

TERRACE is a thrifty, growing town. The chances are good that oil will be struck in the immediate vicinity, as seepages have been found, much ground has been staked and a drilling outfit is on its way there. We offer for sale eighty acres of land, 1 1/2 miles from the town on a good road at $12.50 per acre. This is your opportunity to participate in the enhanced real estate values that will surely follow the growth of Terrace.

SWIMMING FOR THE SCHOOLS

Scheme Discussed by Rotary Club Today and Committee Appointed.

At the meeting of the Rotary Club today a committee was appointed to interview the school board and city council to see if they would pay half the cost of building a swimming tank in the Booth Memorial School provided the Rotary Club raised the other half. Colonel McMorris gave a rough estimate of the cost, which would be approximately $5000. It was pointed out that this would be of great advantage to the children of the city, and might also be used evenings by adults. It was, however, from the point of view of the children chiefly that the club was acting.

There was a long discussion, during which a larger down town swimming club was mentioned, and it, too, will be further discussed at a subsequent meeting of the Rotary Club.

ALICE ARM

At a public meeting of citizens held last week it was decided to petition the provincial government for an extension of the wing dam on the Kootenai River and a bridge over the mouth of that river. It is requested that the work be done this winter. The government is also to be asked for information regarding the Dolly Varden railway and the prospects for its operation. The petition has already been forwarded to Victoria, signed by sixty citizens.

The operators of the Esperanza Mine are still busy doing development work which will be continued all winter. It is expected that considerable ore will be developed before spring.

Rev. J. B. Gibson, of Anyox, held Anglican services here last week.

J. M. Morrison has received a big consignment of vegetables from the Naas Valley. It includes beets, potatoes, turnips, cabbage and parsnips, all of high quality.

PUSHED HER SONS OVER STEEP CLIFF INTENT TO MURDER

One Was Drowned and Other Happily Escaped From Fiendish Mother.

PARIS, Nov. 23.—A woman who is accused of having thrown her sons over the cliff into the sea appeared before the court of assize of Finistere, Brittany, yesterday. Beside her first crime, she is accused of having attempted to destroy her eldest son in the same way in the same place. Her name is Louise Niquet. She is the widow of a shipping clerk. The dead child was 8 years old, the boy who escaped 13.

After the war the mother received an offer of marriage from a ship's captain. Mme. Niquet told him, first, the lie that her youngest son was not hers, but belonged to her late husband by another woman.

Danced and Sang.

In April, 1918, she took her son from school and brought him, says the accusation, to a deserted and beetling cliff at Fox Point, near Finistere. There she is alleged to have pushed over the cliff, who fell sheer into the tumbling waves below. One month later the body was washed up on the shore. Mme. Niquet, having told no one of the occurrence, returned home to Brest. She passed the same evening with her betrothed and friends, gaily singing, dancing and drinking.

Second Crime.

A week later she took her remaining son for a trip towards the same spot. Before they arrived she stopped at a wayside inn and attracted attention by the quantity of white wine which she pressed the boy to drink. On the top of the cliff they both looked out on the sea, where a storm had driven up. Suddenly she called to him, "in a strange voice," says he, and as he turned she gave him a violent push. As he fell he grasped a tuft of reeds. Without waiting to see any more, the woman returned home. The poor boy, after a frightful struggle, succeeded in drawing himself to the top, where he lay for half an hour in a swoon. From there he went to a house nearby, where he was tended. Only a year later, the body of the first child having been washed up, did the cautious country people lodge a complaint against Mme. Niquet.

In the Letter Box

ASKED NEW ELECTION.

Editor News:
In answer to "Fred" you will probably recall that in the spring of 1919 I openly in a letter called on the Governor General of Canada to "discharge this R. L. Borden and his ministers and parliament and call for a new election, that we might choose a parliament more in keeping with British ideals of justice." I am supporting Col. Peck because I believe he comes nearer representing those ideals than does Major Stork.
