BENEATH THE FLAG.

Thank God, we know what heritage is ours—
A fairer land God never gave to man!
From western slopes to Quebec's lofty towers,
Each foot of earth was blessed since time began.

O Canada! your sons have wrought thee glory,
And grateful nations speak thy name with pride;
Thy deeds are chronicled in our Empire's story,
For freedom's cause your youth and manhood died.
From mountain peak and lordly forest river,
They heard the voice of Freedom calling shrill
To gird the sword and go forth to deliver
The weak and helpless—they went forth with a will.
They loved their land, their lives they gave for Freedom;
Their Empire called them, with joy they sallied forth;
They died to save the world from thralldom—
Thank God, we've learned to know what they were worth!

Beneath the Flag, for which they died so proudly,
We march today with courage mounting high;
Then let our voices ring out bold and clearly,
That naught can daunt us with such men's cries nigh.
JAMES G. BRADY.

OUR FLAG.

O glorious bit of color, flung on high
To make the heart beat and the swift drops fly
To eyes unused to tears:
Flame scarlet, glimmer blue, and dazzle white!
Ye bore men's hearts within your folds so bright,
On to victorious years.

Out there, upon the bitter fields of France—
Hell-flame and thunder of the great advance—
For you they fought and fell!
For you—the emblem of all pure and high—
Grimly to struggle, do and dare—and die;
Deemed they but right and well.

Love we our Flag? Aye, each gay, gallant thread!
Did it not shelter some beloved head,
Or float above his rest?
Stream on, then, bit of color, through the years;
In you we honor—though 'mid falling tears—
Our bravest and our best!

—WINIFRED O. MARTIN.

Baseball Players Acquitted of Charges Against Them Not Be Reinstated to Game

CHICAGO, August 3.—None of the baseball players who have been acquitted of the alleged criminal conspiracy to throw the 1919 world series are likely to be restored to positions in organized baseball, Commissioner Judge Landis declares. Regardless of the verdict of the jury, he said, no player that throws a game, promises to do so, or sits in conference with crooked players and gamblers where throwing is discussed and does not tell the club about it, will ever again play professional baseball.

Of the players acquitted only Buck Weaver and Swede Risberg indicate their intention of applying for reinstatement. Failure to secure convictions is disappointing to President Ban Johnson of the American League, but he said a good lesson had been taught. The jury verdict did not minimize the magnitude of the offense, he said.

Comisky, owner of the White Sox, declared that he would have nothing to do with the acquitted men until they could satisfactorily explain their confessions to him.

FLAG DAY OFF TO GOOD START

Throngs of Children and Grown-ups Indicate Great Success of Affair.

The exercises in connection with the Elks' Flag Day started this afternoon soon after 1 o'clock. Fortunately, the rain of the morning passed over and although it was still threatening the event was enthusiastically started off. The G.W.V.A. band, pipers, Naval Brigade and Boy Scouts took part in the parade and the saluting of the flag was an impressive ceremony. Speeches were delivered by several prominent citizens.

This afternoon the big test of sport events is well under way amid the throngs of children which must run well on to the four figure mark. Truly it is Children's Day and they are availing themselves of the opportunity to celebrate with much zest. From the appearance of the crowds, one would judge that the grown-ups are enjoying the affair as much as the kiddies.
