DAILY EDITION. Thursday, March 17, 1921.

Canada Should Cultivate States.

Visitors to the United States bring back word of a feeling of irritation that seems to exist in some quarters against the British. This has been faithfully fanned by the enemy countries during the war and by the still more insidious Hearst press.

War Unthinkable Between Countries.

War between the United States and Great Britain is unthinkable. We are very largely of the same blood, have the same aims, the same civilization pervades the two countries and we should be able to carry on side by side without any trouble.

There is no danger of war between the countries today. There should be no friction and no ill-feeling between the countries. We have no cause to be irritated at the people of the United States and we know of no reason why they should be irritated at us.

It may be some day, when we get big enough that we may annex the United States to Canada, but that will be many years hence, but in the meantime the Yankees need not fear any onslaught from this side of the line.

Pattullo is Under Serious Charge.

Hon. T. D. Pattullo is under a shadow. He is the object of a serious charge in the Legislature. The leader of the opposition makes the allegation that the member for Prince Rupert is trying to obtain special favors for his constituency.

We have no intention of coming to the assistance of the local member for he can fight his own battles. Honestly we fear he is guilty and that he may have to admit it.

Sense of Humor Very Valuable.

Have you a sense of humor? If you have not, you miss a great deal out of life. Humor rounds off the jagged corners that are apt to hurt. It disarms an enemy and binds closer a friend.

Without any irreverence we can quite easily imagine the Great Ruler of the Universe chucking at some of the antics of the human family in their efforts to be serious.

Life may not be a joke, but if we are able to see the funny side of serious matters it takes off much of the poignancy of what might otherwise be poisoned arrow thrusts.

HEARS VOICES LONG DISTANCE

A. L. Hawkins of Winnipeg Claims to Have Wonderful Telepathic Powers

WINNIPEG, Man., Mar. 17.—Through the use of telepathy and concentration, A. L. Hawkins, of this city, claims it is possible not only to speak to, but to see persons, objects and places, regardless of distance.

Mr. Hawkins is a returned soldier and the strange influences which beset him, and by turns oppress, uplift or worry him, have been felt most strongly since his return from the war, where he served three years. The most definite manifestation of this development is the ability to hear, and, Mr. Hawkins firmly believes, to transmit the human voice over interminable distances, even interplanetary distances, without mechanical aid.

"This is not a theory with me," Mr. Hawkins stated recently, "it is an actual experience. I have distinctly heard people talking together at a distance—a distance far beyond earshot. I mean—as distinctly as though I had my ear to a telephone. I can receive voices, and I can transmit them, not in the manner of ordinary telepathic impressions which the recipient himself translates into words, but as definite sounds in the ear. I claim more—I can transmit the music of specific instrument so that the person or persons with whom I have made arrangements will be able not only to hear the tune, but to discern and to say what instrument is playing."

FEED SUNFLOWERS TO ALBERTA CATTLE

C.P.R. Experimental Farm Use Weed with Good Results

CALGARY, Alta., Mar. 17.—If the forecast of several dairymen and stockgrowers is realized, Alberta in the near future will be known as the "Sunflower" province. The dairymen and stockgrowers who visited the Canadian Pacific Railway experimental farm at Strathmore are of the unanimous opinion that after seeing the manner in which the cattle there have come through the winter on this particular feed, that an enormous impetus will be given to the cultivation of this plant.

In the opinion of those who have used this silage it only requires the publicity of facts already achieved to induce every stock grower in the province, and indeed through the west, to make it his principal winter feed for cattle, more especially in those sections which are subject to drought.

"It will undoubtedly go a long way towards solving the feed problem of the west," stated E. S. McRory, manager of the western division of the United Grain Growers' Company, in commenting upon this matter. "It is certainly well worth the while of every farmer giving it his most earnest attention."

MANY TELEPHONE AND TELEGRAPH WIRES WERE CUT

DUBLIN, March 16. (p.m.)—The telephone and telegraph wires have been cut on an extensive scale during the last 24 hours, causing a suggestion that some movement on a large scale is being arranged.

A constable was shot dead in North Kerry and a woman, into whose house the body was taken, died of shock.

Ten Years Ago in Prince Rupert

March 17, 1911 Good progress is being made with the work on the Canadian Fish & Cold Storage Co.'s plant at Seal Cove.

Replying to a request that the telegrams sent to Acting Mayor Smith for the assistance of the Rainbow in connection with the strike of the street workers be produced, Mayor Manson last night told Ald. Pattullo that it was his own private business and not a public matter.
