ROBBERY OF VAULT

Eight Bandits Stage During Theft From Safety Deposit Boxes in Chicago Building

MUCH MONEY TAKEN

Took Eight Hours For Thieves to Extract Between $520,000 and $500,000

CHICAGO, Sept. 9.—While their guards held ten occupants of the building captive for 18 hours, eight bandits drilled their way through 15 inches of steel plate and made a clean getaway at the week-end with the entire contents of 350 safety deposit boxes of Cook & Co. While the exact amount of money that was taken could not be estimated until holders of the safety deposit boxes had checked up their losses with the management of the company, it was believed that between $250,000 and $500,000 in cash was taken. The money represented the savings of a neighborhood and of many persons who were keeping cash instead of depositing their savings in the banks.

Entrance to the safety deposit box section was made by drilling through the ceiling and thence through the armor-plated vault. By 4 a.m. the next day the job had been completed, every box in the place had been ransacked and the bandits made a leisurely getaway in automobiles. The occupants of the premises then notified the authorities.

FAMILY ON WAY NORTH

Los Angeles Flying Party Enjoys Stay at Edmonton—Four in One Plane

Off to Jasper

Head of Family May Make Winter Flight to Great Bear Lake

EDMONTON, Sept. 9.—The Flying Hutchinson family now somewhere around Greenland on a transatlantic flight, isn't the only flying family in the business.

Just for instance, take Wayne S. Fisher, Mrs. Fisher and their two sons, Dana, 14, and Wayne, jr., 11. They soared down on Edmonton airport at noon in the course of a vacation tour of the west by air and next morning they took off again in their cosy Travelaire cabin airplane headed for Jasper.

The Flying Fishers went one day from Edmonton to Henry House. The next morning they "sight-saw" over Jasper Park from the air and returned to Edmonton, landing at 11:00 a.m. After lunch in Edmonton, they set out for Lethbridge, intending to take some films of the Wainwright buffalo before heading toward the southern city.

Wayne Fisher, senior, prominent Los Angeles financier, is chief pilot of the party, but all the family take turns at the controls.

"Yes, everybody takes turns," Mr. Fisher told the Journal when interviewed at the Macdonald. "Even Wayne junior. While we were up over the Sierra Nevada Mountains he did the flying while I took the pictures."

"Mrs. Fisher," he said, "is a real flier—or she used to be before I made her jump out once."

He smiled at his wife, and related the history of her jump.

Wife Bails Out

"We were up over the Appalachians on another trip in the east," he said, "when something went wrong with the motor. I saw there was going to be a crash, so I just kicked her out. She won her Caterpillar pin but she injured her spine. Mrs. Fisher, you see, was only 200 feet off the ground and the parachute just opened when she hit."

"So now," he said, "she doesn't like mountain flying so much."

"It was pretty rough coming over from Cranbrook to Calgary," he said.

"It certainly was," said Mrs. Fisher. "One place we lost about 1,500 feet in five minutes—and I don't care so much for thrills, any more."

She explained that she found their aeroplane very comfortable. "It is really just like a little house," she said. "We all have seats and there is a cot we can sleep on."

Asked the reason for his flight, Mr. Fisher stated that it was partially to learn about Canada.

"Recently I have been handling a number of Canadian securities," he said, "and I thought it was about time I came up to see Canada for myself. I'd like to stay longer, but the boys have to get back to school."

"How are Canadian securities regarded in Los Angeles?" Mr. Fisher was asked.

"The people have great faith in them," he answered. "We've been having a lot of trouble with our own banks, and your banks have a splendid record. I myself, have been doing a lot of business with the Canadian Bank of Commerce by means of its Los Angeles' branch."

"The Alberta bonds are highly thought of, and so are the Dominion bonds. In fact, most people would rather have them than state bonds—that is with the single exception of British Columbia. She didn't balance her budget and that has made B. C. bonds move a little slower."

"How do you like Canada?" "We certainly do like it. We stayed at Banff and Lake Louise for three days and the boys had a wonderful time. I think that our biggest thrill was in swimming in the pool there while it was snowing."

"You should come up some time and see what winter is."

"We would certainly like to," said Mrs. Fisher. "How cold does it get to be?"

"Well, it has been down past 30 below."

"I think I'll stay in California then," said Wayne junior, with a mock shudder.

"I think you'd like it, son," said Mrs. Fisher. "Of course it has one big advantage—you must be able

IS NAMED INSPECTOR

Staff Sergeant Alex McNeill Appointed to Take Charge of Police Division

Official notification was received at provincial police headquarters here today of the permanent appointment of Staff Sergeant Alex McNeill, for the past seven years chief of the Prince Rupert district detachment, to take charge of "D" Division of the police with headquarters here. While it was not definitely stated, it is understood that Staff Sergeant McNeill will be elevated to the rank of inspector.

Inspector T. W. S. Parsons, for some years in charge of Vancouver Island division, has been appointed assistant commissioner in place of Assistant Commissioner Dunwoode retired and he will arrive here on Sunday night from the south for a visit to this division on official duties. Inspector Parsons was formerly stationed here.

Born in Victoria, Staff Sergeant McNeill is believed to be the first native son ever to become an inspector of the provincial police. He joined the force 1 year ago as a guard for prisoners at South Fort George under Inspector W. R. Dunwoode, later assistant commissioner. With promotion coming rapidly owing to his efficient work, the new inspector became a full-fledged constable and for a short time was at Kamloops and later at Fernie. He then returned to Prince George and became corporal and sergeant. After five years at Prince George, he came to Prince Rupert seven years ago to take charge of the district, a few years ago being promoted to the rank of staff sergeant.

The appointment of Inspector McNeill in charge of the division is retroactive as from September 1. He succeeds Inspector John Macdonald, who has been transferred to Nelson.

The new inspector will have the hearty congratulations of many friends on his well-deserved advancement.

There is no word yet as to who will be new district chief in succession to the new inspector.

to get warm much easier than we can keep cool."

Mr. Fisher was greatly interested in Great Bear Lake, and stated that he hoped in future to be able to make a winter trip up the Mackenzie.

"I don't know how long it'll be until I can make it, but I would certainly like to see that country," he said.

Go North in Summer
"We've talked a great deal about getting pontoons for our aeroplane and making a trip north of Edmonton next year," said Mrs. Fisher. "But we shall certainly return—somehow."

"I think," she added, "that everyone has been wonderful to us, Captain Bell at the airport in particular. Everyone has made us feel as though we were old friends and not just more American tourists," and she smiled goodbye as she herded Dana and Wayne up to bed.

in a nervous, run-down condition and that a lack of physical development would have caused nervous and melancholia which might have actuated suicide.

New Angle to Case

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., Sept. 8.—The suicide of Paul Bern, moving picture executive, at Los Angeles this week produced another mystifying angle yesterday when George G. Clarken, Los Angeles life insurance man and Bern's financial adviser, said here that Bern was married ten years ago and never divorced from a woman who is now a mental incompetent in a New York sanitarium.

Now She Disappears

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 9.—Dorothy Millett, possibly the woman named in the Paul Bern suicide, disappeared Tuesday night from a river steamer between here and Sacramento, leaving her luggage in her cabin, police were told today by F. J. Oliva, jr. of Oakland, ticket agent for the River Lines.

Whether this was the same Dorothy Millett named in Bern's will as "my wife, Dorothy Millett," could not be definitely determined. The register of the Plaza Hotel here showed the signature of "D. Millett, New York City" among the registrations for May 4, the hotel stating that she left on September 6, the day after Bern's suicide.
