HUSTLING OCCIDENT

A Chinaman who had recently arrived from China was desirous of starting a laundry, but was at a loss to know what sort of a sign to put over his shop. He therefore, decided to take a walk and investigate other signs in order to get an idea.

After walking a while, he came to a restaurant, before which appeared the following: "Never Closed." A little farther on he saw another restaurant with this sign: "Twenty-four-hour Service." Walking still farther, he came to one reading "Meals Served Day and Night." Finally he hung up the following: "Me No Sleep, Too."—Everybody's Magazine.

LIFE AND DEATH.

A minister who guarded his morning study hour very carefully told the new maid that in no circumstances were callers to be admitted—except, of course, he added, in case of life and death.

Half an hour later the maid knocked at the door.

"A gentleman to see you, sir."

"Why, I thought I told you—"

"Yes, I told him," she replied, "but he says it's a question of life and death."

So he went downstairs—and found an insurance agent.—Seattle Post Intelligencer.

Give Dad a Good Watch

Dad probably wont say much about Christmas wants, but do a little observing yourself. The chances are that he is toting around an ancient heavy timepiece that does not keep very good time.

Suppose mother and children "chip in" and give him a nice new one.

Our prices are fair and square and we have all the best makes.
