DOROTHY DALTON AS BROADWAY FAVORITE

Paramount Star is a Carnival Dancer in "A Romantic Adventure."

New York's night life, New Orleans in gay Carnival season, and the gaming halls of Monte Carlo mingle in Dorothy Dalton's latest Paramount picture, "A Romantic Adventure," which will be shown tonight at the Westholme Theatre. The picture was adapted from "A Winter Favorite," by Charles Belmont Davis, brother of the late Richard Harding Davis.

Miss Dalton figures as a girl with an talent for dancing that leads her to fame via Broadway and an unscrupulous, luxury-loving mother who is anxious to exploit her daughter's beauty for purposes of her own. At Monte Carlo, the mother tries to force her into a match with an Italian millionaire, but in the meantime Mr. Right has appeared on the scene and after dramatic incidents love wins the day.

The picture abounds in gay scenes, interspersed between drama of an appealing character.
