BRINGING UP FATHER

BERT KERGIN PRAISES HIS CONSTITUENCY

Tells Legislature of Wonderful Atlin Country and Mentions P. G. E.

According to the report in the Victoria Colonist, Bert Kergin, member for Atlin was not quite correctly reported in the despatch which came over the wire and which was much condensed.

According to the Colonist, a good word for the Pacific Great Eastern Railway, the Government owned and operated project which has been in the past received scant praise, was voiced in the debate on the address. He expressed his pleasure at having participated in the recent legislative trip over the railway.

"A wonderful piece of work, something the people of the province agreed to and gave the then government a mandate to proceed with its construction," was the way Mr. Kergin described the railway. "Now the people have changed their minds about the road, but the Government is bound to see the project through," he stated.

Peculiar Situation. Pointing to the peculiar situation of the Atlin riding, surrounded on the north and west by a foreign territory, Mr. Kergin stated that at present access to the riding through Canadian territory could be had only in the south, and last year he had had to pay twenty per cent discount on good Canadian money in seeing his own riding, having to enter through United States territory and being forced to pay exchange on his money.

The crying need of his district is roads, he said, and he pointed to the fact that much is being said at present about a possible war between the United States and Japan. In such an event his district would practically be cut off, he said. What was imperatively required, he held, was a highway connecting the Atlin district with the rest of Canada, one from Hazelton to Whitehorse to connect with the trans-provincial highway in the south. While Atlin is essentially a mining country there are large areas of agricultural land. In the Naas River Valley there was the largest area of fine land to be found anywhere else in the Province, and there is not today even a colonization road to that section, something imperatively required if the area is to be settled.

Wage Insurance. Mr. Kergin dealt with a number of the problems confronting the people of Atlin, advocating a system of wage insurance to protect workers in industries, declaring that there had been cases where companies had defaulted in wage payments. The Government, he considered, should arrange to take a lien on a company's payroll and in case of defaultation by the company, collect for the men.

Eulogizing the scenic attractions of Atlin, Mr. Kergin declared: "You talk about Vancouver Island, and you sometimes get as far north as Prince Rupert, but you never hear of your tourist associations down here mentioning Atlin, the district, par excellence, for scenery, game and natural resources, the most consistent gold producer in Canada."

Wealth of Riding. The member for Atlin referred to the Premier mine as an example of the mineral wealth of the riding and declared that at Anyox is located one of the three biggest copper producing concerns in the world. Atlin, he averred, is one of the greatest assets the Province possesses and it would be to the interest of the people of the other portions of the Province to get acquainted with that district, which must bring in all its supplies from outside and, therefore, is a matter of importance to the business interests of the Province.
