ging operations in the Sacramento River and search along the shore for trace of Dorothy Millett, mystery woman in the Paul Bern suicide casc, who is believed to have committed suicide by leaping over oard from a river steamer between San Francisco and Sacramento early last Wednesday morning af ter having left her cabin and removed a light lace nightgown which was found on deck. Miss Millett believed to have been the first and undivorced wife of Bern who was married on July 2 last to Jean Harlow, platinum blonde screen star. Reports are also being investigated that a woman resembling Miss Millett has been seen around Hollywood. The San Francisco Examiner reports that in a handbag found with Miss Millett's other effects in her deserted cabin was discovered a letter from Bern directing her to a hotel in San Francisco and expressing the hope that she would be happy and comfortable there.

Meantime, reports from Los Angeles stated that Miss Harlow was again in collapse following a second interview with Henry Bern. brother of the dead moving picture executive, who is seeking to establish some motive for his brother's rash act. Miss Harlow was reported to have still insisted that there had been no quarrel between her-Mrs. R.F., Quebec. self and Bern.
