BOSTON LEARNS OF BASEBALL ON ALASKAN COAST

The Christian Science Monitor has an article under a Ketchikan date line telling of baseball in that town and mentions prominently the games with Prince Rupert. It says:

Baseball is one of the summer amusements in Alaska, and nearly every town of any size has its baseball team. On account of the great distances to be traveled, the teams in the groups of towns to the westward in the interior, in the northern and southern parts, in far away Seward Peninsult can usually play only their immediate neighbors. Occasionally the teams on the cost play ball with teams from the various government ships which visit Alaskan waters in the summer time.

Tourists in the interior can experience the novelty of witnessing a midnight baseball game. One of the features of the annual excursion from Juneau and way points to Whitehorse, Yukon Territory, on the King's birthday, is one or more games of baseball between the Alaskans and Canadians.

Each year Ketchikan sends a team to Prince Rupert, British Columbia, on Dominion Day, July 1, and the Prince Rupert team comes to Ketchikan for the Fourth of July.

This year Ketchikan has a city league composed of four teams, called the Chums, Gohoes, Humpies, and Sockeyes, after varieties of salmon, the canning of which is one of the principal industries of Alaska. A team made up of the best players from these four teams visited Prince Rupert and was defeated in two games, the scores being 4 to 3 and 12 to 7, respectively, in favor of Prince Rupert. In turn, the Prince Rupert team played at Ketchikan on July 3 and lost by 4 to 2 to the Ketchikan team, the visitors not getting a run until the ninth inning. The playing of a second game was prevented by rain.

With Metlakatla.

Ketchikan also plays the Indians from Metlakatla every season, and the two games played so far this year resulted in Ketchikan being victorious.

Because of the long, light summer evenings, the games at Ketchikan are called at 6 p. m. on week days, which enables the young men from the offices, shops, and other employment to participate, and the enthusiastic townspeople to witness the games.

In former years the Ketchikan ball grounds were on the tide flats, and the stage of the tide governed the time of calling a game. This year the new grounds are being used. They are in the park provided by the city, about a mile from the centre of town, and for which considerable money has been spent in draining and clearing raw land. A substantial grand stand has been erected, and tennis courts are bing provided. Other improvements will be made as funds are available, and Ketchikan will have an attractive pleasure ground.

New Park.

The park is beautifully located near the base of Deere Mountain. The park is skirted with a fringe of evergreen, and is reached by a good automobile road, which crosses and runs along Ketchikan creek, a pretty winding mountain stream. Later this road will be connected with another, shorter road, running along the other bank of the creek, and which will circle the park, making a sort of elongated horseshoe.

Sport Chat

Interest in the National Women's tennis championships this year which are being held at the West Side Club courts at Forest Hills, L. I., is centered for the most part, in the return of Mrs. May Sutton Bundy, of Los Angeles, and Miss May K. Browne, of San Francisco, both former holders of the title and the presence of Mlle. Suzanne Lenglen, the famous French European champion. The latter marks the first time in history when a French girl has entered the lists for the American title. Mrs. Bunday was American champion in 1904 and Miss Browne in 1912, 1913 and 1914. The present title holder is Mrs. Molla Bjursdedt Mallory who is defending her title after having it each year but one since 1915.

* * *

Lew Tendler, Benny Leonard's challenger for the world's lightweight title, had the first joint of his third finger on the right hand cut off recently with a view to his match with Leonard. Tendler broke his finger some years ago and it was poorly set so that it fractured almost every time he fought. He figured it would be better to have it off altogether than keep him in pain. This is not Tendler's first operation. In 1919 he had small bones taken out of his nose to make for better breathing and also had a splintered bone removed from his hand. Besides this he had an abdominal operation but he says he has not been weakened by all his experience at the hands of the surgeons. He holds that he will have to knock Leonard out to beat him.

SONS ENGLAND WON FOOTBALL

Veterans Are Now Eliminated From the Gilhuly Cup Series —Score 2 to Nil.

The second game in the Gilhuly football cup series took place last night and was won by the Sons of England over the Great War Veterans by a score of 2 goals to nil. There was a good gathering of spectators and even if quality of play was not up to the scratch, there was at least a lot of excitement.

The Sons did most of the effective pressure in the opening stages, the Vets forwards spoiling chances by failing to keep in position. Lambe scored the opening goal after Ross had failed to clear a cross from Farquhar. The Vets then made more determined efforts but they found Hutton, the Sons new goal keeper, a regular stone wall for he gave nothing away. On one occasion he was extremely lucky in clearing from a regular melee in front of his charge. From a breakaway on the Sons' left Mercer failed to clear and Craggs running in easily beat Brice for the second goal. The end of half time saw all the scoring of the game.

Second Half.

Play opened very evenly in the second half, both teams having spells of attacks with weak finishing. Hardy, after going clear through the English defence, even then failed to get past Hutton. Mercer and Ross, at the other end, had their work cut out to hold the Sons at bay and, although their methods were not altogether orthodox, they achieved their ends. Tinker and Lambe on different occasions just missed by inches. Young, for the Vets, made a great drive which just went over the bar. With the light failing towards the end, play became rather ragged and the game came to a finish with no further scores being made.

The Sons may have been lucky to end up with a two goal win but their play was full value for victory. The Vets, however, were severely handicapped as Stewart, Lumsden and Craggs were all missing from the team.

The Line-ups.

The teams lined up as follows:

Sons of England—Hutton; Darton and Wearmouth; Mansell, Fanthorpe and Craggs; Forrester; Tinker, H. Fanthorpe, Lambe and Farquhar.

Great War Veterans—Brice; Mercer and E. Ross; Kelly, W. Ross and Main; Hardy, Young, Boote, Wiggins and Harding.

G. S. Russell was referee with J. N. Kelly and W. R. Martin on the lines.

The next game takes place on Monday night between the Callies and the Sons of Canada while the Merchants will meet the Dry Docks in the semi-final on Tuesday evening.

BALL GAME FRIDAY

Red Sox Withdraws to Allow Formidable Rivals to Meet.

The next baseball game between the Sons of Canada and the Elks will be played on Friday evening at the Acropolis grounds The game scheduled for that evening was between the Red Sox and the Sons, but Slats Webber, manager for the Sox has agreed to withdraw his team for that occasion in order that the two formidable rivals may play off the series before the evenings get too short.

The action of the Red Sox in holding back is appreciated by the other teams. The game that evening is likely to be well contested.
