

Basketball Season is About To Begin in Earnest after This Week: McMordie Cup

Great preparations are being made for the forthcoming basketball season. The entries for the league must be all in by Saturday night at 7 o'clock.

The league has to thank Lient-Col. McMordie, honorary president of the Basketball association, for the donation of a handsome trophy to be competed for by the junior boys. It was only a few days ago that it was reported the association had received offers of two cups, leaving only one league without a trophy. The Colonel lost no time in putting the association in the fortunate position of having a cup for competition in each of the four leagues as follows: Ladies Intermediate—R. E. Benson Cup.

Men's Seniors—Gilluly Cup.
Men's Intermediate—Grotto Cup (D. J. Elmer & Co., Ltd.)
Men's Junior—McMordie Cup.

The following short review of the basketball situation should prove interesting:

Men's Senior.
In the men's senior league we have last year's two great rival Sons of Canada and Elks and the champions have practically last year's team with the addition of Bob Stewart to start operation. This team should be strong favorites. The Elks however have been strengthening their weak points but have been unfortunate in losing Gorkle through an accident at practice. Still with the talent at their disposal under the guidance of Clementson, the Sons of Canada will have to travel all the way.

The third team in the senior league is the Veterans and as several of the players are strangers to each other they are taking a little longer to get under way. They have, however, the nucleus of a very good team and by means of the assiduous practice that has been going on may make their more fancied rivals look to their laurels ere the season is over.

Men's Intermediate.
The men's intermediate league is a new venture and will comprise four teams: Colts, Sons of Canada, Knights of Columbus, and Elks. The two first mentioned teams are practically last year's Colts and Beavers of the Junior League with some older members included to strengthen them up. The other two are newcomers to basketball and include some rough diamonds. These teams are making rapid strides in practice and it is difficult to predict what may happen ere the season is over although the Colts seem to be first favorites.

Juniors.
In the junior league there are the Tiny Tims, King Edward and Drydock. These boys may not have the skill and cunning of the older players but what they lack in this respect is fully counteracted by their energy and keenness. They are all old rivals, being the same combinations that comprised the junior basketball league last season. Keen competition can be looked for here with an even bet on any of the three.

Ladies Intermediate.
In the ladies league there should be some real games. Last year's undefeated champions, the Meteors, will again be in action but with their ranks sadly depleted. Only Miss Annie Kelly remaining of last year's team. Still they have great hopes of again achieving success. Their old rivals the Maple Leafs seem to have better prospects this year, especially when they have practically all last season's players to call upon and all showing improvement. Then there are the telephone girls and if all reports are true they have got together a first class team that will make all the other aggregations step lively. Their main weakness last season was on the scoring line, practically all the scoring being done by Mrs. Mobley, but for this season it is said things are different. Last but not least is the baby team of the league "Bumps" Oliver's Checkers. If the optimistic manager is to be believed this will not be by a long way the hooby team of the season.

BILLIARD TOURNAMENT.
The opening of the billiard tournament for the Trail Club Shield, will take place on Monday evening next, when the Trail Club and the St. Andrew's Club will try conclusions.

BRIDGE TOURNAMENT PRINCE RUPERT CLUB
The first round in the Auction Bridge Tournament, that is to take place this winter, between the Prince Rupert, and the Wanderers Club, was played last evening at the former club. An outstanding feature in the coming tournament, is the infusion of new blood in the auction bridge firmament. It is noted with a satisfaction that a number of the younger members of the city's clubs are taking a keen interest in the game, and that they made a particularly good showing in last evening's matches.

The following are the results:

Prince Rupert Club.

Wanderers Club.

Prince Rupert Club won by 3075 points.

SHOOTING GALLERY FOR HIGH SCHOOL USE OF THE CADETS
At the meeting of the school board last night it was decided to permit the installation of a shooting gallery at the King Edward school for the use of the cadets. Principal Brady explained that there was a place where it could be put and with it the boys could enter into competition in shooting with other places. The ammunition was supplied from Vancouver, at no cost to the board.

Principal Brady is cadet instructor and he takes a great interest in the boys.

HOUSEHOLD SCIENCE TEACHER APPOINTED

Miss Stephens of Vancouver to Take Place of Miss Marcellus For Six Months.

An appointment was made by the school board last night of Miss Stephens of Vancouver to a position as Household science instructor to relieve Miss Marcellus who is leaving at the end of the year for a six months' holiday.

Miss Marcellus has been most successful at the work and has been able to carry on not only the usual cooking and household management instruction but also dressmaking, which is really the work of a technical school. It is the hope that a teacher will be secured who will keep this work going.
