PRIVATE LIFE OF LENINE

Dispute Troubles said to Be 'Most Cheerful Man in Russia.'
 REVAL, Estonia, June 16.—Nikolai Lenine, head of the Russian Bolshevik government, has recently developed a liking for wolf-hunting. According to recent arrivals from Moscow, Lenine in company with Krikenko, one of the Red Army leaders, has just returned from a wolf drive at Zabidovo.
 Those who know Lenine most intimately declare that despite the numerous crisis through which he has had to lead the Bolshevik regime, he is still perhaps the "most cheerful man in Russia."
Continual Good Humor.
 He preserves his continual good humor by shielding himself closely from detailed work when in his office at the Kremlin, devoting his time to the big problems of government and to the preparation of his speeches and pamphlets in which he advocates numerous changes from his old strict communistic policy.
 Between labor hours when in his office he reads novels and socialistic works by foreign authors in the original French, English and German, and also keeps in touch with the principal works—on other subjects.
Lives Simply.
 It is said that he continues to live simply, in striking contrast to a number of minor Bolshevik officials who occupy luxurious quarters. Lenine and his wife have only a few rooms.
 Mrs. Lenine, say those who know her, disagrees quite strongly with her husband on many political subjects, being more of the social revolutionist type, advocating slower changes than Lenine's Communism. However, it is said they get along splendidly.

Satisfactory progress is being made upon the new school in Section 2. The walls are up and the roof will be put on in the course of a day or two. Everything will be in readiness for the reception of the children upon the opening of school after the summer vacation.
 W. A. Pritchard, member G. E.B., O.B.C. will address public meetings in the McIntyre Hall, under the auspices of the Central Labor Council, O.B.U. as follows: Saturday, 18th, 8 p.m. "The Winnipeg Strike Trials;" Sunday, 19th, 8:30 p.m. "World Problems;" Monday, 20th, 8 p.m. "Labor Organization." Questions, discussion and criticism invited. Collection to defray expenses.

PERIOSTEUM WINS ASCOT GOLD CUP

Happy Man Second and Spion Kop, Third—French Entry Disqualified.

LONDON, June 16.—The Ascot Gold Cup two and a half mile race, run today at Ascot Heath, was won by B. Irish's Periosteum, a four to one horse. Fred Hardy's Happyman, also a four to one, was second. After the race the French entry, Juveigneur, who finished third, was disqualified and the third award was made to Spion Kop, Major Loder's horse.
 Eight horses ran but the turnout of animals was comparatively poor. This great race usually attracts the best horses in training. The first prize is worth 500 sovereigns with 3,500 added in specie. The King and Queen were at the course for the third successive day. Huge crowds were in attendance.
