To Be Dyspeptic Is to be Miserable

The poor dyspeptic suffers untold agony after every meal, and any one who has dyspepsia knows what joy it would give to eat three square meals a day and not be punished for it after. Nearly everything that enters the weak stomach acts as an irritant, and even the little that is eaten causes such torture and is digested so imperfectly that it does little good.

Before you can eat heartily, and not perk and choose your food, you must put your stomach into such a condition that it will manufacture its own digestive ferments.

For over forty years Burdock Blood Bitters has been toning up and restoring weak stomachs to a normal healthy condition so that the food no longer causes distress, but is thoroughly digested and assimilated, and enables one to partake of all the wholesome food required without fear of any unpleasant after effects.

Mrs. Alice Beckwith, Fesserton, Ont., writes:—"I have been a great sufferer from indigestion and dyspepsia for several years. I could not eat anything without almost dying from the pain in the pit of my stomach. Seeing Burdock Blood Bitters highly recommended I tried a bottle, and can gladly say it relieved me. I can eat anything now, and am in perfect health."

TELEPHONITIS IN BRITAIN

Government Proposal to Raise Rates is Being Opposed

LONDON, March 14.—While several Canadian cities have been scenes of lively controversy over increases in street railway fares, Great Britain has its home of dispute in an increase of telephone rates.

The business interests and general public have suffered an attack of what some call "telephonitis" as a result of an announcement by the Postmaster General that he would increase the telephone charges on April 1 to present subscribers and immediately to new subscribers.

These increases are based on a report of a Select Committee of the House of Commons, and call for an annual rental of eight pounds, ten shillings, against the old charge of five pounds. The present fee of three pence (six cents) at a public call box will remain for short distances, but longer distances will be proportionately increased. These charges have to be made to meet an estimated charge of £10,000,000 sterling for this year, or an increase of 147 per cent over pre-war rates.

The volume of criticism which the first official statement called forth has since grown considerably and not only have resolutions of protest been sent to the government from every chamber of commerce in the country, but combined action is being taken by the various chambers with a view to some alleviation of what is called the "iniquitous" imposition of higher charges for a service which is admittedly inefficient.

Some are even advocating a boycott, but conservative opinion inclines to the belief that this would seriously injure the service in future.

A deputation, representing the press of Great Britain, protested to the Postmaster General, but received little encouragement. The Postmaster pointed out that wages in the department had trebled and the cost of plant more than doubled. The expenditure of the department in 1913-14 was £5,952,000 and in 1920-21 aggregated £14,600,000.

It is claimed by the business community that since the government took over the telephone service from the National Telephone Company, which paid a dividend of six per cent, the service has grown increasingly inefficient and expensive, and the strongest efforts are being made towards a postponement of the proposed increases until the whole matter has been inquired into and debated in Parliament.

BILLIE BURKE in "WANTED A HUSBAND"
COMEDY and NEWS

The chief cause of contention is the abolition of the old flat rate of £5 yearly with unlimited calls and the imposition of a sliding scale of charges which will mean a heavy addition to the bills of commercial houses throughout the United Kingdom.

BILLIE BURKE IN "WANTED, A HUSBAND"

Billie Burke's latest picture is called "Wanted—A Husband" and is an adaptation of a magazine story by Samuel Hopkins Adams. It will be shown at the Empress Theatre. The story is said to be admirably adapted to the comedy talents of pretty Miss Burke.

The heroine is Amanda Darcy Cole, a wall paper designer, who lives with two girl friends in the bohemian section of New York and is slovenly and unkempt in her appearance. Her two companions are about to be married and taunt her so much about her unattractiveness that she invents a fictitious fiance, then goes to a training camp to beautify herself. On the train Darcy meets her honeymooning roommates and hastily induces a young man passenger to pose as her intended. Later she blossoms out as a ravishing beauty and her confession of her deception and the proposal of her improvised sweetheart form the climax of the picture.
