DAILY EDITION. Saturday, July 2, 1921.

Celebration was Great Success.

The big Dominion Day celebration was a great success and much credit is due those who gave so much of their time to perfecting the arrangements and carrying them out so admirably. In spite of the threatening appearance of the morning, the weather was ideal and the crowds responded splendidly.

Canadians have reason to be proud of their country and the celebration of the anniversary of their natal day is an annual event of great importance. That the people here entered fully into the spirit of the occasion was matter for congratulation.

Business With Great Interior.

The Daily News of Thursday told of the first successful effort to supply Prince Rupert with milk and cream from the interior. Smithers is the point of shipment and while the business commences in a modest way there is no reason why it should not develop. Local business houses are already making efforts to co-operate with the interior but there is plenty of room for an extension of the principle. Prince Rupert will be neglecting one of its chief assets if it fails to take advantage of its position as the centre of a great and growing community.

Art Education Is Desirable.

In these days when utility is looked on as a god to worship, it is well to turn the attention sometimes to the development of the artistic side of our natures. In a new country art is usually neglected. That is true to a large extent here. We are too busy making a living to think about harmony of sound, color or motion. Dollars are what count.

Art is something that no community can afford to neglect for long, and happily there are always a chosen few even in the most remote places who carry with them the desire for beauty. It is one of the natural impulses of the human race although often it manifests itself in most crude forms.

It is important to hear good music, see fine pictures, and witness graceful dancing, but after all it is the effort of self-expression along these lines that counts. Expression in art is just as important as expression along the line of utility. Anyone that encourages such expression is improving the status of the community and making life better worth living.

Hope for Better Condition in Ireland.

There seems to be a desire on the part of both Irish and British to settle the unfortunate state of affairs that at present exists. As long as efforts are being made to confer, there is hope of a settlement. It is a crime against civilization to see the people of two neighboring islands killing each other and destroying property. Everyone will rejoice to hear of a settlement being made, as long as it is a settlement consistent with the safeguarding of the rights of the people on either side.

SAVED FROM LIFELONG MISERY

And a Dangerous Operation, by Taking "FRUIT-A-LIVES"

MRS. M. J. GORSE
 3925 Union St., Vancouver, B.C.
 "I suffered with all the symptoms of Female Trouble, with chronic Constipation and constant Headaches. I had pains low down in the back and sides of the body. I tried various remedies without relief, and then put myself under a doctor's care and he advised me to have an operation. I refused.

Then, I started taking 'Fruit-a-lives'; and from the outset, I felt better, and this medicine has completely relieved me of all my misery and suffering. My weight was only 143 pounds and now it is 168 pounds. I am free of pain and headaches and the terrible Constipation; and what saved me from misery is the splendid fruit medicine, 'Fruit-a-lives'."

INVESTIGATING LEAGUE COSTS

Committee Reports League of Nations' Conduct Extravagant.

GENEVA, Switzerland, July 2.—Obligatory use of two languages, French and English, in all its transactions and the high cost of living at the headquarters in Geneva are given by the special committee investigating the workings of the League of Nations as an explanation of what has been considered in some quarters as the excessive cost of the organization. The expense for last year, as already reported, was about $1,500,000.

"There can be no doubt," says the committee's report, "that, rightly or wrongly, the League of Nations has the reputation of costing too much." The report then goes on to explain how the complexity, diversity and novelty of the work undertaken necessarily costs heavily, particularly since it is in the hands of a comparatively young institution that lacks experience.

Dual Languages.
 The dual language of the League requiring translation and duplicate publication of all documents alone accounts for one-third of the entire expense, the report says, then points out that the location of the headquarters of the League in Geneva accounts for a good deal of the excessive outlay.

"Since the main purpose of the Commission of Inquiry is to suggest every form of economy," the report says, "it feels bound to point out that, at the moment, Geneva is—and so far as it is possible to foresee will remain—a city in which the cost of living is comparatively higher than in almost any city in Europe, and where the rate of exchange is, at the moment of writing the most disadvantageous for the great majority of states members of the League."

The report suggests that were the League headquarters located at Brussels, Fontainebleau, Turin or Vienna, or almost anywhere else, an immediate economy would be effected that would be appreciated by all members of the League and particularly by those whose exchange is depreciated.

SIN TO DANCE.

Is it a sin to dance,
 To glide, to twist, to prance,
 To swing a foot?
 We asked an old pioneer
 If brimstone he did fear
 'Cause when a young galoot
 He shook a nifty hood?
 Says he: "Now looka here,
 If that's all I've to fear
 When I shall scold
 At Gabriel's foot
 I'd fiddle safe!"
 The hardened old sinner.

Is it a sin to dance,
 To glide, to twist, to prance,
 To swing a foot?
 O tell us, Sweet Sixteen
 What future do you see
 Will old Fat shoot
 At you so cute?
 Says she: Look here, old bean,
 What is it you really mean?
 You heat it on your way,
 How do you get that way?
 I ain't worrying, am I?
 The flippant young sinner.

There may be something you want. See the classified column
