TAXATION IN TORONTO CITY

Ontario's Capital Voted in Favor of All Bylaws at Recent Election

TORONTO, Jan. 22. In addition to the election for the seventh year of Thomas L. Church, K.C., as mayor of the city of Toronto the ratepayers of the provincial capital of Ontario did some startling things at the polls on New Year's Day. They adopted a modified form of Single Tax for small houses; consented to spend $33,000,000.00 to wipe out the privately owned competition to the city and provincial power and light transmission and distributing plants from Niagara Falls, together with various "short radicals"; and declared that they wanted and would have daylight saving again next summer, although almost all the rest of the Province is contrary minded.

In fact the citizens of Toronto voted "yes" by immense majorities to all the money spending propositions placed before them. It might be said that Toronto voted for all by-laws leading towards expansion and larger public ownership. On the other hand, the proposal that the 162 "borough" of North Toronto should secede from the city was negated with considerable finality.

The partial exemption of taxes on small houses, which the City Council must now put into effect, provides for the following exemptions:

Houses of value up to $2,000 to pay taxes on only 50 per cent of assessed value (including land).

Houses from $2,001 to $2,500 to pay taxes on 60 per cent of assessed value.

Houses from $2,501 to $3,000 to pay on 70 per cent.

Houses from $3,001 to $3,500 to pay on 80 per cent.

Houses from $3,501 to $4,000 to pay on 90 per cent.

Owners of houses assessed higher than $4,000 will get no exemption.

Many critics of civic affairs are not in favor of this by-law and consider it a doubtful experiment. The city's former Finance Commissioner estimated that its adoption would reduce the city's borrowing powers by $4,000,000. Those in favor of the measure say it will result in the building of many homes for the working man.

HAD BAD COUGH FOR THREE YEARS

The constant hacking, rattling, persistent cough that sticks to you in spite of everything you have done to get rid of it, is the kind that is dangerous.

The longer the cough sticks, the more serious menace it becomes to your health. There is no remedy that will relieve coughs—coughs that won't let go—like Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup.

It has a healing and soothing action on the air passages, and at the same time acts as a disinfectant of the respiratory organs, destroying the germs that produce serious lung complications.

Mrs. John Miller, Nimburn, Alta., writes:

"I had a very bad cough for three years. I went to several doctors and tried different cough medicines, but nothing seemed to help me. One day a friend told me about Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, and after using several bottles I became completely relieved. I always keep a bottle in the house, and also recommend it to others."

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup has been universally used for over 30 years, and so great has been its success, it is only natural that a great many imitations have been placed on the market. The genuine is put up in a yellow wrapper; 3 pine trees the trade mark; price 25c, and 60c a bottle; manufactured only by The T. Milburn Co. Limited, Toronto, Ont., Can.
