Lenin the Dreamer Ruler of Russia.

In his new book "Russia in the Shadows" H. G. Wells, the Socialist English writer, tells of a visit to Lenin in the Kremlin, in a chapter which he calls "The Dreamer of the Kremlin." He tells how difficult it was to reach the man. "There was a great pothole with passes and permits before we could get through even the outer gates. And we were filtered and inspected through five or six rooms of clerks and sentinels before we got into the presence. This may be necessary for the personal security of Lenin but it puts him out of reach of Russia, and what perhaps is more serious, if there is to be an effective dictatorship, it puts Russia out of his reach. If things must filter up to him, they must also filter down, and they may undergo very considerable changes in the process."

Admits Everything Is Experimental.

After telling of meeting the little man and the line of their conversation Mr. Wells says: "In the days before 1918 all the Marxist world thought of the social revolution as an end. The workers of the world were to unite, overthrow capitalism and be happy ever afterwards. But in 1918 the communists, to their own surprise, found themselves in control of Russia and challenged to produce their millennium. They have a colorful excuse for a delay in the production of a new and better social order in their continuation of war conditions, in the blockade and so forth, nevertheless it is clear that they begin to realize the tremendous unpreparedness which the Marxist methods of thought involve.
At a hundred points—I have already put my finger on one or two of them—they do not know what to do. But the commonplace Communist simply loses his temper if you venture to doubt whether everything is being done in precisely the best and most intelligent way under the new regime. He is like a tetchy housewife who wants you to recognize that everything is in perfect order in the middle of an eviction. He is like one of those now forgotten suffragettes who used to promise us an earthly paradise as soon as we escaped from the tyranny of man-made laws. Lenin, on the other hand, whose frankness must at times leave his disciples breathless, has recently stripped off the last pretence that the Russian revolution is anything more than the inauguration of an age of limitless experiment. "Those who are engaged in the formidable task of overcoming capitalism," he has recently written, "must be prepared to try method after method until they find the one which answers their purpose best."

Peasants Selfish and Illiterate.

Discussing something of his plans with Mr. Wells, Lenin is reported to have said: "Even now all the agricultural production of Russia is not peasant production. We have in places large-scale agriculture. The Government is already running big estates with workers instead of peasants, where conditions are favorable.
That can spread. It can be extended first to one province, then to another. The peasants in the other provinces, selfish and illiterate, will not know what is happening until their turn comes."

Vision of World Built Afresh.

In summing up his impressions, Mr. Wells says of Lenin:
"In him I realized that Communism could after all, in spite of Marx, be enormously creative. After the tiresome class war fantasies I had been encountering among the Communists, men of formulae as sterile as flint; after numerous experiences of the trained and empty conceit of the common Marxist devotee, this amazing little man, with his frank admissions of the immensity and complication of the project of Communism and his simple concentration upon its realization was very refreshing. He at least has a vision of a world changed over and planned and built afresh."

RHEUMATISM FOR OVER 16 YEARS

No Return Of The Trouble Since Taking "Fruit-a-tives" 103 Church St., Montreal.

"I was a great sufferer from Rheumatism for over 16 years. I consulted specialists; took medicine; used lotions; but nothing did me good.
Then I began to use "Fruit-a-tives", and in 15 days the pain was easier and the Rheumatism much better.
Gradually, "Fruit-a-tives" overcame my Rheumatism; and now, for five years, I have had no return of the trouble. I cordially recommend this fruit medicine to all sufferers."

PRINCE RUPERT TIDES

Monday, March 28.
High, 4:14 a.m., 23.0 feet.
Low, 10:11 a.m., 17.9 feet.
Tuesday, March 29.
High, 4:56 a.m., 19.1 feet.
Low, 10:59 a.m., 16.7 feet.

The time used is Pacific Standard, for the 120th Meridian west.
It is counted from 0 to 24 hours from midnight to midnight.

The table given is for Port Simpson but the time for Prince Rupert varies only a few minutes on some days and on others is the same. The range of the tide may be computed as 5 per cent greater at Prince Rupert than at Port Simpson both at springs and neaps. Therefore the rise in the Prince Rupert harbor is slightly greater than Port Simpson.

The height is in feet and tenths of feet above the average level of lower low water.

There's no more use in having cords that nobody knows about than in winking at a pretty girl in the dark.

EASTER SERVICES IN LOCAL CHURCHES

Special Music Suitable to the Occasion and Easter Decorations.

The Easter services in the Church of England yesterday were the best in history, both in point of numbers and in the interest taken. The building was filled to overflowing both morning and evening and there was a good attendance at the children's services in the afternoon which was conducted by Mr. Healy. The music was of excellent character and was much enjoyed. There were solos by Mrs. J. Barnsley, Mrs. Ackroyd, A. Dalby and John Davey and a quartette was sung by Mrs. Ackroyd, Mrs. Culliff, John Davey and A. Clapperton. The organist, J. Austin, added much to the effect of the service.

At St. Peter's, Seal Cove, there was most encouraging attendance and great interest taken in the services. Mr. Grumble presided at the organ.

Presbyterian.

There was special Easter music at the Presbyterian Church yesterday and the pastor, Rev. Dr.
Grant, preached appropriate sermons for the occasion. In the evening Mrs. Hinton sang and Mr. and Mrs. Teng took solo parts in anthems. The choir is to be complimented on its efforts. There was a children's service in the morning with special music by the children's choir, this taking the place of the usual Sunday School.
The church was beautifully decorated with spring flowers.

Methodist.

At the Methodist Church the Girls' Choir sang two anthems most acceptably and solos were given by Misses Catherine Irvine and Gwen Morgan. In the evening Dr. C. E. Manning, secretary of the missionary department of the church with headquarters at Toronto was the preacher.

TOOTHACHE DELAYED FILMING OF PLAY

"Mrs. Temple's Telegram" is the Feature tonight at the Westholme.

Stage patrons will recall "Mrs.
Temple's Telegram" as one of the funniest farces ever produced, and, it is declared, photoplay fans will carry away delightful memories of the film version when it is shown at the Westholme tonight. But to Bryant Washburn, who stars in the picture, it will always bring back to his mind the most appalling toothache in his history.

Just before production started on "Mrs. Temple's Telegram," the tooth started "acting up." Mr.
Washburn had it pulled at once, but it left its sting in the form of a badly swollen jaw. When the actor appeared in the office, you first noticed that jaw, protruding out even beyond his wide-brimmed hat, so Mr. Washburn claims.
When Bryant reported for duty, Director James Cruze threw up his hands in dismay. Then he had a bright idea.

"Let's write it into the scenario.
This prize jaw is too good to miss," he suggested to Elmer Harris, who adapted the picture.
"Not on your life," protested Mr. Washburn. "This is no laughing matter, and I couldn't possibly be funny on the screen with it."

So they compromised, and postponed starting the picture for three days, until the really very handsome Washburn face became normal. That the recovery was complete is manifested by the exuberant spirits that Bryant shows on the screen. Wanda Hawley is the leading woman.

"SHORE ACRES" TONIGHT AT EMPRESS THEATRE

"Shore Acres," the immortal stage play of New England life that made James A. Herne famous the world over, will be the feature attraction at the Empress Theatre tonight. This unusual feature is a picturization of the celebrated stage drama. It is a superb picture of rural life in a sleepy New England village on the coast of Maine, and introduces Alice Lake as a star in her first starring vehicle. The management assures its patrons of unusual entertainment in this extraordinary feature which is a faithful picture of New England sea-coast life, tense with stirring drama and tender pathos.
