In the Letter Box

THE LAST LETTER.

Editor Daily News:

I have read with considerable amusement Mr. Forkrud's letter which appeared in your Wednesday's issue. I really have not time to devote to Mr. Forkrud's futile literary efforts, and this is the last letter I intend to write upon this subject.

Mr. Forkrud accuses me of adopting a patronizing tone, evidently because I addressed him in the second person; but the superior attitude he adopts himself is too funny for words.

I would like to remind Mr.
Forkrud that he was the first to break into print in this campaign, in a scurrilous attack upon Colonel Peck; and later, when I took upon myself to write to the editor of the Daily News, a letter, protesting against the insidious propaganda being carried on in the columns of that paper against Colonel Peck, he had to bunt in.

Mr. Forkrud is evidently a pronounced egotist, and is peeved because others take exception to his views. He is evidently of the opinion that he alone is competent to air his political views in the press. I would like to remind him of the old proverb, "People who live in glass houses should not throw stones."

Literary Stones.

Mr. Forkrud has been throwing literary stones at Colonel Peck from the commencement of this campaign; the missiles however, were poorly aimed, and ill directed, and have failed to reach their objective.

I am accused of not dealing in facts, the following facts should prove satisfactory:

Colonel Peck's record, parliamentary and otherwise, is sufficiently well known and appreciated by the people of this constituency; it stands alone—it needs no bolstering up by his supporters, and all the carping criticism of Mr. Forkrud and his confederates will fail to harm it.

It is a record of achievement.
The Colonel is a man of action and obtains results. He is going to achieve a grand victory on December 6.

At Ottawa the Colonel no doubt found a judicious use of fact more productive of results, than a lot of oratorical hot air, and play to the gallery. We know that he delivered the goods.

Logical Turn.

Mr. Forkrud writes: "As a whole the Colonel's followers are not of a logical turn of mind etc." The following is a sample of Mr. Forkrud's logic. "As if happens we are not looking for a soldier but a statesman." When did Mr. Stork qualify as a statesman? Has he been taking a correspondence course in statesmanship, unknown to the people of this constituency? Surely Mr. Forkrud does not wish us to swallow such bunk as this.

A careful study of Mr. Forkrud's last letter suggests that "the hand is the hand of Esau,

"More Men Than Women Have Nervous Troubles"

This is the statement of a specialist on Nervous Diseases
who comes in contact with many thousands of cases. The increase in diseases of the nerves during the last five years has been enormous.

Is it any wonder that men's nerves are giving out?

Look back over the history of the last few years.

Think of the enormous burden of responsibility which has been put upon the shoulders of business executives.

The excessive mental strain.

The worry and anxiety.

The physical effort.

This has surely been great enough to break the nervous systems of the strongest men.

The war strain.

The unsettled conditions of business and employment.

These are responsible for the rapid aging of men which you notice everywhere.

You feel out of sorts.

You do not sleep well.

You find yourself losing your grip on business.

Your daily task is more than you can stand.

There is, perhaps, no organic disease.

But you find your energy and ambition pining out.

Your doctor tells you to take a rest for a few months.

But you do not want to be put upon the shelf.

Your business cannot spare you at this critical time.

Perhaps you cannot afford complete rest when living expenses are so high.

But you can take things easier.
And you can profit by the experience of others and build up your exhausted nervous system by using Dr.
Chase's Nerve Food.

This is the most rational treatment available, and is endorsed by more common-sense, reliable people than any medicine recommended for the restoration of the nervous system.

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is universally used by women as a means of restoring the nervous system. Your wife, or sister, or mother, will be able to tell you something about its remarkable upbuilding influence.

But more men than women now have nervous troubles.

And Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is no respector of persons.

It builds up new energy and strength in the most natural way imaginable by enriching the blood.

It supplies to the blood in condensed, easily assimilated form the elements which nature requires in order to replenish the depleted nerve cells and restore the vitality of the human system.

These certified letters may be from people you know. They are worth reading, anyway. For they are the honest opinion of people who have been benefited by Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. Edmanson, Bates & Co., Ltd.,

Overwork

Mr. D. F. Armstrong, R. R. No. 3, Mallorytown, Ont., writes:—
"Through overwork and an extra amount of mental strain, I became very nervous and rundown. I began using Dr.
Chase's Nerve Food, and it certainly touched the right spot. It almost seemed for a time as though I fairly lived on it, and I can recommend this treatment to anyone requiring a medicine of this kind." ("Sworn before me at Mallorytown, this 17th day of March, 1921—D. S. Clow, J.P.")

Sleeplessness

Mr. W. J. Van Dusen, Centre St., Napanee, Ont., writes:—
"For some time I suffered from sleeplessness and all the weakness and tired feelings that follow continual loss of sleep.
Gas would accumulate in my stomach, and this also caused a great deal of trouble.
Upon the advice of a friend I began a treatment of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and soon found it to be just what I required. By the time I had completed the treatment my system was in splendid condition and I felt much stronger."
(Endorsed by S. Casey Denison, Mayor.)

Rheumatism

Mr. Charles R. Tait, Newtown, Kings Co., N.B., writes:—
"I suffered with rheumatism and my stomach was in a very weak state. I could eat no fruit of any kind and suffered nearly all the time. I tried several doctors, but got no relief from any of them. I was in a drug store one day and overheard two men talking—one was telling the other about Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, completely relieving him of rheumatism. I bought a box, thinking it would be like all the rest of them, but after taking this one box, I felt so much better that I continued the treatment, and now I can eat anything and do not suffer any more with the rheumatism."
("This is to certify that I am personally acquainted with Mr. Charles R. Tait, and believe his statement is true and to my knowledge correct."—(Signed) A. S. Mace,

but the voice is the voice of Jacob.

I notice that he lapses into the plural in writing, "When we vote for Mr. Stork we grasp a very substantial shadow, etc." I can assure him that together with that shadow he will sink into political oblivion on December 6.

Saviour of World.

This man speaks of gratitude, and in seven short years he has forgotten if he ever did realize it) Belgium's true place in the history of the war, and the glorious part played by her king and people. "Saviour of the World" is not an empty phrase, and will not be soon forgotten by any true Britisher.

The freedom of the press has come to be regarded as an inalienable right, but surely there should be some means of restraining such ill-advised uter-editorial.

QUEER BEDFELLOW.

Editor Daily News:

"Politics make queer bedfellows" is an old saying and this campaign fully justifies it. Take for instance S. M. Newton and O. H. Nelson or S. M. Newton and Geo. W. Morrow working hand in hand in a political campaign. It is not so many years ago that S. M. Newton virtually drove Geo. Morrow out of Prince Rupert with his scathing attacks; there was no word in the dictionary strong enough to express his contempt.

It is only a year ago that Mr.
Newton was running as an independent candidate, O. H. Nelson in opposing him wound up a speech in the Empress Theatre with these words: "If you cannot see your way clear to vote for Capt. Forby for God sake vote for Pattullo, do not vote for an Independent." Now Mr. Newton and Mr. Nelson have joined forces to elect an "Independent?"

"Consistency thou art a jewel."

OBSERVER.

EMPHATIC PROTEST.

Without political bias, and with no reference whatever to the local political situation, as a member of this community and a fair-minded citizen of Canada I wish to voice an emphatic protest against the appearance in the public press of such sentiments as appeared last night in the editorial column of the Evening Empire, wherein the honored name of Belgium was dragged into the local controversy in a manner which, to make the most charitable allowances, was an exhibition of extremely bad taste.

To those of us who have lived in Prince Rupert long enough to be able to place a true value on the editorial utterances of the Empire the matter is of no great consequence. Unfortunately, however, a newspaper may be read by those who are not in a position to know to what extent the sentiments expressed by that paper represent truly the views of the community, and to those readers, especially to any Belgians there may be among them, I would like to give the assurance that the opinion of Mr. Newton as expressed in referring to Belgium as a "rescued land" and a "country saved from subjugation" is probably not shared by one other individ-
