EUGENE O'BRIEN COMING IN "HIS WIFE'S MONEY"

There is an old saying that, while money cannot buy happiness, it can buy a good imitation. That is illustrated in "His Wife's Money" at the Empress tonight. In "His Wife's Money" Marion Phillips seeks to buy happiness for herself and husband through the use of her personal riches. Richard Flint, played by Eugene O'Brien, is too much of a thoroughbred to live on his wife's wealth, and when the two are married trouble follows when Flint learns that his wife's money is helping to pay their expenses. Eager to test Marion's Love, Flint proposes they go west to work a gold mine. But the rugged west does not appeal to Marion, and when temptation to return to her old life presents itself in the allurements held out by James Cardwell, a former suitor for her hand and money, she goes back east.

INDIANS GUILTY OF POTLATCH CELEBRATION

Let Out on Suspended Sentence—Will Try to Have Law Changed.

DUNCAN, March 7.—Five Indians were sentenced here on a charge of taking part in a potlatch and allowed out on suspended sentence. The objection to the festival is in the taking and giving of goods. The prisoners were warned before the offence. The Indians by giving away everything they had on these occasions impoverished themselves.

Counsel have been retained to advise them as to the rights of the Indians and possibly to aid in getting the law amended.

The Man in the Moon SAYS:

IT'S difficult to enforce prohibition here because even the storms brew, the moon gets full, the skippers put in port, there is a bar even at Metlakatla and the people get drunk with success and intoxicated with joys.

Backward, turn backward Oh time in your flight, Make it a pay day Just for tonight.

IT is distasteful to a great many citizens to think of handing over good salmon for whiskey, but the people have determined they must have whiskey, so in that case it is well to get rid of unsaleable salmon.

THE rich man usually has a twin six, the poor man six twins.

Listen girls, the only bird That you can trust, I'd holler Is the graven image of one on The back of a nice crimp dollar.

THE woman who sold her husband for eight dollars is being accused of profiteering.

THINGS are not what they seem; for example, "the convenient payment plan."

THERE are two things it is useless to advertise for when lost. They are your umbrella and your self-respect.

MODESTY may be a virtue but four flushing is undoubtedly a fine art.

Of all sad words of tongue or pen, The saddest are "Please lend me ten."

Yet sadder words There are a plenty, For instance these— "Please lend me twenty."
