BRINGING UP FATHER

NO MORE GAMBLING IN SOUTHERN CHINA

PEKING, Feb. 11.—Gambling is being severely discouraged in Canton, according to consular dispatches from there. General Chen Ch'ung-ming, acting civil governor of Kwangtung, has issued regulations making it an offence punishable by death or 20 to 2 years imprisonment to engage in gambling as a profession, to maintain a gambling house or to protect the maintenance of such a place.

KERGIN CHAIRMAN

Dr. W. T. Kergin Presides Over Board of School Trustees—Members Welcomed.

At the first meeting of the Board of School Trustees for the year, Dr. W. T. Kergin was again chosen chairman. On taking his seat he welcomed to the board the new trustees, Mrs. Ling and Thomas McMeekin, remarking that this was one of the public bodies that served without pay and in which there was no suspicion of graft. They were not, however, free from troubles.

Dr. Kergin said he was glad to see again on the board L. W. Patmore, who had done faithful work in the past. He hoped they would have a good year in the interest of the schools.

The Man in the Moon SAYS—

THE headlines yesterday said "Beatrice is ashore." Let her stay there. The only thing of interest to Beatrice is whether or not she is on the rocks or is her hat on straight.

THERE is just one official receiver and every creditor wishes he were it.

WHAT everybody was arguing about yesterday was whether the Government was it or the creditors were it or the receiver was it or which of the ding busted lot were it and where Wallace and the people of Prince Rupert come off in the shipyard dispute.

ACCORDING to report, the Government told Hodges they were going to seize the shipyard and keep it and all therein and Hodges beat the telegram which was sent to Prince Rupert ordering Captain Saunders to get busy.

OPINION is divided in Prince Rupert as to the right and the wrong of the shipyard tiff. Those who are creditors think the Government is wrong and those who are not creditors think the creditors are wrong, because if the food creditors would only do without their money, everything would go on lovely.

PROPERTY OWNERS ON COMOX AVENUE

List of Those Who are Interested in That Section Submitted to Police Commission.

A list of the owners, agreement holders and occupiers of Comox Avenue property, prepared and certified correct by Sergeant William Adams, was submitted last night to the police commission. A list of suspected houses nearby was also appended.

There was considerable discussion on the report and it was pointed out that the principal owners of improved property on Comox Avenue were Chinamen and one in particular was mentioned, Chen Ying. In many cases rents, which are considered excessive by the police commission, were being charged.

"Some of the owners who pose under the mask of respectability are worse than pimps," stated Commissioner Macdonald. "It does not smell good to me of any resident of this city buying property in that section during the last eleven years. I would favor the taking of any action possible that would show we resent it. It is not the girls that I want to get after, but it is those who are renting them property at such rates. I think we could get assistance from them in proving our cases and I would favor the pushing of this matter to the limit."

The report has been submitted to the city solicitor with a view to taking legal action against owners.

The Owners

The report shows that the present owners of improved property on Comox Avenue are Joachim Pompono, L. Ross, Maude Camozzi, Caroline Barry, Bertha Berthier, Gladys Tomaseck, Annie Hall, Lee Loo, Estate of Bertha Berthier, Peontine Bowler, Marie Romano, Anais Tillet, Alec Austin, Blanche Hart, Matt Videck, Eva M. Ward, Mah Jack Moon. Some of these live in the houses and others lease them. One or two are unoccupied.

Those who still hold the title, but who have sold under agreement of sale are Anais Tillet, 2, Elhel Mah Bon Quen, Chen Ying and Mah Noey, 2, Hong Lee Tong, Chen Yeng, 3, Jacob C. Monka, Alec Austin, Wong Tow and Wong Too.

Agreements of Sale

Those who have purchased under agreement of sale are Hilda Gilbert, Ruby Gordon, Hilda L. Woods, Babe McDonald, Hanna Ferlinton, Della Edwards, Blanche Miller and Peggy White, Josephine Rosseau, May Brown, Margaret Small, Marie Thomas, Rose Martin and Blanche Moore. A list of owners of suspected houses on 8th Avenue adjoining was also submitted.

CANNOT INTERFERE WITH LIQUOR EXPORT

A letter was received by the police commission last evening from Williams, Manson & Gonzales, solicitors, pointing out that according to statute there should be no interference on the part of the police with shipments of liquor leaving local bonded warehouses consigned to points outside the province. The letter was ordered filed, the mayor stating that he had been advised by the city solicitor that the view taken by the legal firm was correct.

SEIZED ARMS

LONDON, Feb. 11.—The police yesterday seized in a west end house in Berlin 45 machine guns, 40,000 rounds of cartridges and a number of carbines, belonging to a secret organization.
