

GREAT SAVING MADE BY USING THE CANAL

Already the Panama Canal Has Justified Its Existence in Saving of Costs.

NEW YORK, Nov. 24.—The saving effected by ships using the Panama Canal has more than justified the hopes of the government in undertaking its construction. The following facts speak for themselves: In pre-war days the cost of maintaining a freighter in commission was approximately 40 cents per net registered ton per day. Thus a 10,000-ton steamship cost for maintenance about $4000 a day. Its average speed was 250 knots a day. On the trip from New York to San Francisco there is a saving of 32 days. With such a ship this extra distance would cost, on the basis of pre-war prices, $33,000. On the basis of present prices it would cost about $50,000. The vessel, by using the canal in pre-war days, paying $1.20 per net registered ton, or $12,000, saved its owners, or charterers, $21,000. On the basis of present day prices, the savings amount to nearly $38,000. If, as is now planned, the coastwise shipping using the canal is exempted from the payment of tolls, a 10,000-ton steamer will save $12,000 every time it passes through the canal in tolls, and at least $38,000 in distance eliminated.

Sport Chat

With the weather lightening up again and the cold snap showing signs of continuing, skaters are beginning to work up a good deal of enthusiasm. Yesterday afternoon being the weekly half holiday there was a large number who visited the Salt Lakes, many of them for the first time this season. They found the ice in splendid condition and enjoyed the afternoon. Since the nights are so dark, few are going over in the evenings but, if the cold weather keeps up till the end of the week, there will be big crowds there on Saturday afternoon and Sunday. The city officials hope to have the Morse Creek pond ready for the next cold snap after this one.

Tonight the Prince Rupert and Wanderers Club will meet in the first solo match of the winter series for the Peak Shield, now held by the Prince Rupert Club. Hazardous a guess before the series, one would imagine that the Prince Rupert might have the advantage at solo for that game has practically been unknown in the Wanderers' Club for some months while it has been played a good deal in the Prince Rupert. However, some of the Wanderers' men have been having some outside practice at the game and they may be able to put up better competition against the Prince Rupert than is generally expected. The Wanderers' players will be as follows: W. H. Vickers, J. H. Hilditch, W. O. Fulton, T. Trotter, H. F. Wearmouth, E. A. Donohoe, J. D. Allen, George Shaw; reserves, R. H. Shockley, J. F. Hutchinson and Dr. J. P. Gade.

There is still hope for the continuation of the Senior League basketball games this winter despite the turn affairs took last week with the withdrawal of the Great War Veterans from the running. The Sons of Canada and the Elks will play their regular fixture tomorrow night and as soon as the game is over there will be a meeting of the Basketball Association and all Senior League players in the Sons of Canada rooms in the Days Block. The purpose of the meeting will be to arrange, if possible for the putting of a third team in the running to take the place of the Great War Veterans. What action may be taken is uncertain as yet, but the officials of the league seem quite hopeful that matters will be fixed up suitably at the meeting. There is no question of the fact that the dropping of the Senior League from the schedule would affect the sport seriously, and especially the finances of the Association.

SHOT HIMSELF

Gun Went off Accidentally and Both Barrels of Shot Entered Leg.

VICTORIA, Nov. 24.—While out hunting at Lost Lake, Arthur Allison, aged 19 years, residing on Brett Street, Saanich, was badly wounded when the shotgun he was carrying went off, blowing off one of his thumbs and the shot lodging in his right thigh.

He had tied up the boat from which he was shooting ducks beneath the railway trestle which runs across a part of the lake, and it was while he was climbing to the top of the trestle dragging his gun behind him that the trigger must have caught on a projecting obstacle, both barrels discharging.

Young Allison's cries attracted the attention of Monty Simmonds, a rancher, living near by. Thinking someone was drowning Simmonds ran to the trestle and discovered Allison whom he conveyed to his home, staunching the blood pouring from a ghastly wound, and then hurried him in his motor car to the Royal Jubilee Hospital where immediate attention was given to him.

A peculiar coincidence in the case is the fact that at the beginning of the hunting season Allison and a friend named Greenwood were at the 12-Mile Post, on the Malahat Drive, when Greenwood shot a hunter named Burton. Both Allison and Burton are now in adjoining beds at the hospital.
