prepared to concur in the views of that wing of the cabinet who favor dissolution of parliament as the best solution of a perturbed political situation.
That he entertains such a view is not surprising because at the final caucus of his party on the eve of his departure for England he bade them prepare for a general election. While such counsel is often given, it is understood that the premier's reference in this instance was pretty specific. The advice of the caucus, however, was against such a course.

Therein lies the great doubt today as to whether or no dissolution will occur this fall. It is the views of the most influential men of the cabinet predominate —and the Premier himself is said to be in accord with them—the government with little delay may throw its hat in the ring but the members of parliament have to be considered and consulted and deference extended to their views.

How Premier Was Chosen.

A year ago when Sir Robert Borden retired from the premiership and the question of selecting his successor arose, the then premier took the democratic course of asking each ministerial member to indicate his preference for the premiership.
There is little question that a majority favored Mr. Meighen.
As, somewhat at least, he is of their own making, the propriety of consulting them is more apparent than usual. There is the further consideration that, in many cases, the present membership of the government side will be the candidate in the next general election and if they have to put up the fight in the constituencies, they have an additional claim for being consulted as to when they should go there.

May Consult Followers.

It is believed, therefore, that before any definite conclusion is arrived at, on the question of a general election the prime minister will take steps to ascertain the views of his followers. If the final conclusion be to go ahead, the by-elections will be brought on. There are five vacancies already and indications that, in the natural course, three other constituencies will be opened up. If these elections in the main should be adverse to the government, dissolution would seem inevitable. If the most of them are carried, the result would be construed as a mandate to carry on. If the members of parliament supporting the government will stand for it, a general election this fall would seem highly probable, but that either they or the rank and file of the two op-positions relish the idea of dissolution is exceedingly questionable. The average M. P. on all sides wants another session and the annexation of another indemnities of four thousand is not a wholly foreign influence.

cankers form in the mouth, and in many cases the child wastes to a shadow, and very often the termination is fatal.

FRENCH WRITER DISCUSSES THE YELLOW PERIL

"Asia for the Asiatics," He Says Is Becoming the Cry.

PARIS, Aug. 20.—Dr. A. F.
Legendre, a French writer on Chinese and Asiatic subjects gained from 25 years of travel and observation in the Far East, warns the world in his latest work that "Asia is at the white man's doors, 900,000,000 strong." The biggest cloud on the horizon of the future, he says, is the "yellow peril."

The white race, Dr. Legendre says, "lost face," as the Oriental puts it, when Japan defeated Russia. During the great war he writes, Japan multiplied her resources and saved her strength while Europe lost 20,000,000 men and today suffers depressing, intellectual, moral and economic debility. Great Britain the author holds, erred in supporting Japan through her "marriage of reason" with the Pacific Empire, an alliance "now proving so embarrassing."

Tendency of Today.

"Imperialistic Germanism and Socialism now are a union," he adds, in expounding his theory that the Japanese and German expansion each toward the other, threaten to bridge the old Russian bulwark against Asiatic invasion of Europe and call for prompt action by the white man to save himself from the domination he sees impending in the steadily increasing crystallization of "Asia for the Asiatics," sentiment, particularly among the Musselmans. Russia, he says, cannot save herself; she must be helped with a new brand of statesmanship.

Detailed studies of Asiatic economic resources are given by Dr. Legendre to support his assertion that the yellow race may become sellers instead of buyers unless the white race develops its commerce in every way and seeks to produce cheaply, anticipating Asiatic competition by establishing factories in Asia and by increasing production in all of Europe's colonies.

Siberian Butter.

Among the many illustrations of Asiatic resources, the author cites Siberian exports of butter that went from 35,000,000 lbs. in 1900 to 100,000,000 lbs. in 1913 and much of which was sold as "Danish" butter.

Formidable and imminent as the author deems Asiatic competition he nevertheless concedes to the white race superior working ability and greater leadership. "It must at last be realized however," he says, "that hereafter, it is Asia face to face with Europe."

"Pan Americanism is a reality," he concludes, "and the Peace Conference ingeniously did all it could to favor it, particularly on the Shantung question." This "error," Dr. Legendre says, the United States, the only champions of China, saw, and from now on "America will raise herself against any show of political immorality or spoliation."

PERMIT WORKMEN SHARE OF PROFITS

Law in Vera Cruz State Meets Much Opposition.

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 20.—A law recently passed and promulgated in the state of Vera Cruz to permit workmen to share in the profits of any industry in that state has met with much protest and threat is made that if there is any attempt to carry it into effect a general paralysis of industry will result.

The law calls for the establishment of a commission of seven, three employers and three workmen and a chairman selected jointly, in each municipality in the state which, at least once annually, shall call for the books of all industrial concerns and after a careful audit, shall name the share of the laborers. The workmen are to receive not less than 10 percent of the total net profits. No maximum is stated.

The chairman is to be named by the president of the municipality if his selection cannot be mutually agreed upon by the employers and the workmen. It is pointed out by those who oppose the law that this will almost Run district, near Pittsburgh, was wrecked, a dozen smaller buildings connected with the in-fourteen persons, nine of them convicts, injured. What is declared to have been the greatest prison riot and attempted delivery in the history of the United States. The nine convicts injured were shot by city police, county detectives and prison guards while attempting to fight their way to liberty. Virtually all of the 1,135 prisoners except always result in the naming of a workman inasmuch as virtually all the presidents of municipalities are laborers.

Divide Net Earnings.

The profits to be divided, according to the law, "will be understood to be the net earnings realized in the business, after taking into consideration the interest and the amortization of the capital invested. The interest will not exceed six percent per annum and the amortization will be adjusted according to the nature of the capital, but must never exceed 10 percent of the capital of the immovable estate."

One of the principal objections made to the law is that it is retroactive to February 5, 1917. An elaborate system of embargoes and fines is provided in the case the employers fail to comply with the orders of the commission or are discovered attempting to evade any of its findings.

RUSSIAN FOOD PRICES SOAR

Black Bread and Herrings Only For Preferred Classes.

RIGA, Latvia, Aug. 20.—Prices of foodstuffs on the Moscow market are reported steadily increasing. A pound of rye bread, early in July, could be had at from 3,600 to 4,000 rubles; beef at from 7,000 to 9,000 rubles; pork from 10,000 to 12,000; butter from 18,000 to 20,000 rubles and potatoes from 1,600 to 2,- 800 rubles a pound while eggs are sold at 1,000 to 1,200 rubles and cucumbers, one of the most popular articles of diet, at 1,000 to 1,500 rubles each.

The average wage paid in factories and to government employees, in addition to rations supplied by the state, was about 10,000 to 15,000 rubles a month.

The Moscow rations for the week, as reported by the official Pravda, were, for workmen of the preferred classes, three pounds of black bread, some herrings and small quantities of other essentials for a period of five days. Less favored citizens were allotted one pound of bread for five days and no herrings.
The wage allowed in addition to these rations would not buy a pound of butter.

The Bolshevik government, in fixing international telegraph tolls, considered 20,000 rubles as equal to one dollar.
