Interior News
And the Election.

Some weeks ago the Interior News, published at Smithers, came out with an editorial asking for a new Liberal convention. This week he discusses not Liberals but independents. He says in part:

"In his campaign through Skeena Colonel Peck is riding a horse with many heads, any one of which his committee can shove to the front when and to the extent that his audience justifies. In talking to the Liberals, his Liberalism is to the front; to farmers he is a free trader; to soldiers he is a soldier candidate; the independent is after his own heart and he says he always was a strong advocate of woman's suffrage. This about covers the field, but should there be anything left out and brought out suddenly no doubt the committee advocating Peck's elastic platform is quite ready to say that their candidate stands for that as well. But this skittering about in appealing to different sections and varied thoughts has gradually brought out a general belief that the Colonel stands for nothing definite, while the political complexion of his committee and platform speakers works against his claims of independence and in favor of the growing conviction that the Colonel is taking the independent route as the only possible means of again returning to Ottawa to support Meighen, the man who crucified Northern British Columbia for political gain.

Convention
Is Discussed.

"One section of Peck's committee has paid particular attention to propagating the idea that Colonel Peck was entitled to consideration at the hands of Liberals when a candidate was nominated. The News shared this view to the extent of feeling that the Colonel, or anyone else, should not have been overlooked, provided they really desired that consideration, and in no uncertain terms the News demanded a new convention. We will say it to the credit of the Liberal organization that they said: 'Yes, by all means let us have a new convention if anyone feels that an injustice has been done. The time is very short, but if you can get any other names to place before the convention, we will make it possible to have any name placed before the convention.' The News followed this with a request that Colonel Peck allow us to place his name before the convention, but faced with this development the Colonel was forced by his Meighen committee to refuse, and in so doing he alienated all support which might have been given him by Liberals who through sympathy had delayed in forming definite opinions. Colonel Peck never desired the Liberal nomination. This was proven when he delayed announcing himself as a candidate until he had piloted the Federal Minister of Agriculture through the Interior to estimate his chances of winning as a Meighen supporter. When he found he had no chance as a straight supporter of the Government, then, and only then, he was advised by Mr. Tolmie to contest the seat not as an open supporter of Meighen, but as an independent. Colonel Peck thought too much of the senatorship dangled before his eyes to accept a nomination for a party directly opposed to Meighen, but realizing that he could not pack the Government banner in Skeena he took the only way left to get back as a supporter of Meighen, and with an organization consisting of past presidents of the Conservative organization of Prince Rupert he announced himself as an independent candidate.

Hansard Tells About Independence.

"Independence is a beautiful thing theoretically, but practically it has never worked to the advantage of the district, and the record of Colonel Peck as an independent dates only from the announcement of his candidature. The Colonel is no more independent today than he was while in the House, and Hansard is the best record of his independence. The Colonel says he is a free trader, a Liberal, a soldier candidate. On every division in the House, when these principles were involved, he forgot his professions and voted solidly and consistently with Meighen, and when we see him backed by such men as Stephens, Tite, Orme, Kirkpatrick, and other leaders of the Conservative party at Prince Rupert, as well as by the Conservatives of this district, it is not hard to see that they consider the Colonel their man. Imagine O. H. Nelson supporting a Liberal, a free trader, or an independent. The Colonel is being judged by the company he keeps, and the public is assisted in forming its opinion by the statement from the Unionist headquarters at Ottawa, as published in the Vancouver Province, that in the thirteen seats in B. C. the Government has a candidate in every riding.

"To the people of Skeena district Colonel Peck is considered not as a Liberal, not as a free trader, not as a soldier candidate, nor as the independent candidate he professes to be, but as a supporter of Meighen, who knows he dare not say so."

AGAINST GAS
BOAT FISHINGRev. W. H. Pierce, President of Association, Says 2000 Indians
Will Protest Against It.

The two thousand members of the Native Fishermen's Association in the north have all agreed to protest against the using of power boats and gill nets in salmon fishing on the Skeena River next year. They fear that the fisheries on the Skeena will be depleted if this is allowed, and point to the example of the Fraser River, where it has been allowed and where the fisheries are now said to have been practically ruined. This is the report that Rev. W. H. Pierce, president of the Native Fishermen's Association, brings to the city. He was sent out by the Dominion Government to ascertain the attitude of the Indians on this question and, in the course of doing so, he has just returned from a three weeks' trip up river, having visited the Indians of Tivribes at Kispiox, Glen Vowell, Hazelton, Hazelton, Kitzeukla, Andimaul, Kitwanga, Kitwanoel, Kutselas and Kitsumkalem. Mr. Pierce says that the Government proposes the allowing of gas boat fishing on the Skeena River next year.

Strong Organization.

He speaks of the growth of the Native Fishermen's Association in the past seven years. In 1914 it was established with 48 members and its growth and influence since has been great. There are now 2000 members and the scope of the organization extends as far south as North Vancouver, including the west coast of Vancouver Island, Cape Mudge, Campbell River and Alert Bay. Three hundred new members were enrolled in the last year. Besides taking up fishery problems of the natives, it does much work in the matter of relief of distress.

Mr. Pierce is an advocate of the extending of the franchise to all Indians, including those who live in the native state on the reserves. At the present time the only ones who can vote are those not in this state. Mr. Pierce, himself a native, is one of the few Indians who are entitled to vote. He says that by depriving the natives of the vote the governments are keeping them in a state of

BRONCHIAL
ASTHMAChoking and Gasping for Breath
Relieved by "FRUIT-A-TIVES"MRS. PENNINGTON
NEW ROCKLAND, P.Q.

"In 1919, I was taken with Bronchial Asthma and no one knows what I suffered with it during the winter. I began having Choking Spells—gasping for breath and could not speak. I would have one of these bad spells in the evening, one during the night, and one in the morning. The doctor said he could do nothing for me.

"In the spring of 1920, I started taking 'Fruit-a-tives' and in a few days, the choking spells stopped, and I have had none since May 7th, 1920. I have so wanted to tell other sufferers who have the same trouble about 'Fruit-a-tives' for I know how they must suffer.

Some thought the Asthma would come back on me as winter came on but it has not, thanks to 'Fruit-a-tives.' Mrs. J. M. PENNINGTON, 50c a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size, 25c. At dealers or sent postpaid by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

Native Preacher.

Mr. Pierce is the first native preacher ever to be ordained in the north. He was a student with the late Rev. William Duncan, formerly of Metlakatla. He is the pastor of the native Methodist Church at Port Essington.

The Man in the Moon
SAYS—

OF one thing I am heartily thankful. I did not buy any German marks six months ago.

ANOTHER thing for which I am thankful is that I do not take my politics too seriously.

SOME women murder their husbands and some learn to cook after they are married—perhaps.

IT is understood the candidates for the Skeena constituency are to be asked where they stand on gum chewing, cheek to cheek dancing, midnight skating, and sky limit poker.

CONSIDERING the small amount of newspaper copy the legislature made this autumn, they might as well not have met.

Lord Curzon seems to have learned a lesson in direct diplomacy from Secretary Hughes of the U.S.

WE were all getting along very happily and now they talk of closing down the Legislature and losing a flood of bottled eloquence on an unoffending community.

IF they get in the sterilizing plant at the hospital, will they be able to kill the political bug?

ONE of the greatest problems of the day is to discover what is meant by the word "independent."

ONE of the first things that will come to mind when greeting the new engineer will be "geewhittaker!"

A COUNTRY editor is like a woman. He wants to give an opinion at the end of every story.

ON one important subject Colonel Peck has not yet expressed an opinion. He has not told us what he will do with the new postoffice site if he is elected.

HOW would it be to hire some thugs and slick Fred Stork in the big home of dirty water. That would be the only way to make him as nasty as the language of some of Colonel Peck's supporters.

HOW do they get that way?

WHY not use the old post office site as an experimental farm site? It could be easily irrigated.

IT seems hardly fair to give the candidates an equal start in this election race. Why not handicap Fred Stork and then let them go to it, so as for each to have a sporting chance?

WHAT I cannot understand is why the editors of both of the independent organs in Prince Rupert do not go on the stump for their candidate. Think of the votes they would get!

IS it true that one of the school teachers of the city holds up before the pupils certain of the box editorials as horrible examples of what not to write?
