PRINCE GEORGE DEFEATS ANYOX

Smelter Boys Were Unable to Handle Imported Players on Prince George Lineup.

Anyox was badly beaten at baseball yesterday afternoon by Prince George in the second of the games for the championship of Northern British Columbia the score being 12 to 2. The boys from up the line scored in every inning but the first and proved their superiority over the northern visitors. Prince George had several strong imported players on the team who would have made an impression even in organized leagues. Anyox was, therefore, up against a tough proposition.

There were three pitchers called in for the losers but none of them were able to hold the Prince George batters. Jimmie Ferguson, who made such a good showing against Prince Rupert on Wednesday, pitched six innings for Anyox, Kilpatrick part of the seventh and Cody, for the balance of the game. Anyox made her runs in the sixth and eighth frames, the first off hits and the second through an error.

C. C. Clementson was umpire of balls and strikes, Ben Self, bases.

A doubleheader between Prince George and Prince Rupert and Anyox and Prince Rupert is scheduled for this afternoon.

DEER SEASON OPENS TODAY

Between 100 and 125 Gun Licenses
Have Been Already Sold by Government Agent.

The deer hunting for this season opens today and will continue until December 15. Duck and geese shooting commenced last Saturday and will be permissible until September 25. Already between 100 and 125 gun licenses have been sold by Government Agent J. H. McMullin, which exceeds last year at the same time. Today there was quite a rush for permits and indications are that there will be more hunters than ever this fall. Several week-end parties are planning to leave this afternoon or this evening on the first hunt of the season.

Sport Chat

Vernon Casley, formerly manager of the Empress Hotel here, has sent the following clipping from a San Francisco paper to Ben Self. It will prove of interest to local boxing fans in telling of the activities of Ghet Neff, the clever lightweight who is well known to all patrons of the fistie art in the city: "Ghet Neff and young Papke furnished some fireworks. Papke had a distinct edge until the middle of the third round. At this point Neff went to shake hands for some reason and Papke hit him. Then it was busy your own dead. Neff opened up like a tornado and won a draw decision by his fury in the fourth canto. They don't put on many fights like this one. Three thousand men, women and children stood upon their chairs and screamed." Neff was boxing a preliminary on a bill recently staged at Vernon, California.

KITIMAAT FOOTBALL TEAM BANQUETED

Rev. E. A. Couldey of Kitimaat entertained the football team from that village to dinner at the St. Regis Cafe last night. There was a short toast list and the affair proved very enjoyable. Mr. Couldey and the boys will return to Kitimaat on Monday. They won the Exhibition Cup this year by defeating Port Simpson yesterday. An interesting feature of the game was that every one of the six goals scored by Kitimaat were made by Timothy Starr, the centre forward.

E. E. CAMPBELL SENDS GREETINGS TO FRIENDS

Would Like to Be Here For Power Boat Race with Local Boats.

In sending in a renewal of his subscription to the Daily News E. E. Campbell, formerly mine superintendent at Anyox and now general superintendent of the United Verde Extension Mining Co., Arizona, writes as follows: "Since coming to this country your paper has been a great source of interest to me as it keeps me in touch with all of my old friends and interests in the North. I surely miss many of the congenial friends I have in Prince Rupert and would again like to drop into the Prince Rupert Club and say 'hello' to you all.

"Copper production is in a very poor condition in this country at the present time. Every mine of any importance in the state is now closed down, with the exception of the Miami Copper Company. However, the majority of these unproducing companies are in very good financial condition and all will be able to tide over the period of depression which exists at present.

"I wish I could be with you during Exposition week and again compete for the power boat trophy. I understand, however, that the boat I left behind in Anyox will again compete for the honors.

"With kindest regards and best wishes to all my northern friends, I am,

"Yours very sincerely,
E. E. CAMPBELL,
General Supt.

ARE your customers giving fish its customary place in their daily diet? up to you to influence their appetite, and thus increase your fish sales.

Do you know that—CANADA USES LESS THAN TWENTY POUNDS OF FISH PER HEAD EACH YEAR, whereas Great Britain consumes 58 pounds, Norway about 75 pounds, countries bordering on the North Sea vary from 40 to 60 pounds, and Japan 200 pounds or more per capita each year.

You being directly in touch with the consumer have the great opportunity of increasing fish sales and thus helping, to a paramount degree, one of Canada's greatest industries.

FACILITIES FOR MOTOR BOATING

Hundreds of Points of Interest in Neighborhood and Fine
Launches.

Motor-boating takes the place of motoring in Prince Rupert. We are somewhat short on roads but we have limitless waterways and the use of a launch brings unlimited delight to hundreds of Prince Rupert's inhabitants.

There seems no limit to the number of trips a launch may make here. Those who have been around Kaien Island, or to Kloyah River and lakes, or to any of the other inlets in that neighborhood, will wish nothing better for an outing. Shawatlans Lake attracts many, and it is surprising how few have gone to the head of Tuck's Inlet and caught crabs in the shallows at low tide.

Wonderful Tugwell.

Tugwell Island is a wonderful place. Not only is the beach a delightful resort for picnickers but the interior of the island is open park land with stunted trees growing in picturesque forms. On the outside is a famous rock alone on the beach over twenty feet high with a tree growing out of the top. Everywhere are curious things to be seen.

A short distance beyond is Lucy island, fair as a maiden and with a very fine inlet on the farther side. As a holiday resort it is perfect.

Digby Island has many fine bays that invite the camper, while the mouth of the Skeena, Port Edward and a dozen other resorts are all nearby.

Hundreds of Points.

Those who wish to go farther can find hundreds of places of interest where they obtain fishing or hunting or may simply admire the scenery and find new points of interest to admire.

There are few places so well fitted for motor boating as is Prince Rupert, and most of the places are well protected against ordinary breezes or sudden squalls.

The motor boating of the port is gradually developing. There are more boats here than have ever been here before and the quality is gradually improving.

ROD AND GUN IN CANADA IMPROVED

Magazine Published at Woodstock, Ontario, is Fine Publication.

"Rod and Gun in Canada" with the September number comes out in new guise, printed on better paper and with a better appearance throughout. The publisher, W. J. Taylor of Woodstock, Ontario, announces that during the war many similar publications had to be dropped owing to increased costs. Rod and Gun in Canada survived and is now entering on a new phase of existence.

In the number just to hand there is an interesting article by E. H. Kitto, who was here lately and who gave a long interview to the Daily News. Mr. Kitto is a keen observer and tells an interesting story of his travels in the far north, down the Mackenzie River.

Bryan Williams, formerly game warden for British Columbia is writing a series of articles, there is a story of Bonnycastle Dale, formerly of British Columbia as well as all sorts of outdoor yarns and articles that should appeal to the hunter and the lover of outdoor life generally.
