DEFENDS COLONEL PECK

Editor Daily News:

In a recent issue of the Daily News Louis Forkrud raises the question of the wisdom of selecting Colonel Peck as our Federal representative "on account of his limited abilities as a speaker and logician."

I regret that I have never had the privilege of hearing Mr. Forkrud speak, but in the latter part of his statement he unfortunately confounds himself with his own argument. Any person who had the privilege of hearing Colonel Peck address his meeting a few nights ago in the Westholme Theatre, and heard him outline step by step his entry into Federal Politics, and his reasons for following the clear cut course which he pursued while our representative in the House of Commons, can not but admit the logic of his argument and the logic of his position today.

It is possible that Colonel Peck and Mr. Forkrud, have not that rare gift of eloquence which enables an orator to play upon the audience as a maestro wields his bow upon a violin and sway his hearers to laughter or tears at will, but Mr. Forkrud, the gentlemen in the House of Commons who are so gifted are to be numbered on the fingers of one hand, and their ability to change a single vote on the floor of the House is, it is to be regretted, not commensurate with their ability as orators.

Served Apprenticeship.

Mr. Forkrud's illustration of the bricklayer and pipefitter, is most apt. He is unquestionably correct when he says that what we want at Ottawa is a journeyman and not an apprentice. Colonel Peck has served his apprenticeship and from the Atlantic to the Pacific he is known and esteemed as the efficient Journeyman Parliamentarian that he is.

In regard to the "Fisheries Question" I should like Mr. Forkrud to point out any man who has done more than Colonel Peck has done to restore the salmon fishing industry to the white man. It is common knowledge that he has "jolted" the cannery combine severely and the cannery license has ceased to be a monopoly. It is to be regretted that Mr. Forkrud objects to this policy.

The final objection which Mr. Forkrud raises against Colonel Peck is that he failed to secure a larger cash bonus for the returned soldier. Mr. Forkrud, if the value of services rendered in the battlefield could be measured in dollars and cents there is no doubt but that the country owes much to a returned man, and to none could it owe more than to Colonel Peck. This question has been threshed out time and again in Parliament and elsewhere, and only a week ago at the convention of the various returned men's associations this proposition was voted down because, as David Lonsdale, editor of the "Veteran" said: "We have to face the cold financial facts. That convention decided that the most useful service the Government can render the returned men is a sound and sane policy of re-establishing him in the industrial activity of the country and that in its entirety has always been Colonel Peck's policy."

Immense Deficit.

Louis has concluded his letter with a pathetic reference to the railway situation, and it is with deep regret that we point out that the worst is still to come. According to M. A. Macdonald, Canada is to have a Liberal Government after December 6. He told us tearfully that the railway deficit this year was seventy million dollars. Unfortunately Mr. Macdonald over-reached himself, for after assuring us of the certainty of a Liberal Government after the 6th of December he went on to explain that the deficit next year would be over one hundred million dollars. Mr. Editor, what is this Liberal Government that we are assured of going to do with that extra thirty million dollars or more? Perhaps Louis can tell us.

JOHN H. TURNBULL.

THREE QUESTIONS.

Editor Daily News:

In the opinion of many persons, the economic foundation of the Liberal party is the one of the Conservative party when administered. And that neither party will be able to function much longer unless they rise to the occasion of the hour and fearlessly diagnose the sick body politic and administer to its requirements in accordance with the great social change forced on human society through economic stress.

However, overlooking many sins of omission and commission of the past, what action would you as an editor recommend your party candidate to take on the following questions:

1. Unemployment, which is chronic and world-wide.
2. The late Union Government transformed the R.N.W.M.P. that heretofore had been an exclusively territorial force into a sort of labor spy institution now covering I believe the whole Dominion of Canada. Would you recommend the retaining of that body in its present revised form or restrict it to its original basis as a territorial force?

3. The Union Government in 1919 passed an order in council with but fifty minutes consideration in Parliament empowering immigration officials to arrest and without trial deport forthwith any person not Canadian born or holding Canadian

Mrs. M. E. Hobson, 176 Dublin St., Peterboro, Ont., writes: "My daughter of 15 lost appetite, color and was on the verge of nervous collapse. Five boxes of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food completely restored her health and strength."

Mrs. Wm. Woods, Coldwater, Ont., writes: "After the birth of my baby I was run down, nervous and could not eat nor sleep, jumping at the least noise. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food built me up and made me strong and well again."

Mrs. H. Alchorn, 23 Gerald St., Charlottetown, P.E.I., writes: "Dr. Chase's Nerve Food was recommended to me by an aunt who used it while passing through the change of life and was completely built up by its use."

Mrs. Joe Lalonde, Hydrex Glen, Ont., writes: "I was so run down and nervous last summer that I was in bed most of the time. After using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food I am able to do my housework, and though 76 years old, feel better than I have for years."

Let the Women Tell Their Story

"From my experience as a wife and mother I find that the majority of users of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food are women, especially women passing through the change of life; next by young mothers to regain strength after baby comes, and also by mothers for their young daughters entering their womanhood. While it is good for all classes of humanity, I am sure it is especially so for women, as they seem to be troubled most by nervous diseases."—Mrs. H. Alchorn, 23 Gerald Street, Charlottetown, P. E. I.

Every woman is interested in another woman's letters, and we shall give the women a chance to present their experience with Dr. Chase's Nerve Food by quoting from their letters.

If you do not find anyone you know among these ladies, write us for references from people in your community, or ask your friends and neighbors for particulars about Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

There is scarcely a town, village or hamlet in this great country but can produce splendid evidence as to the restorative, upbuilding influence of this well-known treatment for the blood and nerves.

Mrs. Jennie Haywood, 98 Turner St., Ottawa, Ont.: "After 16 weeks in a hospital with rheumatic fever I returned home a complete nervous wreck. I took six boxes of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and have had no return of nervous trouble or rheumatism."

Mrs. W. H. McIntyre, Gananoque, Ont.: "About five years ago I used Dr. Chase's Nerve Food when in a state of absolute collapse, and continued its use until I had taken fourteen boxes. I cannot praise it enough, for it worked a miracle in my case."

Mrs. May W. Taylor, 1309 Davie Street, Vancouver, B.C.: "Ten of my circle told me that they take Dr. Chase's Nerve Food for that 'all-in' feeling attendant on the care of children and performance of housework. I myself take it for nervous irritability, and absolutely depend on it. I give my children the Nerve Food during 'examination week,' and am sure it helps them."

Mrs. Annie Bellamy, 33 Pauline Avenue, Toronto, Ont.: "Since the 'flu' epidemic people are resorting to preventive measures more than ever, and find that Dr. Chase's Nerve Food gives protection against the 'flu' and all other germ diseases."

Mrs. W. H. Stoker, 68 Robert Street, Hamilton, Ont.: "A young mother told me she was so glad I advised her to use Dr. Chase's Nerve Food after her baby was born. She had tried many things, but after no success with them I told her just how much benefit I had gained with Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, so she also used it with the same wonderful results."

Mrs. R. I. Scott, Teacher, Czar, Alta.: "After teaching school for two years my nerves were in a shattered condition, and I had almost incessant headaches. The doctor told me I would have to quit, but a teacher friend told me how she was restored by Dr. Chase's Nerve Food under similar conditions. My nerves were completely restored, so that I thoroughly enjoy life."

Mrs. John O'Donnell, 50 Colonial Street, St. John, Nfld.: "While some used Dr. Chase's Nerve Food for run-down condition, ragged nerves and sleeplessness, there was one ailment which predominated—nervous headache. In combating nervous headache Dr. Chase's Nerve Food has no rival."
