WHITE STRIKE
ITALIAN CITIES

Workmen Slowed Down Until Almost Nothing Was Being Done.

ROME, July 18.—The recent "white strike" of the state employees of Italy produced another series of innovations in labor disputes. The workers kept their positions and nominally did not cease to work but all "soldiered on the job" to such an extent that in many cases total abstention from work would not have wrought greater damage.

The strike besides involving the ordinary employees in the state administration included the postoffice forces, which in Italy comprises both the telephone and telegraph. The employees would present themselves for work in the morning and "soldier" along with their work, getting practically nothing done until 11 o'clock, when all would leave the various ministries and offices for a labor meeting.

The whole of the state's administration would then be at a standstill for several hours, while in some cases it extended for the whole day. Besides the mass meetings, there would be local meetings in the various departments, all at the expense of time of the government.

Central Was Busy.

The greatest public inconvenience was caused by the attitude of the postal employees, including the telegraph and telephone staffs. Dismissal was threatened those who attended the daily labor meetings but that threat only partially succeeded in restoring discipline. Telephone service was practically at a standstill. Persons would attempt to get the centrals for hours and would finally give it up in despair. Occasionally a central operator would answer but there was never a guarantee that the connection wanted would be given.

The letter-carriers also participated in the "white strike." The street letter-boxes became filled too full for another letter. They were only emptied when it satisfied the whims of the man assigned for the work. The service was completely disorganized.

Premier Giolitti gave orders that all adhering to the "white strike" must be punished. Accordingly over 100 were discharged in Rome, 400 in Milan, 140 in Naples and large numbers elsewhere.

GERMANY FOR FIRM

Representative of Massey Harris Company Gets Large Sum For Big Concern.

TORONTO, July 18.—Former Finance Commissioner Thomas Bradshaw, now General Manager of the Massey Harris Co., has just carried out a neat coup which will bring a large sum of money to the treasury of the company. The money is all for German account which, when the war broke out were thought to be worthless and were written off the books. Mr. Bradshaw had to go right to Berlin, but the trip was worth while. He got all the accounts cleared up. Mr. Bradshaw is now on the ocean on his way back to Canada.

Mr. Bradshaw's work for his company was discussed in banking circles yesterday with a great deal of interest. The Massey Harris Co. is the first concern in Canada with German accounts on the books to have them cleared up and with good Canadian money.

Accompanying Mr. Bradshaw to Berlin was an officer of the Canadian Government. The Government official went to give information to the German Government regarding the large amount of money in the Canadian Treasury to the credit of German and the German Government.

Mr. Bradshaw presented his accounts at the same time with the result that the Massey Harris manager is coming back to Canada with an order upon the Dominion Treasury for the amount of his accounts which ran into a large sum.

well as the economic loss to the state of the value of the prisoner's labor. If a like amount were spent in an endeavor to help the fallen do well, as it costs to convict and imprison them, very few indeed would be sent to prison."

The foregoing paragraph in the annual report of Brig.-Gen. W. St. Pierre Hughes, superintendent of penitentiaries, is followed by one expressing the opinion that penitentiaries, through reformation, may accomplish valuable work for Canada if they are given sufficient government work and segregation. These two essentials, it is stated in the report, have been denied in Canada, though in other respects the Dominion has been well ahead of other countries in regard to prison management.

"Though but a limited amount of pay work was done at the penitentiaries during the past year," the report states, a revenue of $143,33.39 was returned to the government. If sufficient work were provided the penitentiaries could easily be made self-sustaining and wages paid to the inmates for their labor as well."

In his report, which covers the fiscal year ending March 31, 1920, the superintendent of penitentiaries points out that "penitentiaries are now fast being regarded as industries—factories to manufacture government material and to remake men. From depraved, neglected, diseased and crooked materials received, their object is to turn out, as their product, good citizens, reformed and fully qualified to take their places in the world of work."
