German Bond Issue Largest on Record.

The issue of German bonds on July 4 was the largest peace issue on record. It amounted to close to three billion dollars of our own money and was for the purpose of covering the first payment on the reparations indemnity. There are two other issues to be made, the first on November 1 and the other at whatever time the reparations commission shall order.

The German bonds pay six per cent interest, one per cent of which goes to a redemption fund. The bonds go into the hands of the commission and are distributed by it. France gets 52 per cent, British Empire 22 per cent, Italy 10 per cent, Belgium 8 per cent, and the smaller states each less than one per cent.

The Wall Street Journal suggests that it will be difficult to market the bonds and that it is probable the country holding them will issue their own bonds against them, holding the German bonds in their own coffers and shouldering all the responsibility for collection.

It will be interesting to hear what Britain intends to do with her share. Possibly she may just hold them and use the interest and sinking fund in liquidating some of the debts contracted in the war.

Refunding British Debt.

It is stated in some United States newspapers that the British debt to the United States is likely to be refunded and that the President will ask authority from Congress to negotiate with that country and with other foreign powers in regard to the ten billion dollars owing to it. The plan has not yet been made public and until authority is granted by Congress nothing will be announced although a number of plans have already been considered.

As the Allies were fighting the battles of the United States as well as of other countries during the earlier part of the war and as many Americans fully realize the fact, there will probably be little opposition to any reasonable scheme. If the Irish question is settled soon it will be much easier for negotiations to be conducted with the States.

Much Smoking and Large Profits.

Cigarette makers have been making huge profits since the war, according to the United States financial journals. Tobacco has gone down in price and labor is getting cheaper. While the price of cigarettes has not dropped, the amount smoked has increased, possibly through women having taken up the habit. Since the war cigarette smoking has become very general. Manufacturers have tried to keep up the quality of the article and each smoker has his or her own favorite brands. In spite of a few well meaning reformers who look on the leaf as an agent of the Devil, there is no doubt but cigarette smoking is a habit that will endure for many a generation.

Disarmament or Naval Extension.

The Conference of Premiers seems to have been asked to agree on a permanent naval policy for the Empire. This they have refused to do. They can do nothing without the sanction of their parliaments, but as they represent the ruling section of the members of the parliaments and doubtless ere this have sensed the views of the members on this important question they should be in a position to speak with a great deal of authority.

Happily there has come into the conference a suggestion that this would be a good time to put forward a disarmament policy, and before any definite steps toward increasing the navy are agreed on efforts will be made to arrange for at least a limited program. That would give the nations a respite and allow them to catch up to some extent on their huge debts. What effect it will have on the employment situation if it is enforced, no one can foretell. The building of warships has employed many thousands of men and a good many women. There will have to be expansion along other lines in order to make up the employment deficiency. People will devote their time to manufacturing automobiles and other luxuries instead of the luxury of a navy.

Fraternalism And Secrecy.

A news despatch suggests changing the G. W. V. A. into a fraternal organization. We had always thought it was already that. It is not necessary to have a ritual and secret work in order to be fraternal. The number of secret organizations has become so increased that the secret work has lost all its attraction to many. It is a fallacy to consider that a society cannot do fraternal work without being secret. The veil of secrecy is but a crude method of attracting the childlike. The time will come when men will prefer the wider fraternalism of the world and will prefer to make their plans and conduct their operations in the open.

I continued taking that fruit medicine, improving all the time, and now I can walk about two miles and do light chores about the place."

DIRECTOR OF ALICE ARM HOLDINGS CO. ON HIS WAY NORTH

W. R. Leavens Reports Favorably on Operations of His Company in Illance Valley.

W. R. Leavens, a Vancouver shipping man and a director of the Alice Arm Holdings Limited, was a passenger yesterday on the Prince Rupert for Alice Arm where he will spend three weeks making an inspection of the activities of his company on the Bellevue and Sunrise properties in the Illance River section. At Anyox he will meet A. J. Hughes, the mine superintendent and together they will proceed to the mines.

Mr. Leavens, while in the city yesterday, reported that the operations of his company were meeting with splendid success. Their tunnel on the Bellevue Group is already in 250 feet and splendid ore is being encountered. This season it is proposed to increase the number of men on the properties to possibly 15 or 20 who will work on the Surprise and other claims as well as the Bellevue.

The company is embarking on its activities in a conservative manner and does not intend to make the mistakes that have been made by other companies in hasty and expensive development work. Already two good veins of ore have been pierced in the tunnelling and another one is now being entered which looks even better. It is expected that ultimately the Bellevue will become a good paying milling proposition.

The Man in the Moon SAYS—

A YOUNG man who is fond of going out with the girls is wondering which is the cheaper to remain single or to marry one of them. He says he would marry if he thought his wife would let him go with the other girls sometimes.

A bachelor of experience says the only way to save any money is to play poker and other little innocent amusements. It is so much cheaper than taking the girls out and it is almost as exciting.

EVERY married man believes in trial marriages. A woman is always a trial to her husband.

PRINCE RUPERT TIDES

Thursday, July 7.
 High—2:17 a.m., 22.8 feet.
 15:06 p.m., 20.8 feet.
 Low—8:49 a.m., 0.4 feet.
 21:03 p.m., 5.0 feet.
 Friday, July 8.
 High—3:05 a.m., 22.0 feet.
 15:53 p.m., 20.7 feet.
 Low—10:17 a.m., 2.2 feet.
 21:51 p.m., 1.1 feet.

The time used is Pacific Standard, for the 120th Meridian west. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours, from midnight to midnight.

The table given is for Port Simpson but the time for Prince Rupert varies only a few minutes on some days and on others is the same. The range of the tide may be computed as 5 per cent greater at Prince Rupert than at Port Simpson both at springs and neaps. Therefore the rise in the Prince Rupert harbor is slightly greater than Port Simpson.

The height is in feet and tenths of feet above the average level of lower low water.
