CUPS ARE PRESENTED

Large Attendance at Annual Banquet of Prince Rupert Football Association

Was Good Year

Two of Season's Trophies Go To Regiment and Two to Merchants—Many Speeches

Fifty or more football players and fans attended the annual banquet in the Commodore Cafe Saturday night of the Prince Rupert Football Association, the affair proving an enthusiastic and fitting culmination to a season which in many ways has been one of the most successful the soccer sport in Prince Rupert has ever enjoyed. Bert Morgan, president of the Prince Rupert Football Association, was in the chair and the feature of the evening's proceedings was the presentation by Ald. S. D. Macdonald, of the 1932 season's trophies to the captains of the winning teams. The Mobley Cup, emblematic of league championship, and the Gilhuly Cup were received by Pete DeJong for the Regiment team of which he is captain. The Dominion Day Cup and the Stuart Benefit Shield were received by Captain Sonny Dickens for the Merchants' team. There were also numerous speeches and musical selections, all of which went to make the gathering a very enjoyable one.

After ample justice had been done to a full dinner spread, the chairman opened the proceedings with a brief speech in which he outlined the activities of the season just ended. At the outset, some $66 had been expended in connection with the moving and renovating of the dressing room. The depression had also been felt as far as gate receipts were concerned. There had also been the unfortunate accident at the close of the season in which Ernie Webster had broken his leg. Despite financial reverses, however, the Association hoped to finish up on the right side of the ledger for the season, due largely to a series of sweepstakes which had been held. A four-team league had been operated throughout the summer with much success. Even keener competition and, possibly, a still larger league were anticipated next year. "It will only be a matter of a short time," declared Mr. Morgan, "that Prince Rupert will be a real good football town such as it was in the early days."

In the course of his remarks, Mr. Morgan bespoke support for the Webster benefit dance to be held on Friday night of this week. He pointed out that the Moose had donated the hall for the event. Mrs. Black the services of her orchestra, Rose, Cowan & Latta had printed the tickets gratis and friends would provide refreshments.

Mr. Morgan also mentioned that it was planned to stage a football game on Sunday next for relief purposes.

Cups Presented

In his cup presentation address, Ald. Macdonald complimented the president and officers for the success of the 1932 season. He indulged in some interesting reminiscences in regard to football history in Prince Rupert, recalling how the first soccer had been played here on Second Avenue between Sixth and Seventh Streets, later on the Court House field and at the dry dock grounds and, eventually, on Acropolis Hill. In the early days, there had been splendid football played here and great enthusiasm. In later years, the sport had begun to lag but, of late, there had been a great revival of the game. For this, Ald. Macdonald paid tribute to Bert Morgan to whom a great deal of credit had been due for coming to the rescue of soccer.

Ald. Macdonald lauded the policy which had been adopted in recent years of introducing young local boys in the Senior League instead of importing players. These boys had played an excellent class of football during the past season. It was notable, for instance, that the Regiment team, winner of the league and the Gilhuly Cup this year consisted, with the exception of three players, of boys in their teens. Other teams of the League had also had a large proportion of young players. Incidentally, Ald. Macdonald mentioned the creditable showing which had been made by youthful athletes of this city at the recent Junior Olympics in Vancouver.

Ald. Macdonald expressed the hope that, before long, Prince Rupert would again be getting a brand of football equal to that of the early days. Much would depend on the support which was accorded the officials and the players. Meantime, an even more successful season in 1933 than that of 1932 might be confidently looked forward to.

In presenting the various cups to the captains of the two winning teams, Ald. Macdonald made brief but suitable remarks.

While making the presentation of the Gilhuly Cup, Ald. Macdonald paid tribute to the Canadian Legion team which had played as consistently good football as any other team in the league but which had failed to get the breaks and had been unfortunate in not winning a trophy. Ald. Macdonald also referred to the efficient refereeing of A. D. Horne in the later games of the season.

Other Speakers

Ald. James Black, another of the evening's speakers, paid tribute to President Bert Morgan for the important part he had played in making the past season such a successful one. He proposed a toast to Mr. Morgan, this being enthusiastically observed with musical honors.

In responding to the toast, Mr. Morgan referred to the important part which sport played in the life of the community and also in the development of youth along proper lines. The field of sport produced fine men imbued with proper principles for later life. Mr. Morgan pledged himself to continue to go all in his power for the promotion of clean sport.

J. S. Wilson declared that a lot of credit was due the Home Oil

BROOKLYN OUT NOW

Dodgers Lose Their Chance to Win National League Flag—Pirates Still Have Possibility

BROOKLYN, Sept. 19.—As a result of week-end reverses at the hands of the Phillies here, Brooklyn Dodgers were definitely eliminated from the 1932 pennant race in the National League and will now devote efforts in the remaining games to preserve third place from the Phillies and Boston Braves.

The Pittsburgh Pirates, who defeated the New York Giants in both ends of a double-header yesterday, still have a slim chance to cop the flag from the Chicago Cubs who struggled for 15 innings at Cincinnati yesterday before they were able to down the Reds.

The world champion St. Louis Cardinals divided honors with the Boston Braves in a double-header at Boston yesterday and are still in seventh place below the New York Giants.

In the American League, the New York Yankees kept up the form which has already clinched them the pennant and split a double-header with the St. Louis Browns. The Philadelphia Athletics took both games of a double-header from the Chicago White Sox and increased their grasp on second place to three full games over the Washington Senators who shared a double-bill with the Cleveland Indians.

Week-end Big League scores were as follows:

Weather Prevents Softball Play-Off

Break in Meteorological Conditions Being Awaited so That Championship May Be Settled

A favorable break in the weather is being awaited so that the play-off between Round House and Station, who are tied for second half honors in the Canadian National Recreation Association Softball League, may be staged. In the event of the Round House winning the play-off, they would cop the season's honors and the Haines Trophy, having already won the first half. A victory for the Station, on the other hand, would necessitate another play-off between the two teams for the trophy.

Human custom is to be obeyed when it is not against the law of God.

WHO IS TO LEAD?

When Dr. Tolmie set about forming a union administration he made the grave mistake of assuming that he was the man called upon to lead it. All his suggestions for coalition have been for other leaders to serve under him.

Dr. Tolmie was chosen by the people of British Columbia four years ago. He promised that, if elected, he would bring back prosperity to British Columbia. He would make it possible for the farmers of the province to supply the cities with their agricultural produce and would stop the drift of young Canadians to the United States by making British Columbia so prosperous that they would not want to leave. Those were his professions.

We leave it to the people to say whether he has done this or not. Doubtless, he has been badly handicapped by the depression which struck the whole world. We must not blame Premier Tolmie for everything. He has, doubtless, done his best but has his best been good enough for the people? The Conservatives of Vancouver say "no."

What then should be the course of the first minister under those circumstances? If his party government has failed, as he admits, why should he presume to ask that he be continued in office? His duty in the circumstances would seem to be to place his resignation in the hands of the Lieutenant-Governor and ask His Honor to call upon some other person to take over the duties. Another constitutional method would be to ask His Honor to dissolve the Legislature and make an appeal to the people of the province for ratification of his work.

Instead of doing this, Dr. Tolmie accepts the advice of men who have not asked the people to pass on their records or ability and tries to form a union administration with himself at the head.

We do not object to union government as long as it is a union of the best men the province can produce. At the head of such a union we contend today, as we have contended before, the member for Prince Rupert stands as the only choice. He is the only man who has shown himself consistent throughout and who has the courage and ability to tackle the job of bringing back prosperity to British Columbia. With a new government formed from a union of all interests, capital and labor, industry and agriculture, and with the strongest man in the province at the helm, the people of the province should soon find themselves in a position to take advantage of the world movement toward betterment. He is the man who should complete the sale of the P. G. E., if it is to be completed. The province needs a man of Pattullo's calibre to see that the interests of the province are protected in a deal of such magnitude.

Union is all right. Let us by all means have it but let it be the right kind of union under the right leadership. After all, the Premier is supreme in the cabinet and, with the wrong Premier, we could not have a satisfactory administration. Parties do not count for much. It's men who are important.
