RACING TODAY VICTORIA MEET

Many of Best Horses at Willows
Track—Totalizer Being Used.

VICTORIA, Aug. 6.—The latest innovation in connection with the race track, the totalizer, is being introduced to Victoria fans at the opening Summer race meet at the Willows, which opens today. This contrivance which was adopted with phenomenal success on the big New York tracks recently, eliminated the pari-mutual machines and one glance at it is sufficient for the public to know approximately the odds of all horses starting in a race.

All bets made on every starter are registered on the totalizer and as several expert calculators have been engaged the fans will receive three and four bulletins concerning the betting before each event. A small board has also been constructed in front of the grand stand where the odds will be posted so that those fans who do not desire to enter the ring are kept informed of all the racing news exactly as it happens.

Met with Approval.

The Totalizer was not utilized at Brighthouse this Summer, but Hastings Park officials introduced it last week. Vancouver fans immediately gave it their unqualified approval with the result that the meet on the half mile track at the exhibition grounds on the Mainland proved to be the most successful ever conducted there.

A remarkable feature about the racing on the Mainland this summer at both Brighthouse and Hastings is the fact that the attendance at both places increased each day. The final gathering at Lulu Island attracted close to ten thousand fans.

Herb Fullerton, of Victoria, who attended these events speaks highly of the sport, and attributes the sensational support accorded the sport of kings in British Columbia this summer to the calibre of the horses and the ability of the riders, particularly the apprentices. Two of the youngest boys, Neal and Williams, are regarded as the most promising riders who ever appeared on the coast and Judge Robert F. Leighton, one of the best known racing officials on the continent predicts that Neal will be the star rider of America within eighteen months. Williams is leading the percentage list to date with winners, but he has had twice as many mounts as Neal. Both of these lads are at the Willows today in addition to about thirty others, including the boys who headed the list at Tia Juana and Reno.

TENNIS PLAYERS FROM THE COAST WHO INVADE THE EAST.

From out of the West and into the East has come a contingent of tennis stars who bid fair to play leading roles in the national and international championship events fast approaching. They have come from California with a dual mission this time, the first to take back to the coast titles now held in the East, the second to aid in repelling the most formidable invasion in years of foreign aspirants to international tennis glory. The entire California contingent in the East by the time the title tournaments arrive will number probably ten or twelve, but interest is centred in four—William M. Johnston, Mrs. May Sutton Bundy, Miss Mary K. Browne and Willis E. Davis.

The Senior Baseball League game between the Elks and the Sons of Canada gives promise of being an exceptionally interesting one. By its result will practically be decided the chances that the Elks have for the league championship. If they win they will be but one game behind the Sons of Canada with a good chance of making that up in next week's game with the Red Sox. If the Elks lose the Sons of Canada will have a safe lead which it is not likely will be overcome. The close play that these two teams have been putting up lately makes speculation between them very uncertain for each seem to have about equal chances of winning. Their best players will no doubt be out for action.

It is interesting to note that Jack Hutchinson, the golf champion, although holding the title as an American as a result of his victory over Roger Wethered, the British University man at St. Andrews a few weeks ago, is a Britisher by birth. In fact he was born at St. Andrew's, was a caddy there as a boy and received his early golfing experience on the famous old course there. His recent match, therefore, was not played on a strange field although he was playing thousands of miles from the country which he represented. Even if the title was lost to Britain, there is a certain amount of consolation for the Old Country in the fact that the foreign winner was really British born and British trained.

Trout fishing around Prince Rupert is as popular a sport this season as it ever was. The piscatorial adepts are going further and further afield and every new place seems to be productive of its yards of more wonderful fish than were ever caught before. Warke Canal appears to be gaining in popularity and there have been a great many anglers going there this year. Khatada, Mile 21 and other spots are also getting their usual quota of visitors who seem to be as successful as ever. Prince Rupert surely is not lacking in her anglers' paradises.

Worked the Other Way.

A general storekeeper in an Indiana town, whose name was synonymous with all that is popular in the game of checkers, received a box of cigars from an enthusiastic drummer from Chicago during the course of the merchant's last battle with an ex-champion from Missouri.

"With those cigars," said the donor, "you can beat the world." "Well," said the storekeeper, quietly and significantly, "I have to play Jones this afternoon."

"Never mind, old man; with those cigars you will play all right."

Later in the day they met again, and the storekeeper informed the drummer that he had won a game from Jones that afternoon.

"Fine! Those cigars were a help!" "I hardly thing so," said the storekeeper.

"Didn't you smoke them?" "Me smoke them?" cried the storekeeper. "No! I don't smoke. But I gave one to Jones."

Ranges at Ottawa Accommodate
Large Number Competitors

OTTAWA, Aug. 6.—The annual meeting of the Dominion Canada Rifle Association will inaugurate a new era in the Association's life. For the first time, this year, the shooting will be done on the new Canadian Rifle Range, with new and improved accommodations. At the last pre-war meet, there were some 750 competitors, but this year, the shooting is expected to be in the neighborhood of 1,000.

The Connaught range, 12½ miles westerly from Ottawa, on a wide strip of land, covering an area of 2,700 acres. Instead of the total 60 targets as at the old range, the new range has 120 targets, 50 for use at 100 yards, 50 for use at 200 yards, and a further range with 20 targets for short distance shooting.
