Was It Instinct and If So What Was That?

Cats are supposed to become attached to places and dogs to people, but there was a dog that lived in Morden, Manitoba, recently, that became so attached to the place that on being removed to Telkwa he set out for home and got there. This dog seems to have mushed the whole distance of something like two thousand miles, according to the Omceca Herald.

There is one thing the Herald did not tell and that was how the dog knew its way back to Morden. He had been brought to Telkwa presumably by rail and there certainly was no scent to aid him in his wanderings. Yet he got there. How did he do it? What was the guiding impulse that took him for that two thousand miles? He probably passed through Edmonton and other cities. He had to choose between rival railways or roads in making his way out of these cities. A man, if he had thought of it, would have watched the stars, but the dog would not know in what direction he was travelling when coming west. We dismiss this sort of thing by saying that it was instinct that guided the animal, but that explains nothing. Instinct we are told is inherited experience. What experience of the past could the dog have inherited that would teach it to find its way to its former home two thousand miles distant? If some of us could use that dog sense in finding our way through the world, we should be able to pilot much better than we do at present.

Coal Bunkers
The Big Question.

It is understood that the coal bunkers proposal has been turned down by the Dominion Government. There is a good business offering if the railway will only take it. Ocean Falls needs ten car loads of coal a day and Anyox ten car loads. At $100 a car this means a daily revenue to the company of $2,000. All this could be secured with the outlay of $25,000 for small bunkers so that the coal may be handled profitably.

The railway company it is understood already has the rolling stock and some time ago a promise was given that the bunkers would be built. Now the matter seems to be dropped. Happily the Alberta Government is not dropping it. They want to sell the coal and even if the railway can do nothing, there is hope that the bunkers will yet be built. It seems curious that nothing can be done which helps this port. What is described as a palatial suite of offices is being opened at Victoria. In the United States there are expensive offices in many cities. Here where there is business knocking at the doors and clamoring to be handled, the company turns it down and refuses to move hand or foot to encourage it.

Many Newspapers
Are Going Under.

The past year or two has been very hard on the old established newspapers, many having been going out of existence. The pressure of high prices has been having a bad effect and there has been a general process of amalgamation going on.

The latest newspaper to disappear is the Toronto World. It sold out to the Mail and Empire, which has absorbed it, keeping alive only the weekly edition.

There are many other cities where newspapers are having a hard struggle to keep going. Competition is keen and the one that usually falls out. Publishing a newspaper is a nice hobby for those who have the money to spare, but as a money maker it is usually not there. It is difficult for most of the papers to keep their heads above water, and now and then one passes out as in Toronto this week.

The doctors had no hope of my recovery, and every medicine I tried proved useless until a friend induced me to take "Fruit-a-lives". I began to mend almost at once, and never had such good health as I have enjoyed the past eight years. I am never without "Fruit-a-lives" in the house". JAS. S. DELGATY.

 Low, 10:15 a.m., 3.8 feet.

 23:13 p.m., 8.3 feet.

The time used is Pacific Standard, for the 120th Meridian west. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours from midnight to midnight.

The table given is for Port Simpson but the time for Prince Rupert varies only a few minutes on some days and on others is the same. The range of the tide may be computed as 5 per cent greater at Prince Rupert than at Port Simpson both at springs and neaps. Therefore the rise in the Prince Rupert harbor is slightly greater than Port Simpson.

The height is in feet and tenths of feet above the average level of lower low water.

"JUST A WIFE" AT THE WESTHOLME

Sensible Play to be Shown There Tonight is "Just a Wife."

"Just a Wife," which opens at the Westholme Theatre tonight is a photoplay without a "villain" or "villainess." The plot is based upon the "Eternal Triangle," with two women using all their wiles to win the love of the man they both desire and yet both fight so fairly and there is so much justification for every act of each of them that neither of the contestants ever loses the sympathy of the audience. It might also be said that the husband, over whom all the fuss is made, is a regular "he man" and never sinks in the estimation of the audience. All the situations seem perfectly logical—situations which could conceivably develop in any community and, as a consequence, there is no need of deep-dyed villainy. This one feature of "Just a Wife" is enough to make the photoplay appeal to that great and growing class of picture patrons who find themselves "fed up" on cheap sensationalism.

NATIONAL LEAGUE AND REFORM ASSOCIATION

Editor Daily News:
 In an article on the formation of the new republic of Southern China on Saturday last you seem to have been entirely misinformed. You state that the National party is the successor of the Chinese Reform Association. I wish to state as an officer of the Chinese Reform Association that such is not the case. The Chinese Reform Association has no part or lot with Sun Yat Sen who is a man entirely discredited by every right minded person and held without credit or respect in the eyes of other nations.

The Chinese Reform Association is an organization of twenty five years' standing and owning large property in all the eastern cities and in Vancouver, as well as having many reputable citizens in this town, and are altogether opposed to Sun Yat Sen and his policy. We are working for a strong united China built up on a people's representative government, perhaps a little slower and more conservative than Sun Yat Sen, but more for the good of the country as a whole and not so profitable to its leaders.

Newer Organization.
 The National League is a party of comparative recent growth and during the war the government here found it necessary to issue bulletins forbidding any meetings of the said organization.

So the Chinese Reform Association wish to make it known they have no part in the movement at issue. And in fact will resist to a man anything that will partition China.

Thanking you in advance for the courtesy of this space,
 LEM GONG.

Vaughan, C.C., was master of ceremonies and among those who contributed to the program were Professor Kauffman, K. Brin, W. H. Melliar, S. Massey, Mr. Cullis, Mr. Doggart and C. A. Vaughan.
