BRADY SPEAKS ON EDUCATION

Delivered Masterly Address Be- fore Rotary Club This Afternoon.

In a masterly address before the Rotary Club this afternoon, in the St. Regis apartment dining room, Principal Brady of the High School, urged cooperation in the part of the businessmen of the community in connection with the work of the schools. He particularly urged that when the boy left school his ideal should not be shocked by a different deal found outside the class room. The mental, physical and moral education had to be at- tended to and this could not be all done by the teacher, but the parents and the school community must help. Playgrounds were necessary and apparatus must be secured to carry out the physical work. Organized play was one of the best preventives of young people going astray.

In opening Mr. Brady stated he was glad to feel that the world was moving forward and not backward. Education was the leading factor in the develop- ment of the country. Without education for the children there could be no future success. He spoke of the value of the work of the Imperial conference on education at Winnipeg and of the urge toward co-operation be- tween parent and teacher, be- tween the people and the school and between the school board and teacher. This co-operation spell success.

Education and War.

It was necessary to set our- selves the task of looking at other men's problems. In this way success in civic life was assured. Progress today was unique and wonderful. The war showed forward the cause of education many years. It was shown that the best work in the war was done by the educated. Education was the absolute foundation for the elimination of unrest in order to avoid the social cataclysm which seemed to be eating at the vitals of society. The effect of the pres- ent cause was seen in the boys and girls.

Mr. Brady said it must be realized that the boys and girls needed 100 per cent attention in order to assure safety, progress and contentment. Many left school early and often before their characters were formed joined the mass of helpless and found themselves in a blind alley of life. Millions entered that blind alley and their chance of success was small. They were almost hopeless. The High School was the finest character building institution in the world.

"The value of the boy is known today as it never was known before," said the speak- er. The teacher takes the child and forms it as a sculptor forms the marble. There was not al- ways complete stress but with the aid of the thinking portion of the community there should be 100 per cent efficiency.
