The annual seasonal warning issued by M. G. McNeill, chairman of the special committee of the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada has again been issued at Winnipeg. It says that all athletes in future will have to be careful, for the committee has decided to prosecute in the courts all those who swear falsely to amateur standing. This information may be interesting to every branch of amateur sport in Canada where it is necessary to declare an athlete's amateur standing.

INQUEST ON SELIG DEATH

Coroner's Jury Yesterday Returned Verdict Accidental Death.

The coroner's jury which investigated the circumstances of the death of Captain George Selig at Port Louis, Queen Charlotte Islands, last Sunday returned a verdict of accidental death yesterday afternoon. A rider was attached calling the attention of the government to the frequency of this kind of accident and recommending that the Game Department should issue "safety first" instructions with all hunting licenses. The jury comprised G. A. Bryant (foreman), D. W. Bone, G. H. Elkins, E. V. Ling, Ralph V. G. Lepine and William G. Barrie. The inquest was held before Coroner J. H. McMullin.

E. W. Lockwood, the young man who fired the shot that killed Selig, in giving evidence said that he, Selig and H. Welsh had gone ashore from the Eagle at Port Louis on Sunday afternoon at 2:30 to go hunting. The accident occurred at 3:30 and the sun was setting and the woods were shady. Drawing along a fallen log he had seen an object which he thought was a bear. He fired and heard a yell and proceeding to the scene found he had shot Selig. He said: "Good God, Lockwood, you have shot me." He was attired in a black mackinaw and cap and was on the opposite side of the log. Lockwood had thought that he was with Welsh.

Welsh also gave evidence bearing out what Lockwood had said.

Mortally Wounded.

Peter Nowe, another member of the crew of the Eagle, said that when they had got Selig aboard the boat he had known that he was mortally wounded. "Tell Cora it was an accident," were the last words he had said before expiring about 5:45.

Dr. John P. Gade, medical health officer, who examined the body, said that death had been caused by gun shots. There were about 50 small shot wounds on the right and left of the spine and in the back of the head. They extended from the waist to nearly the top of the shoulder. They had apparently penetrated from behind.

Sergeant A. H. Bailey, of the city police, also took the stand testifying as to the identity of the deceased.

Harry Selig and Steve Selig, brothers of the dead man, arrived last night from Ketchikan on the launch Bartolome.

TWO HOCKEY TEAMS NOW NECK AND NECK

SEATTLE, Dec. 22.—Seattle and Victoria hockey teams are neck and neck for the leadership of the Pacific Coast League following the victory last night of the home team against Victoria. The score last night was two to one in favor of Seattle.

Riley Won Game.

Victoria and Seattle renewed their little hockey war last night and the Victorians lost the game after three rounds of stirring hockey.

Two bullet shots from "Stick" Jim Riley were enough to tie the race into a dandy how knot. The play opened fast and closed faster. In the second period Victoria lost a valuable cog in the defence and attack when Gattman had to retire as a result of a sprained ankle. For the first twenty minutes there was no scoring.
