Says Provincial Government
Not to be Forced Give Waterfront for Cow Bay.

Letter from Hon. T. D. Pattullo on the Cow Bay question, which might lead to the table of the city council. The letter was in reply to the letter sent to the provincial government in which the city council accepted 300 feet of waterfront in lieu of its rights in Cow Bay in case decided to close the bay. A letter Mr. Pattullo stated appeared like an attempt to get the G. T. P. or the provincial government to give waterfront, speaking frankly, the city said the city would get waterfront from the provincial government on any such basis. The city always be willing to discuss the city council on the subject of the issue. There was some desultory discussion of the consensus of opinion of the council board seeming that the council should stick to its guns.

HALIBUT IS SELLING SLOW

Ample Supply Offering Today
Brings Price Down
to 8c and 9c.

Including yesterday's arrivals and more which came in last night and this morning, there are twenty-seven halibut schooners marketing their catches at the Fish Exchange today. The market is practically glutted and with such a plentiful supply prices are away down to 8c and 9c for first class which was paid for several carloads bought before 2 o'clock this afternoon. At that time the sale was still going on, although some of the buyers having bought what they wanted had left the exchange to start unloading the catches they had purchased.

The following are the new arrivals since yesterday:

Senator, 19,000 pounds; Washington, 27,000 pounds; Cape Spencer, 6,000 pounds; Ethel June, 18,000 pounds, and Flattery, 6,000 pounds.

BODY OF DYKE RECOVERED AT
FOOT OF LADDER

Unfortunate Man Had Evidently Lost Footing in Going to Dredge.

The body of the late Herbert B. Dyke, which was recovered yesterday after having been missing since Christmas, was found shortly after noon yesterday by Diver Richard Gammon, who was assisted in the search work by Alfred Swanson. It was in 60 feet of water, below a ladder leading down in front of the Rupert Marine Ironworks plant. At 2.50 the news of the discovery was telephoned to the police station and Warden Bailey was despatched to the scene. The body was terribly decomposed after its two months' submersion and identity was only established by means of possessions found in the clothing, including a gold watch engraved "H.B.D." and letters bearing the name. The sum of $203 cash was also found in the clothes.

It was suspected that Dyke might have met his fate at this point, for the dredge on which he worked was tied up on the night of the disappearance at the place. As had been established by the police, Dyke was wearing his working clothes when the tragedy overtook him.

Funeral arrangements are in the hands of the B.C. Undertakers and U.S. Consul E. A. Wakefield has communicated with a brother in Seattle for instructions as to the interment. The $200 reward offered for the recovery goes to Diver Gammon and Captain Swanson.

Edmonton Insurance Man Writes
Agents' Delegates Will Pass
Through This Summer.

The secretary of the Board of Trade is in receipt of a letter from J. W. Glenwright, managing director of the Commercial Life Assurance Co., telling of an agents' convention that is to be held in Victoria next summer and to which it is proposed eastern delegates will come by way of Prince Rupert where a stopover of at least one day will be made. Mr. Glenwright, who was here last summer, arrived at Prince Rupert to make connection with the Prince George on the trip she hit in Seymour Narrows and had to go into the local dry dock on reaching here. "The tie up at Prince Rupert," says Mr. Glenwright, "proved the pleasantest part of our holiday and all others of the party that we subsequently met in Vancouver, Victoria and Seattle expressed themselves likewise. It might be of some advantage to Prince Rupert to induce people to stop over a day or two when making this trip."

Member for The Pas Would

Amendment to MacKenzie King's Amendment in Commons Supports Charge that Administration
No Longer Has Confidence of Country

OTTAWA, March 1.—A resolution moved in the House of Commons by J. A. Campbell, The Pas, which virtually calls for an adjournment of the House after supply is voted and a general election immediately after redistribution, is an amendment to the Mackenzie King amendment in the House of Commons. The resolution calls for a redistribution measure to be passed as soon as possible after the census figures are available and supports the charge in the King amendment that the administration does not hold the confidence of the country.

The King amendment asks for an election immediately instead of waiting for the redistribution bill which usually follows the taking of the census.

Bowser Criticizes
Moderation Bill

Declares Powers Vested in Interdict
Authority Capable of Abuse; Does
Not Like Meaning of Word
"Sealed Package"

VICTORIA, March 1.—Declaring he could have no confidence in any Government appointment to the liquor commission, W. J. Bowser in the Legislature yesterday criticized the liquor bill.

The clause which empowers specified authorities to interdict a permit holder for violation of the law and then if seen fit to cancel the interdict, he condemned, declaring it capable of much abuse. He said the Conservatives had no intention of discussing politics in the discussion of the bill but said it was the duty of every member to make the bill as perfect as possible.

Mr. Bowser criticized the Government's definition of the word "sealed package" as meaning bottle, jar, or barrel, as too wide. He dealt with what he described as the bootlegger and American permits and denounced them. He attacked the Government for the proposal to have the entire control of the commission and not allow the Legislature a word about its personnel.

Another clause which came under denunciation was the one allowing the giving of special permits for the consumption of liquor in public places.
