GOVERNMENT LIQUOR IS LIABLE TAX

Mr. Henry Drayton, Minister of Finance, says will not affect Purpose

OTTAWA, May 21.—The minister of finance, Mr. Henry Drayton, has today in the House of Commons, announced the question of the liability of the provinces of British Columbia for taxation of the provincial liquor stocks.

Mr. Henry Drayton, minister of finance, admitted that the liquor business in the province would be an ordinary trade, but would be liable to the payment of a license. He pointed out that the additional taxation would not interfere with the functions of the liquor trade in the provinces of British Columbia and Quebec, and that the governments were not in business to make money. He stated that the liquor business was most seriously subject to the new tax in this year's budget.

One Big Unionists Howl Down Moore Winnipeg Meeting

WINNIPEG, May 21.—Tom Moore, president of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, was howled down by One Big Union sympathizers at a meeting here last evening.

Moore abandoned the meeting alleging that the One Big Union was hampering the cause of labor with dissension from its ranks at the time that unity was most needed.

He characterized the conduct at the meeting as typical of the policy of the One Big Union. They were living on the efforts of the trades unions and were seeking to get something for nothing.

COAL MINERS SETTLEMENT

Plans Again Under Way for Settlement—Fifty-First Day.

LONDON, May 21.—The British mine owners have reported that a new plan had been brought forward which may result in the settlement of the miners' strike which this morning entered upon its fifty-first day. The details have not yet been divulged but it is believed that a suggestion is being made whereby wages would be governed by the cost of living.

ADMIRAL SIMS GETS FURTHER BRITISH HONOR

Is Most Honored American Officer in Great Britain—Canadian Born

LONDON, May 21.—When Rear Admiral Sims, of the United States Navy and former commander of the American naval forces in the war zone, arrives in England tomorrow he will receive the degree of Doctor of Laws at Cambridge University.

Rear Admiral Sims is the recipient of more official honors in Britain than were ever before extended to a naval officer of the United States. He is a member of the Grand Cross Order of St. Michael and St. George, this honor having been conferred upon him by King George in 1918. He was also offered the Distinguished Service Medal in 1919 but this he declined.

The honors given Admiral Sims by Britain are in a measure appropriate for he was born in Port Hope, Ontario, so is a Canadian by birth. His co-operation with the Grand Fleet of Britain in the latter days of the war is well known.
