

Georges Carpentier Has Had Marvellous Career

Georges Carpentier, world war hero, idol of France and the heavyweight champion of Europe, was born in Lens, the famous little coal mining town of France, on January 24, 1894.

Of good French stock, Carpentier's parents had acquired but little of the world's goods, nevertheless little Georges was given the best education the schools of the town afforded, and early showed that he was possessed of an alert and inquiring mind.

Fought at Nine.

When the lad had reached the age of eight he came under the discriminating eye of Francois Deschamps, then lightweight champion of France, who was gymnastic instructor of the Lens schools. The master was convinced that the boy was a great athlete in embryo. In little less than a year his protegee made his debut as a bantamweight. Largely through a sporadic punch, that Deschamps discovered to his sorrow, and through the defensive tactics of Georges, the tutor began to have visions of developing a real champion.

FINE ATHLETIC PROGRAM GIVEN

Fourth Entertainment of Wallace Social Club Was Highly Enjoyable One.

This stage in the career of the future great boxer Carpentier Pere decided it was time that his son should begin to earn his living in the mines. Deschamps, pleaded with the parents and finally after offering to reimburse them for the money lost by his not working, the lad was allowed to continue under his tutelage.

Started as Amateur.

Carpentier's debut in the ring was as an amateur and he finally worked his way to but one man from the amateur championship of France at the age of thirteen. Joining the professionals the youthful whirlwind fought his way through a brilliant bunch of bantam-weights, feather-weights and light-weights in each winning the championship. Then followed an uninterrupted string of victories in the middle-weight and welter-weight classes.

Despite his success and the adulation of a hero worshipping public, Georges Carpentier remained the unassuming gentleman devoted to his parents whom he had set up in business in Lens.

Fought Wells.

In 1913 Carpentier, then 19, fought Bombardier Wells, the heavy-weight champion of England, and won in a furious battle despite the fact that he was topped in weight and size. Then came Joe Jeannelle and Gunboat Smith.

In 1914 came war and Carpentier enlisted and won many honors and since that time he has had only one light of note, that with Joe Beckett, whom he knocked out in 48 seconds.

All the sporting world is keenly interested in the battle to come off on July 2 for then Carpentier is to prove what he can do with Jack Dempsey, no less a superman than himself.

GREAT PLANS FOR BASEBALL

PRINCE GEORGE, April 23.—A Central Interior Baseball League is being planned here and there is every likelihood that it will be established. The league would likely comprise teams from Quesnel, Vanderhoof, Jasper and Prince George.

After the series in this league are completed it is planned to have the winning team play the champion coast team for the championship of Central British Columbia. The team might also take on the leading amateur baseball aggregation from the southern cities.

Baseball fans here this year have very ambitious plans and there should be a good many inter-town games.

PADDOCK SHOWN IN HIS STRIDE AND ON THE MARK.

PADDOCK IN FULL STRIDE

SHOWING POSITION AT START OF SPRINT

Charlie Paddock is shown in the pictures demonstrating his stride and how he toes the mark. Paddock is the biggest sprinter ever to hold the world's record and his appearance gives one the idea that he is a weight thrower more than a runner. His style is rather awkward but his powerful legs and the way he throws them when running is enough to convince anyone that he is the greatest sprinter that America has ever produced.

TOTTENHAM WON ENGLISH MATCH

Rustling Tactics of Wolverhampton Forced Hotspurs to Greatest Exertion.

LONDON, April 23.—The English Football Association cup final was won today by the Tottenham Hotspurs from Wolverhampton by a score of 1 to 0. Interest in the final game was so keen that the grounds at Stamford Bridge, with a capacity of 80,000, were taxed to capacity. Tottenham was the cleverest team but the bustling tactics of Wolverhampton proved at every stage of the game kept the Hotspurs on their toes. Both teams had their very best players in the field for the final.

Played in Rain.

The big game was attended by one hundred thousand spectators many of them having waited throughout the night for the gates to open despite the cold rain.

The game started in a deluge of rain which had been in progress all morning, making the grounds in a soapy condition, which hindered concerted play. The players slipped badly in the first half, Tottenham doing the most of the offensive work. The Wolves' defence was very strong although their goal was in danger several times. Dimmock scored for Tottenham eight minutes after the second half commenced.

JUNIORS PLAYED FIRST BASEBALL

Prince Rupert Athletics Made Lucky Tally Just Before Final Whistle Last Night

The two newly formed junior football teams, Prince Rupert Athletics and Wallace Juniors, had a friendly game at the Acropolis grounds last night which resulted in a victory for the former by 1 to 0. On account of the unsettled weather the spectators were rather scarce. The game was evenly contested and both sides missed some good scoring chances. It looked like the end would come with a clean score sheet, but just before time the Wallace goalie let a long shot from Roberts roll through his hands for the only count of the game, giving the Athletics a rather lucky win.

For their first game some of the boys showed clever touches and with a little coaching from some of the seniors there are

Dominion Day Set as Time when Athletes and Fans Might Go North

ANYOX, April 23.—Anyox athletic enthusiasts are hoping that this season may see a rivalry between Prince Rupert and this town. The feeling is freely expressed that a celebration day should be set when football and baseball players and other athletes could charter a steamer and spend a day here competing in games and races. Anyox is extending a hearty welcome to all and sundry, athletes and fans who would come. Dominion Day would be the time that would best suit this place and it is hoped that arrangements can be consummated to this end. The Tennis Club and the Gun Club are also looking for rivalry from the southern neighbors.

JACK JOHNSON'S GLOVES IN THE CITY

Morris Gendon Has Interesting Memento of Historic Battle With Tommy Burns.

Morris Gendon, manager of the Trail Club, has in his possession here one of the most interesting pair of boxing gloves ever seen in this part of the country. They are the gloves that Jack Johnson, the big negro heavy-weight, knocked Tommy Burns out with at Sydney, Australia, when he won the world's heavy-weight championship.

Mr. Gendon acquired the gloves some years ago when he was managing Joe Bailey, the well known Victoria lightweight, in his fight against Allen at Calgary when the former won the Canadian title.

The gloves weigh but 3 1/2 ounces and are of foreign make. One pair is large and thin to fit the large hands of Johnson while the other pair is smaller and thicker to suit the white man's hand. The gloves were used in the Bailey-Alan battle, there being no gloves to fill the requirements of the agreement for the match at the ringside when the fight was about to be started. Bailey used Johnson's gloves and administered a terrible punishment on Allen, knocking him out for two hours.

SPORT CHAT

A Junior Tennis Club is being established at Anyox. The smaller town possesses a large number of enthusiastic tennis players and some of them are very speedy. The courts near the General Office are kept busy every afternoon and evening in the summer and the whole town takes an interest in the matches. There is every possibility of the match-up of Prince Rupert and Anyox players in tournaments that could do a great deal towards arousing interest in the net game here.
